TONY GAREA'S NIGHT OF DISAPPOINTMENT

by Frank Amato

The pain is etched on Tony Garea's face as Superstar Graham continues to work on his hand and fingers.

The match was over. Tony Garea hung his head as the shock of losing set in. There was a mixture of cheers and boos from the fans. As the World Wide Wrestling Federation heavyweight champion Superstar Billy Graham left the ring the boos overshadowed the cheers.

Graham lifted his head proudly saying, "I'm the champion. I won another."

He may have believed his words and some of his fans did too. But for the vast majority of wrestling fans who witnessed this title encounter at Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum in Long Island, New York, it was Tony Garea who was the winner. In their eyes he should have won.

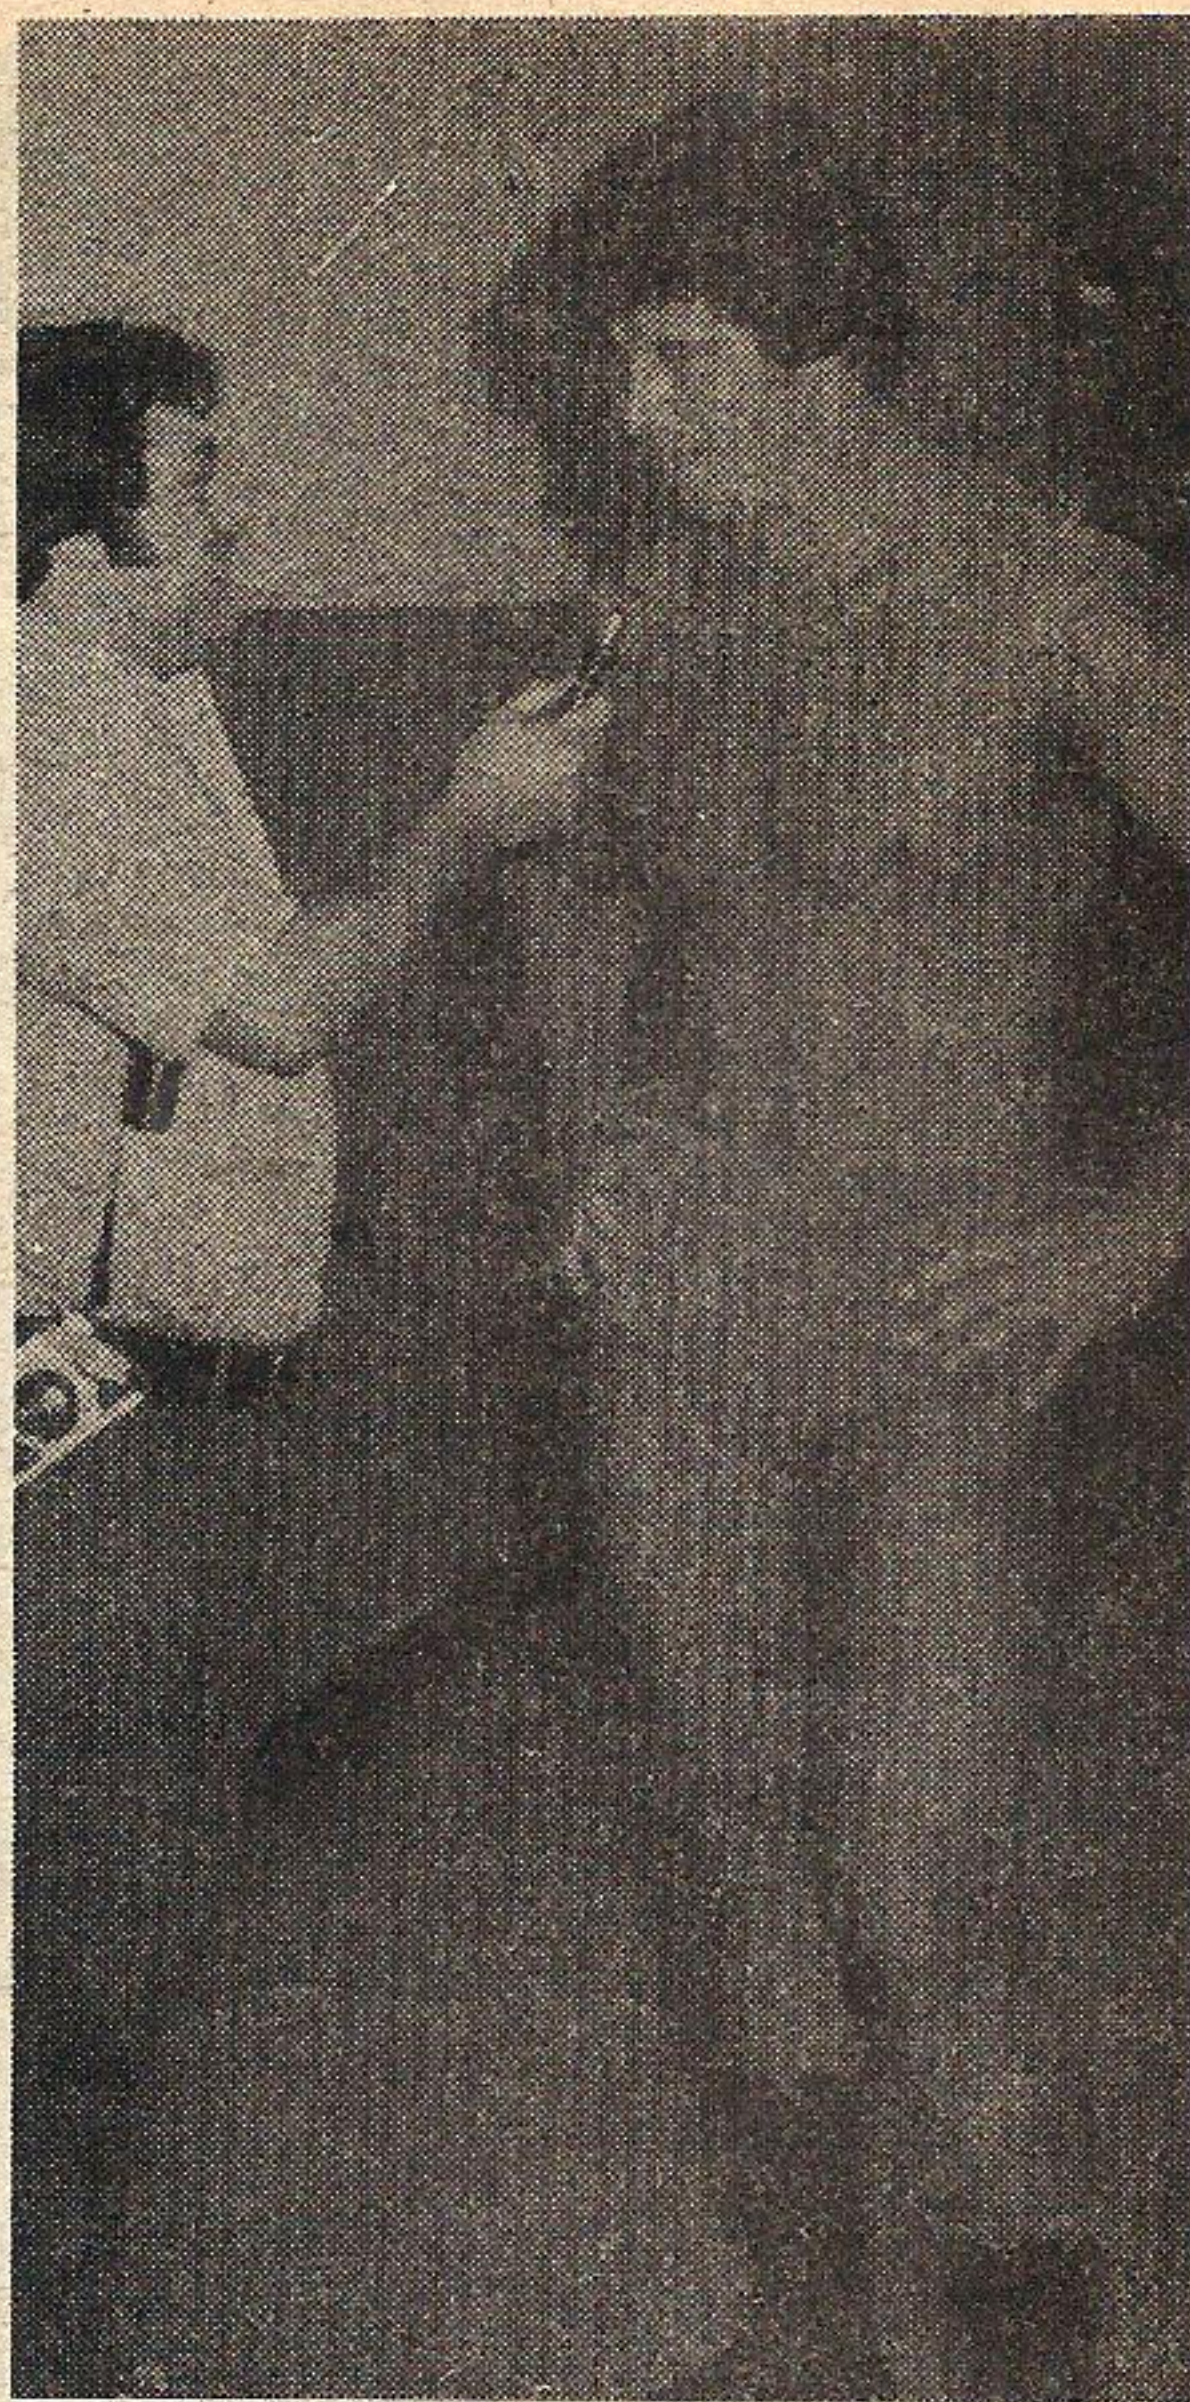

Garea, still in the ring minutes after Superstar Graham had left, stood with his hands on his hips. He walked over to referee Dick Kroll and questioned him about what had happened earlier. Tony was not questioning the final ending. He was questioning what had taken place just minutes prior. The referee shook his head and Tony stared in total disbelief.

As Garea headed for the dressing room the fans showed him their support by telling him he had won. He had been cheated out of winning the coveted belt. Tony tried retorting his thanks but the words stuck in his throat. He just nodded his thanks. He shook a few hands. It was the best he could do.

In the dressing room stood his friend and steady tag-team partner Larry Zbyszko. Larry had just witnessed the match but he kept silent. He knew how Tony felt at this time. Silence at this time was a better solace.

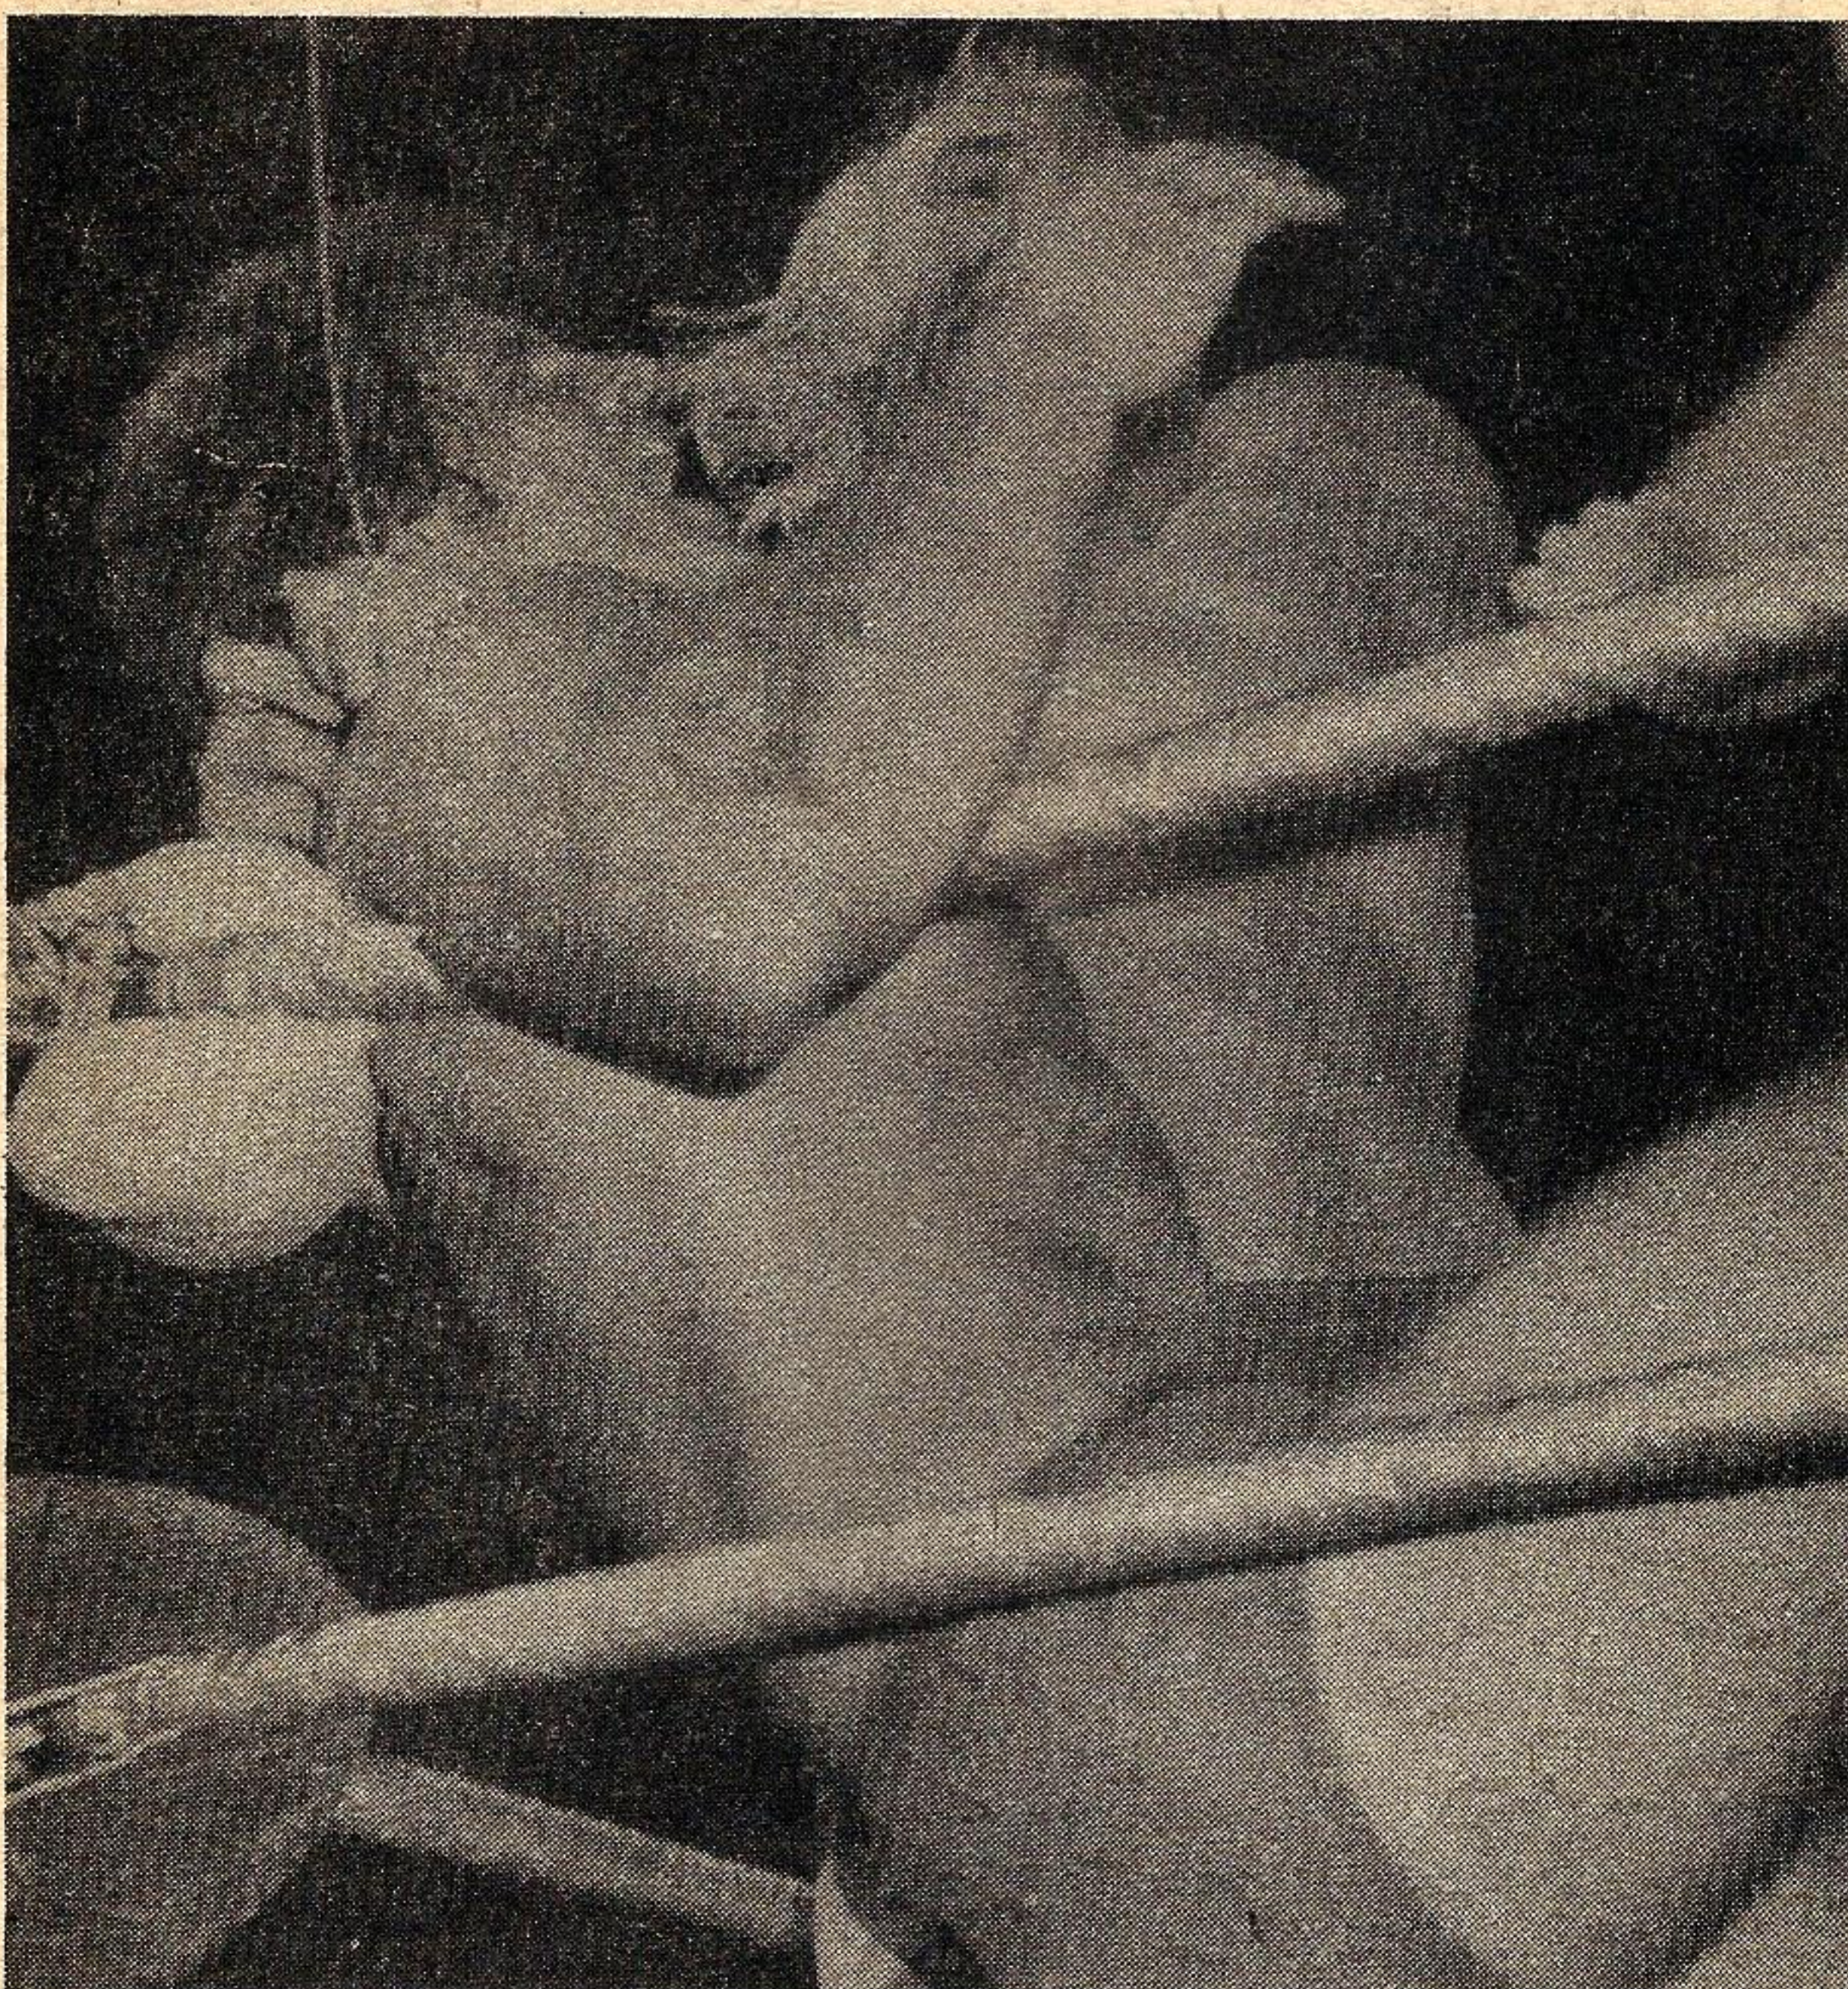

Garea sat down heavily on a chair. He took a towel and wiped the perspiration away from his face. The reporters awaited his words about the match. Finally Tony spoke his words choked with emotion. "I can't believe what happened. I won the match. I know that Superstar submitted to my Abdominal Stretch. The referee says he didn't hear Graham commit himself or gesture in any way. But I know he did. I heard him. The fans heard him. Why didn't the referee? That belt should be mine."

One of the reporters stated he hadn't heard Superstar Graham say he had given up. Tony glared his impatience, "Then you are deaf, dumb and blind. I heard him. These other reporters heard him. Just where were you looking?"

This is not the way Garea usually treats reporters. Quite the contrary. Tony normally is very polite and cordial during an interview. But then again it's not every day a wrestler gets his golden opportunity to wrestle for the title.

Garea held up his hands and apologized for his bitter outburst, "Please forgive me for that. That was my heart speaking, not my head. When you fail to win the big one when you think you won, it gets to you. Superstar got lucky tonight. The better man did not win. I know it and Graham knows it now."

Just two hours earlier before the matches for the night had begun, Garea was smiling. His hopes and dreams were high. This match would be his. He was more than ready.

"I'm up for this one. I've waited a long time to get this chance. I can beat Graham. I've wrestled him twice before for the title. The first time I admit I was nervous and wrestled him all wrong. The next time it was better but he managed to pull it out. Now things will be different. I know how Superstar Graham thinks. I've become acquainted with his style."

Garea went on, "Graham believes that his so-called superstrength is the best. He believes he can overpower any wrestler. He underrates all his opponents. Well, I have news for Graham, I have the style to beat him. When we tangle I'll take the title."

Later, as the matches for the night started, Superstar Billy Graham got to the arena. He explained his plane had hit rough weather. He was obviously rushed. He still had to change into his wrestling attire and also get examined by the doctor according to New York State athletic law.

After some 20 minutes, Superstar Graham spoke with the reporters who were stationed outside his dressing room. Graham stated, "I'll still be champion after this match. There is no way Tony Garea will dethrone me. The man knows his wrestling, I give him that. But the man doesn't belong in the same class as Superstar.

"I have the power. I have the charisma. I have the greatest mind in the man who's my manager The Grand Wizard. He knows what wrestling is all about. We know what Garea can do. We also know his faults and they are many. I will teach Tony Garea why I'm the champion and he is not. I will humble Garea. I will pin the man in center ring. I will outclass the man."

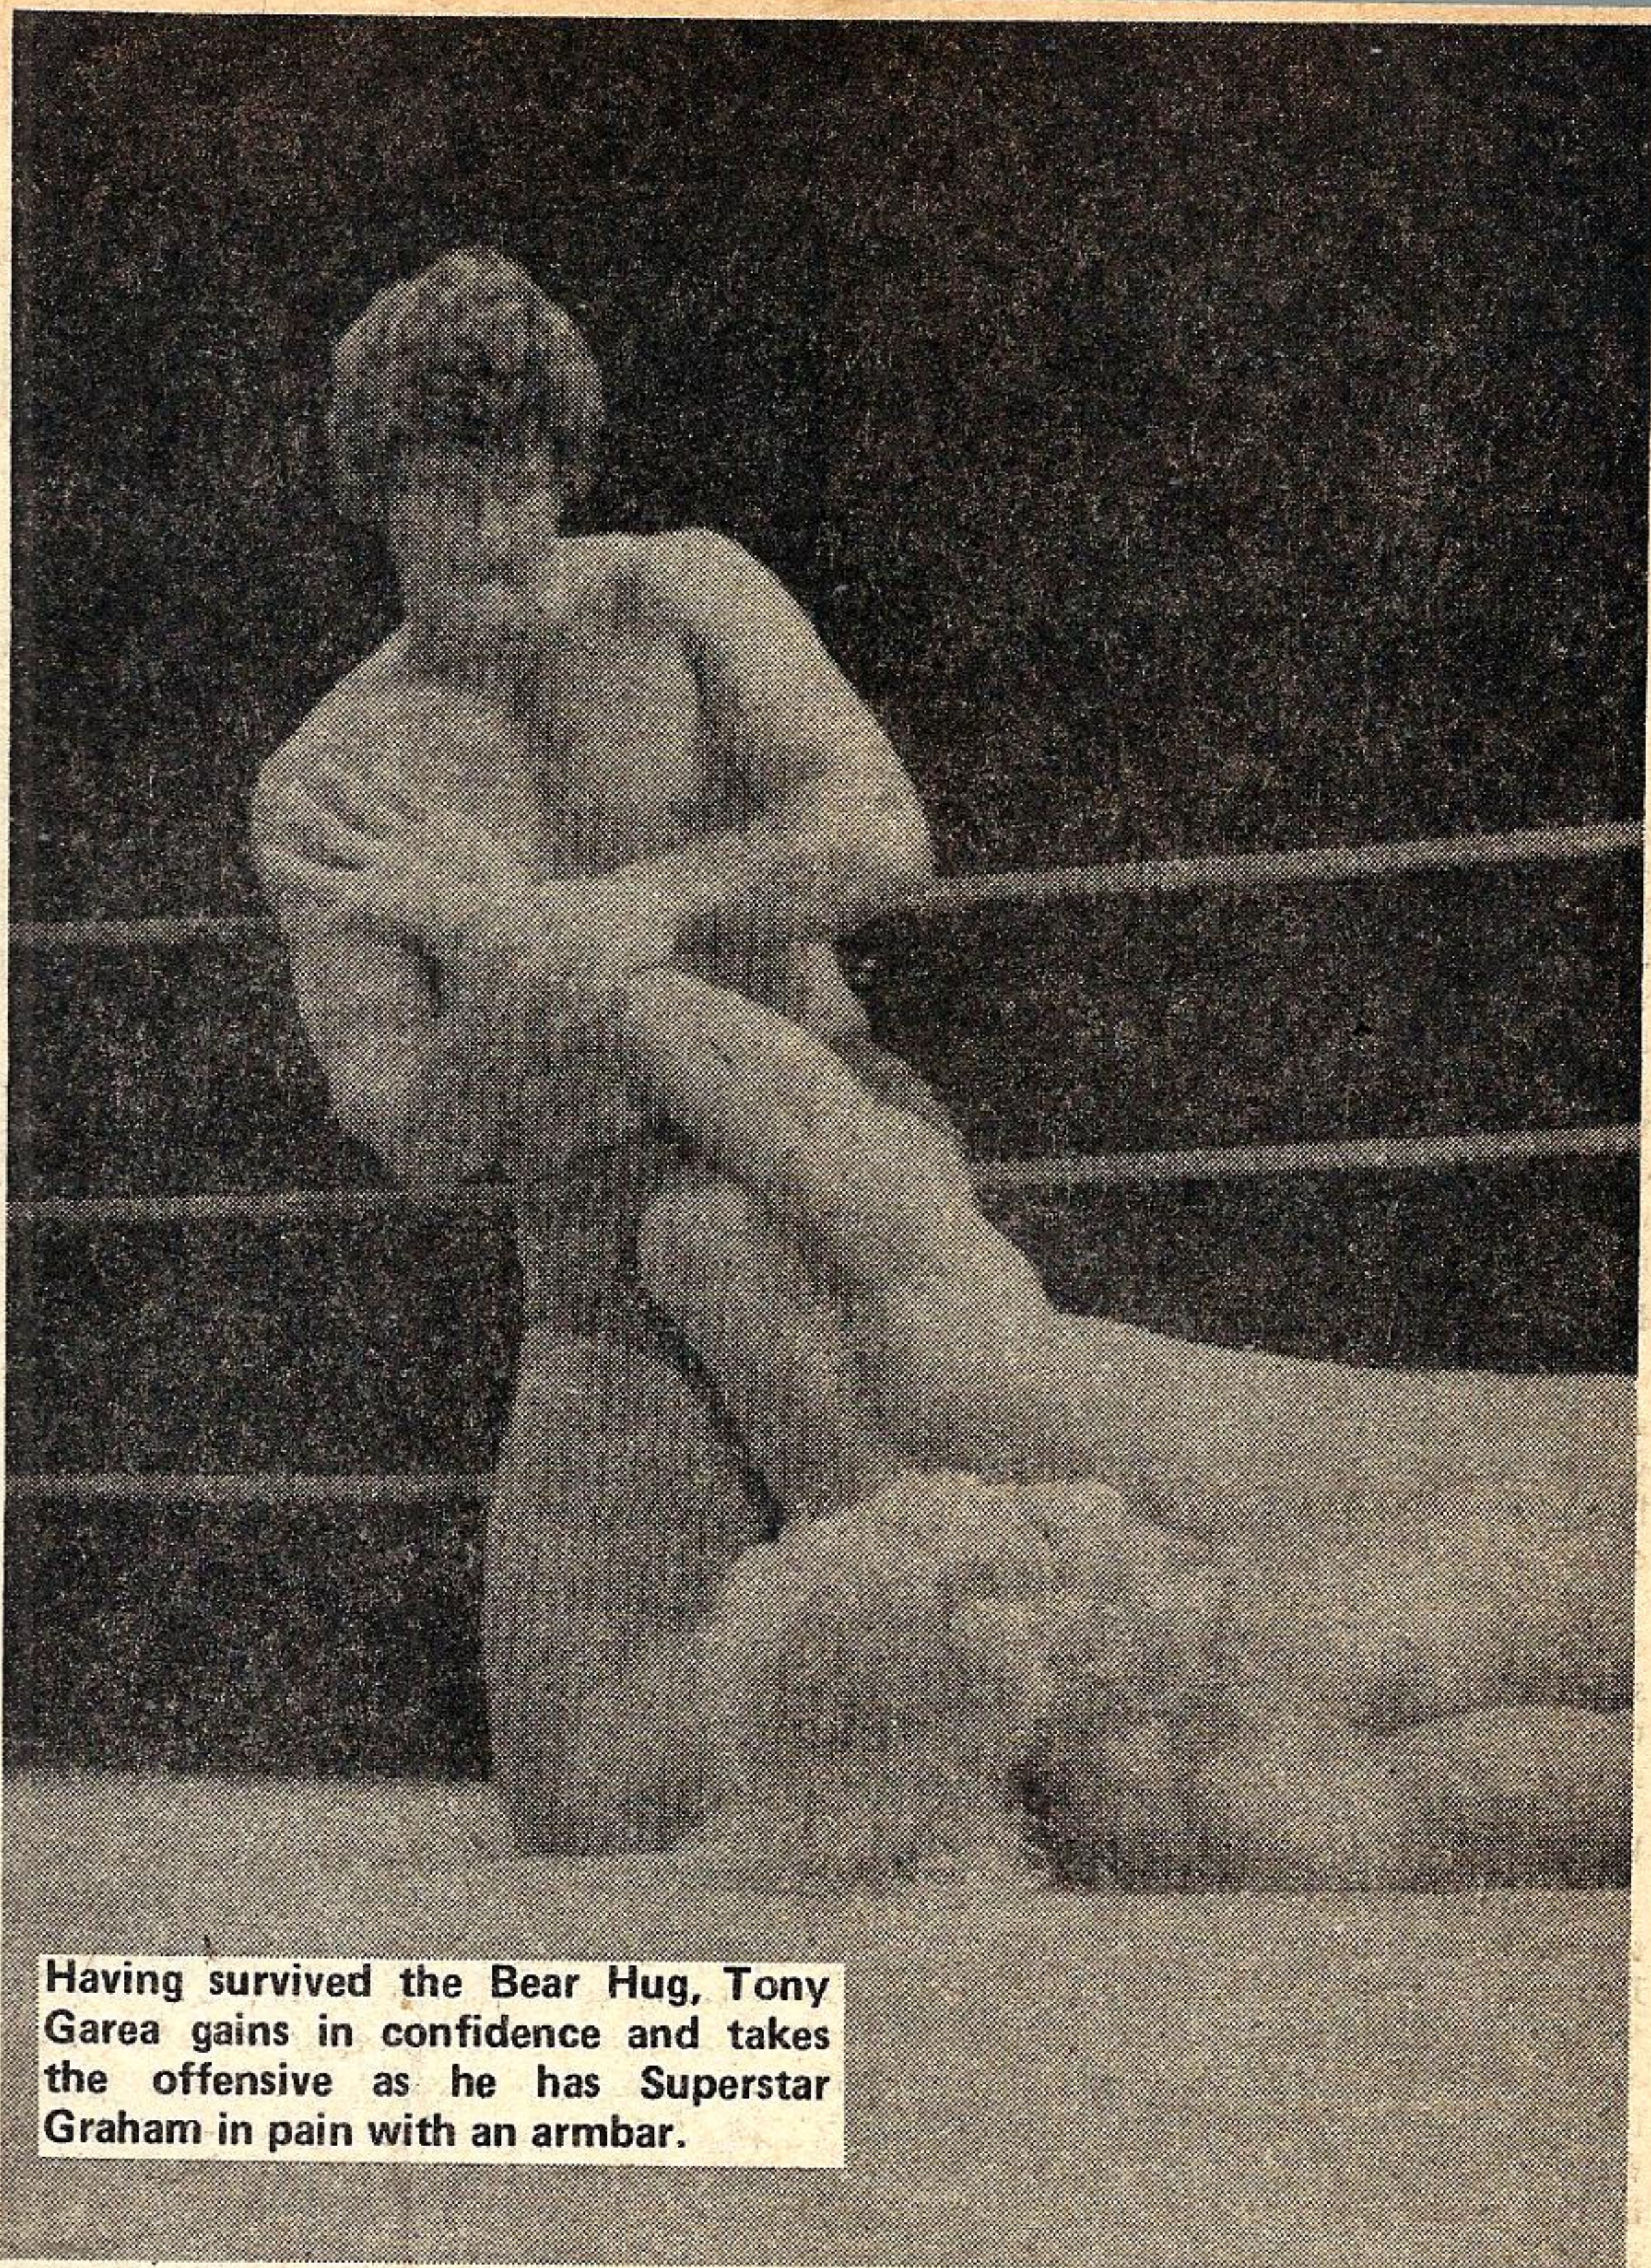

Superstar was then informed that Tony Garea claimed he would surprise Graham and take the title from him. Graham exploded, "No way can Garea take my title! No way can the man outwrestle me. No way can the man overpower me. The man is boasting with big talk. I've beaten the best thrown against me, Sammartino, Putski, Zbyszko, Strongbow, White Wolf, Carlos Rocha and Bobo Brazil have failed. I have beaten Haystacks Calhoun in 29 seconds! Man, that is a record. Tony Garea is all mouth. I will shut that mouth tonight!"

At the start of the contest, Superstar Graham challenged Garea in a test of strength. Tony smiled and took the challenge. If confidence wins matches, then Garea had a victory. They locked fingers and the power play was on.

Both Graham and Garea strained their muscles. For nearly a full minute neither wrestler budged one foot.

It's Garea's turn to apply his pet hold, the Abdominal Stretch, and Graham's face shows the agony.

Having survived the Bear Hug, Tony Garea gains in confidence and takes the offensive as he has Superstar Graham in pain with an armbar.

Step by step from mid-ring until they neared the ropes, Graham had a slight smile. He was gaining the upper hand.

Then the smile faded quickly as Tony Garea stopped moving backwards. Then, ever so slowly it was Superstar who was being moved backwards. The surprise showed on Graham's face — this could not be happening to him. Graham poured on the pressure and checked Garea. They stood in mid-ring still locked together. Then suddenly Graham broke the grip. He stared at Garea with new respect.

Both wrestlers shook their hands trying to get some feeling back into them. Graham had stopped smiling but Garea still had that smile. He had gained a small victory by holding off Graham at what he does best.

As both wrestlers braced for the attack it was Superstar who clamped his powerful arms around Garea's waist. Now Graham had his Superstar Bearhug and squeezed for all his worth. Tony Garea tried to break free but found Graham unmovable.

"I have the power, Garea. You are doomed," boasted Graham.

Superstar forced Tony Garea to one knee and then the other. Referee Dick Kroll asked Garea if he would give up. Garea shook his head.

Graham was in his glory. He used his Superstar Bearhug to force Garea down onto his back. The referee counted to two as Garea's shoulders hit the mat. Garea raised one shoulder. Graham looked startled. Graham tried to force Garea to submit. Garea would not comply.

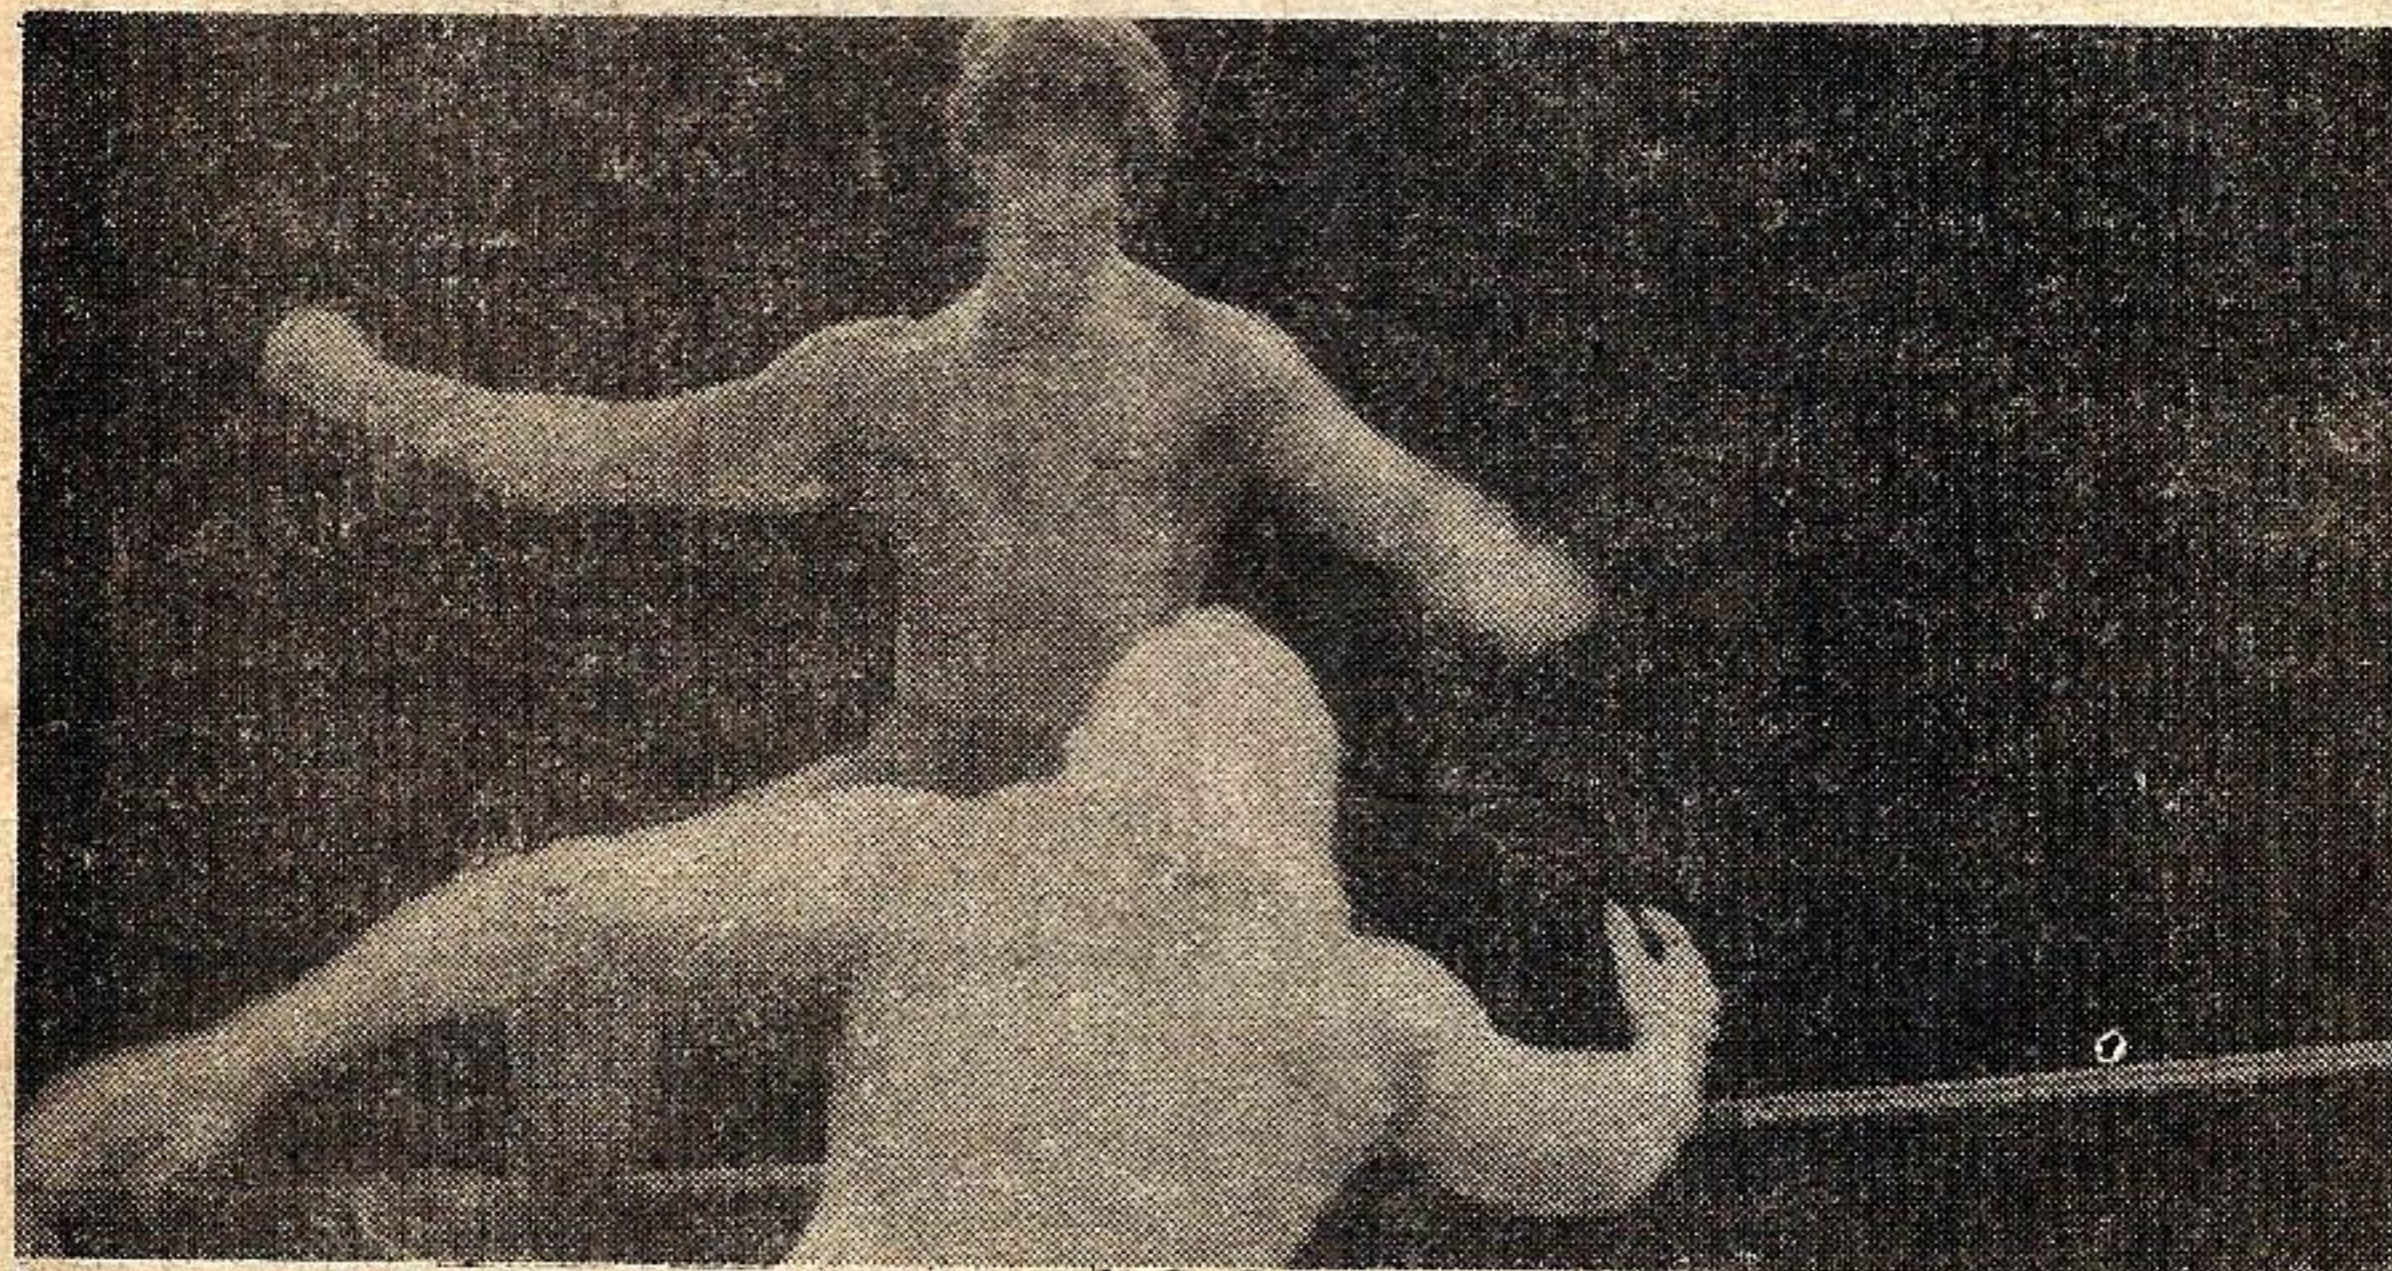

Now Garea, being urged on by the fans, slowly made it back to his knees. Graham still had the Bearhug on him. Garea now was on his feet. Superstar was straining for all his worth but Garea had somehow gathered new life. Then Garea punched Graham alongside the head. The hold still held. One punch and another and Graham's hold started to loosen. Then another punch and Garea was free.

Now Garea was hot. Graham had failed on two occasions in feats of power. Now Garea started to batter away at Graham. Graham looked less a champion now. The match turned into a rough-and-tumble affair. For the next several minutes both wrestlers took turns punching and kicking, but the advantage was Garea's now. Graham was perplexed at the turn of events. Garea had proven so far he could match Graham.

Suddenly Garea caught Superstar Graham in the Abdominal Stretch. This was Garea's pet submission hold. Tony tried to end it as he poured on the pressure. Graham seemed beaten. Graham nodded his head as if he submitted. Referee Dick Kroll asked Graham if he gave up and Graham shook his head.

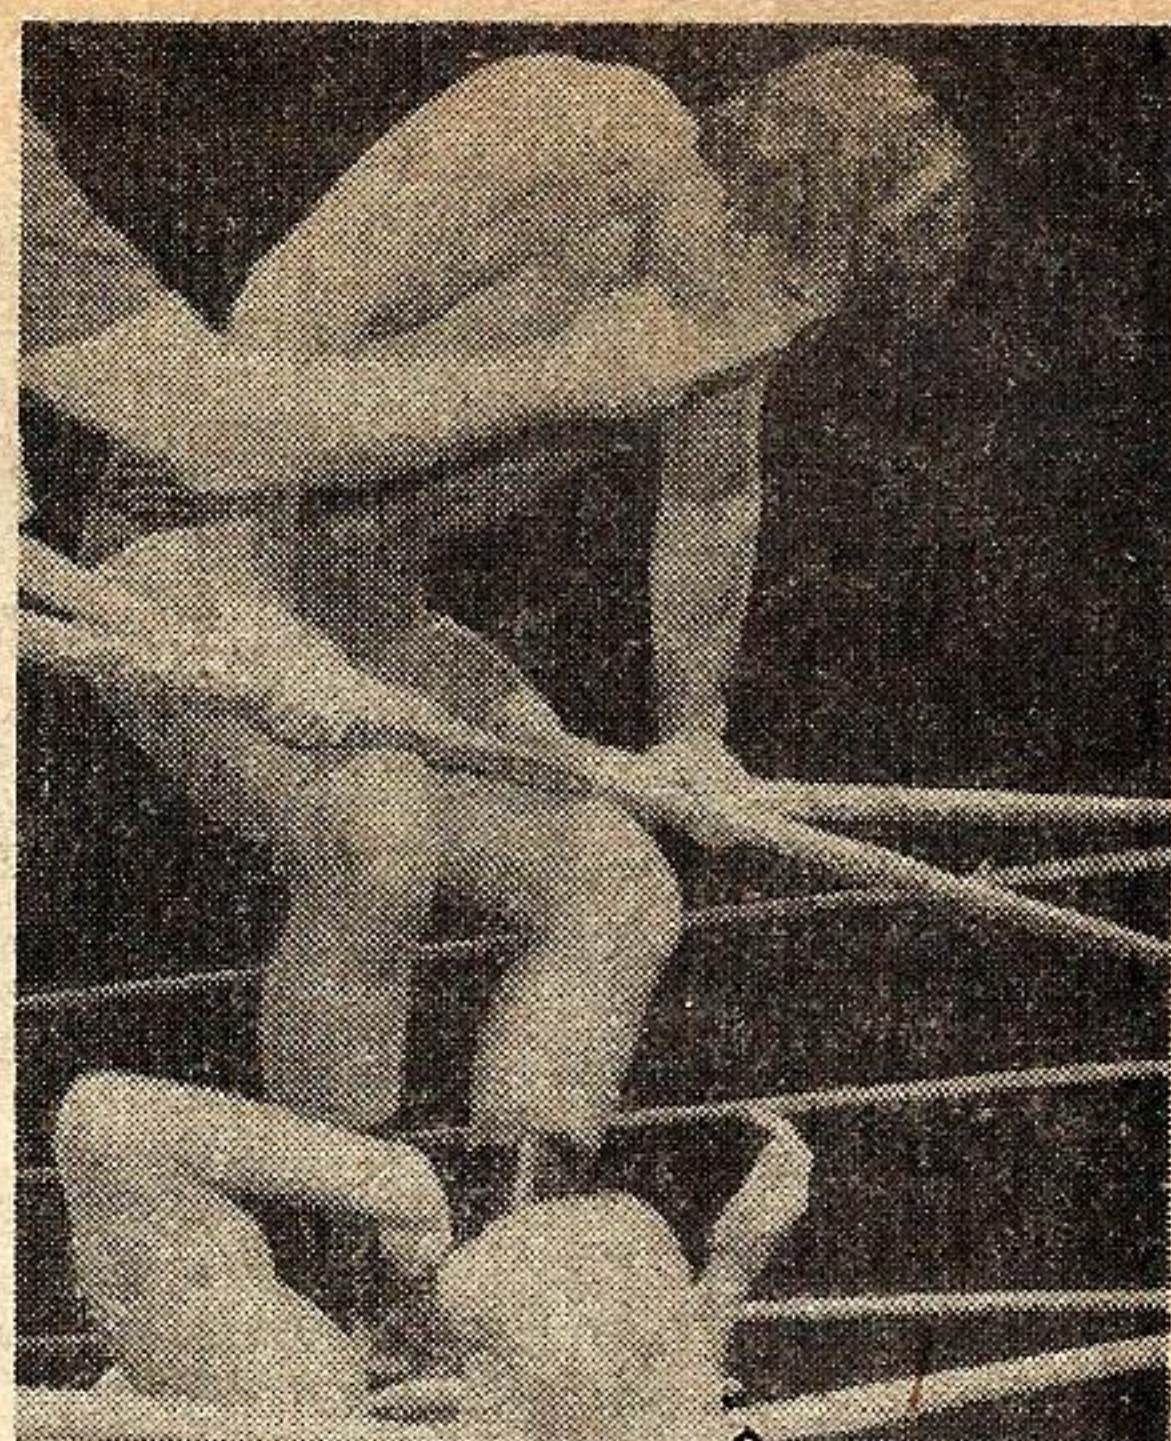

The referee moved away. As he did Garea asked Graham if he was finished. The referee was several feet away now. Graham nodded his head.

Irate over being tricked by Graham, Garea goes on the rampage and unleashes a two-fisted and two-footed assault on the WWWF champion.

Tony Garea makes one mistake and it proves fatal as Superstar applies the pin which wins the match and saves his WWWF championship belt.

The referee counts after telling Garea to break but Tony is making the most of his opportunity by using his feet and the ropes to choke Graham.

The referee rushed over and asked Graham again. Graham shook his head. Once again the referee moved several feet away. This time Garea squeezed as hard as he could. Graham said something, then nodded his head.

Garea relaxed the hold ever so slightly and Graham managed to get free. Garea stared in wonderment. He thought he had won, but Kroll said he hadn't heard Graham say anything. He ordered the match to continue. Garea now seemed unnerved by this event. He still battered Graham but he made one mistake and Graham pounced on Garea for the pin.

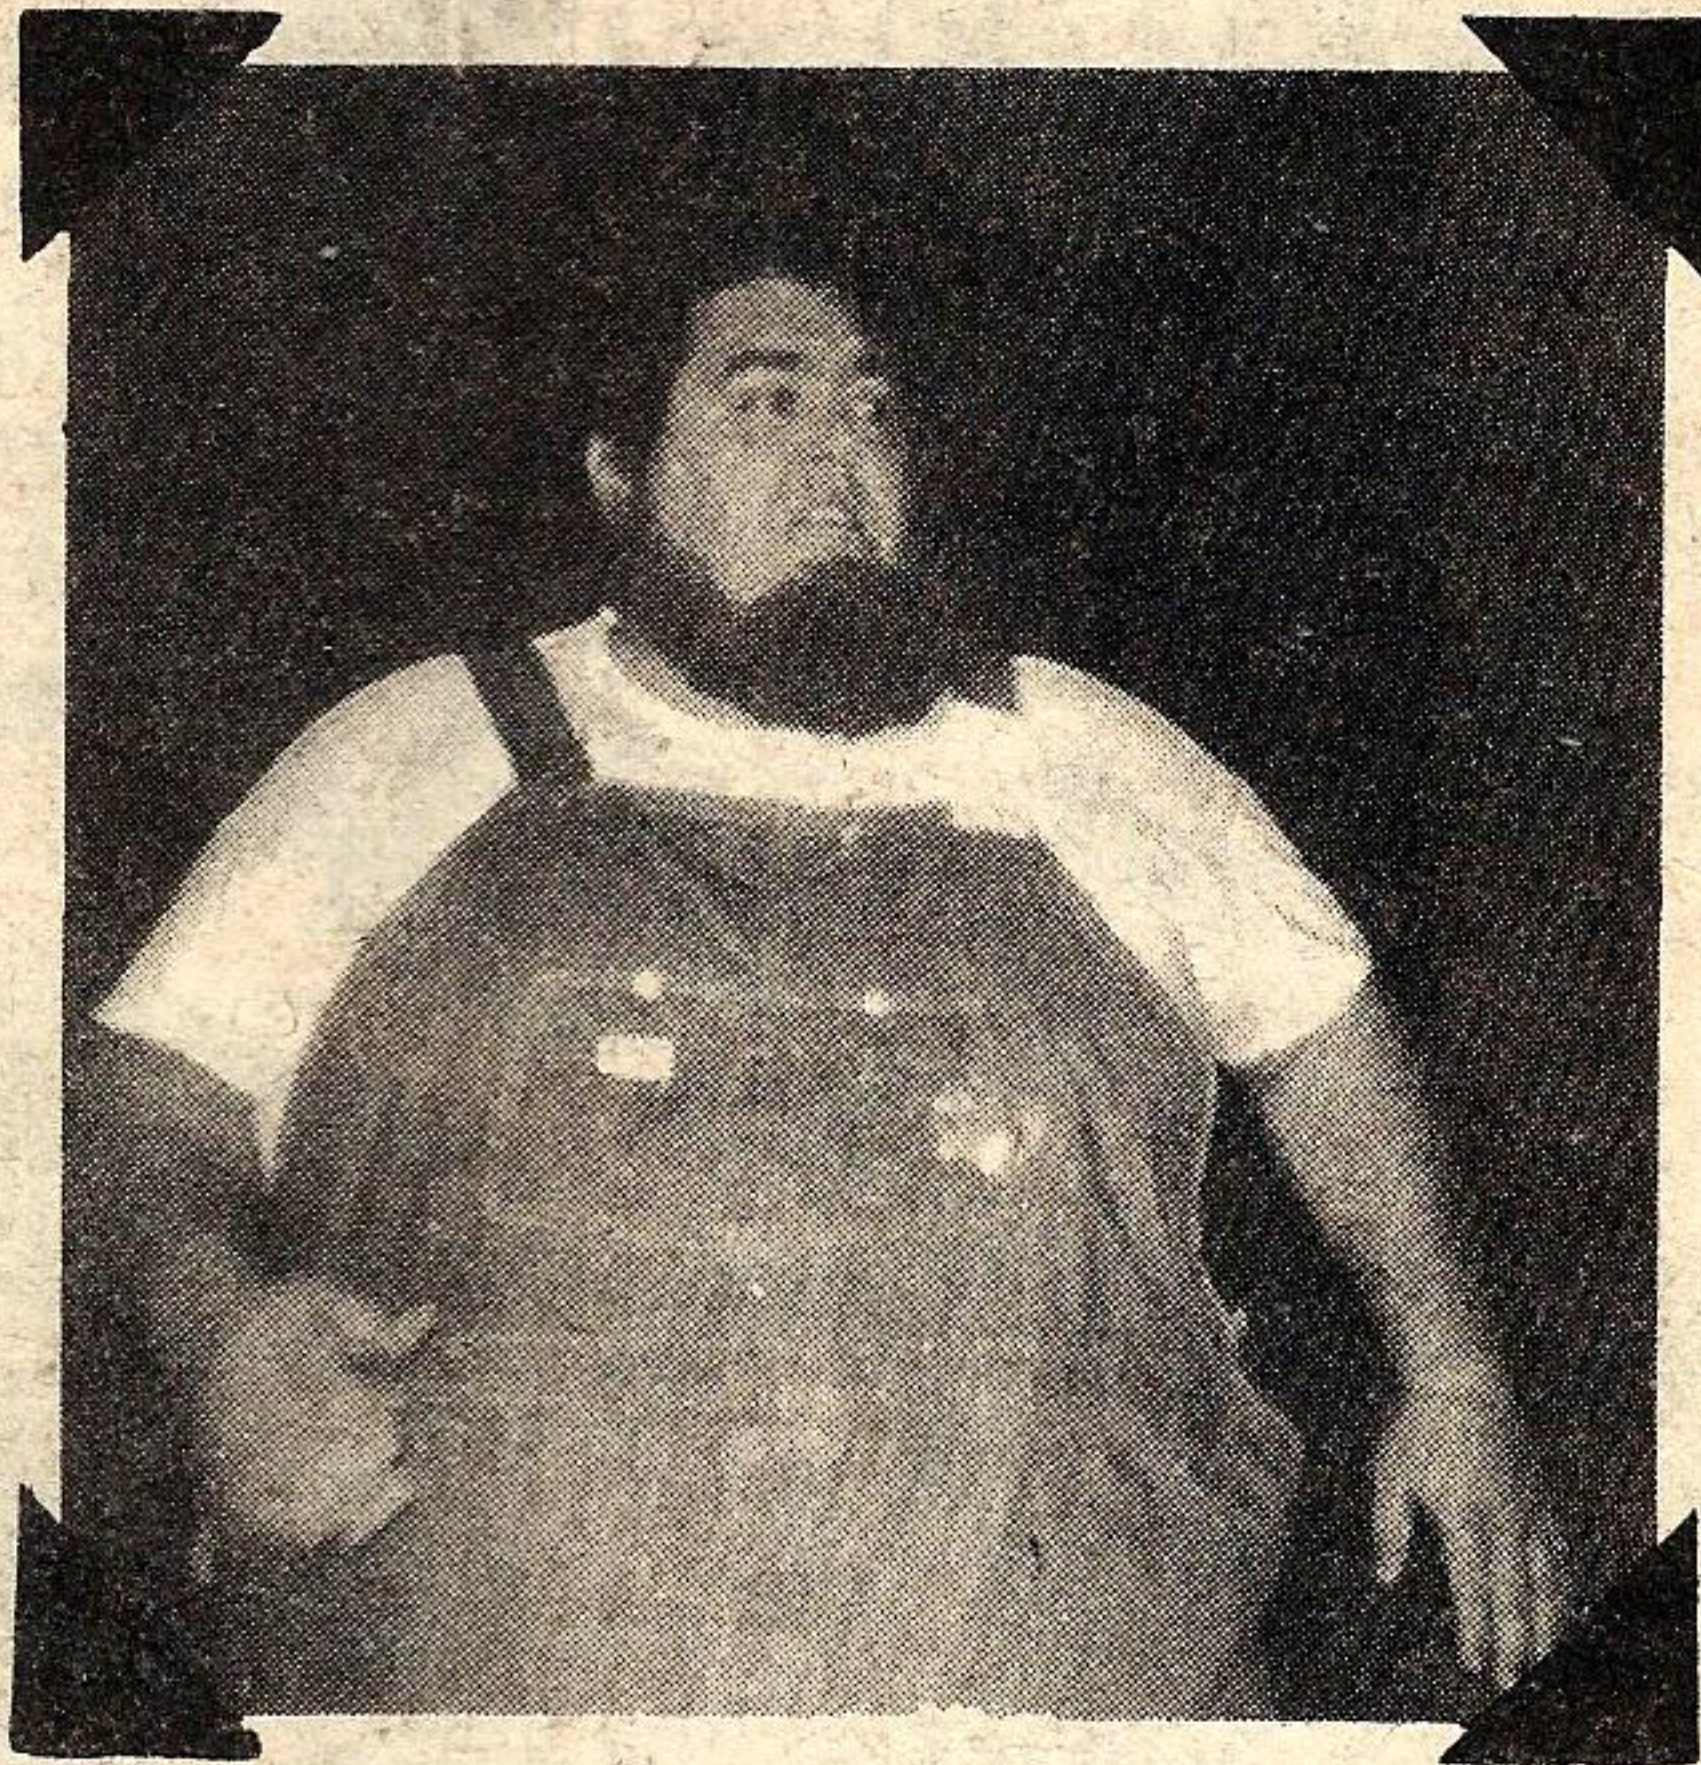

Afterwards Garea spoke with reporters, "I beat Graham with my Abdominal Stretch. I heard him say 'I give up.' I heard it. I swear I did. I never would have let up on that hold otherwise. I could have sworn the referee had heard him. I'm sure he saw Graham nod his head. I had the title in my hands. Graham pulled a fast one."

Later Superstar claimed, "I never but never said I gave up. I'm the champion. I pinned the man. I said I would and I did. Garea is crying because he couldn't beat me. He just couldn't hold me and make me submit. The referee was close enough to hear me. Garea is just sour grapes."

Yes, Superstar Billy Graham still reigned supreme as WWWF champion. This match can be argued from now until who knows when. Garea may be right. Graham may be right. Only Tony Garea knows this was his night of bitter disappointment, a night he will never forget.

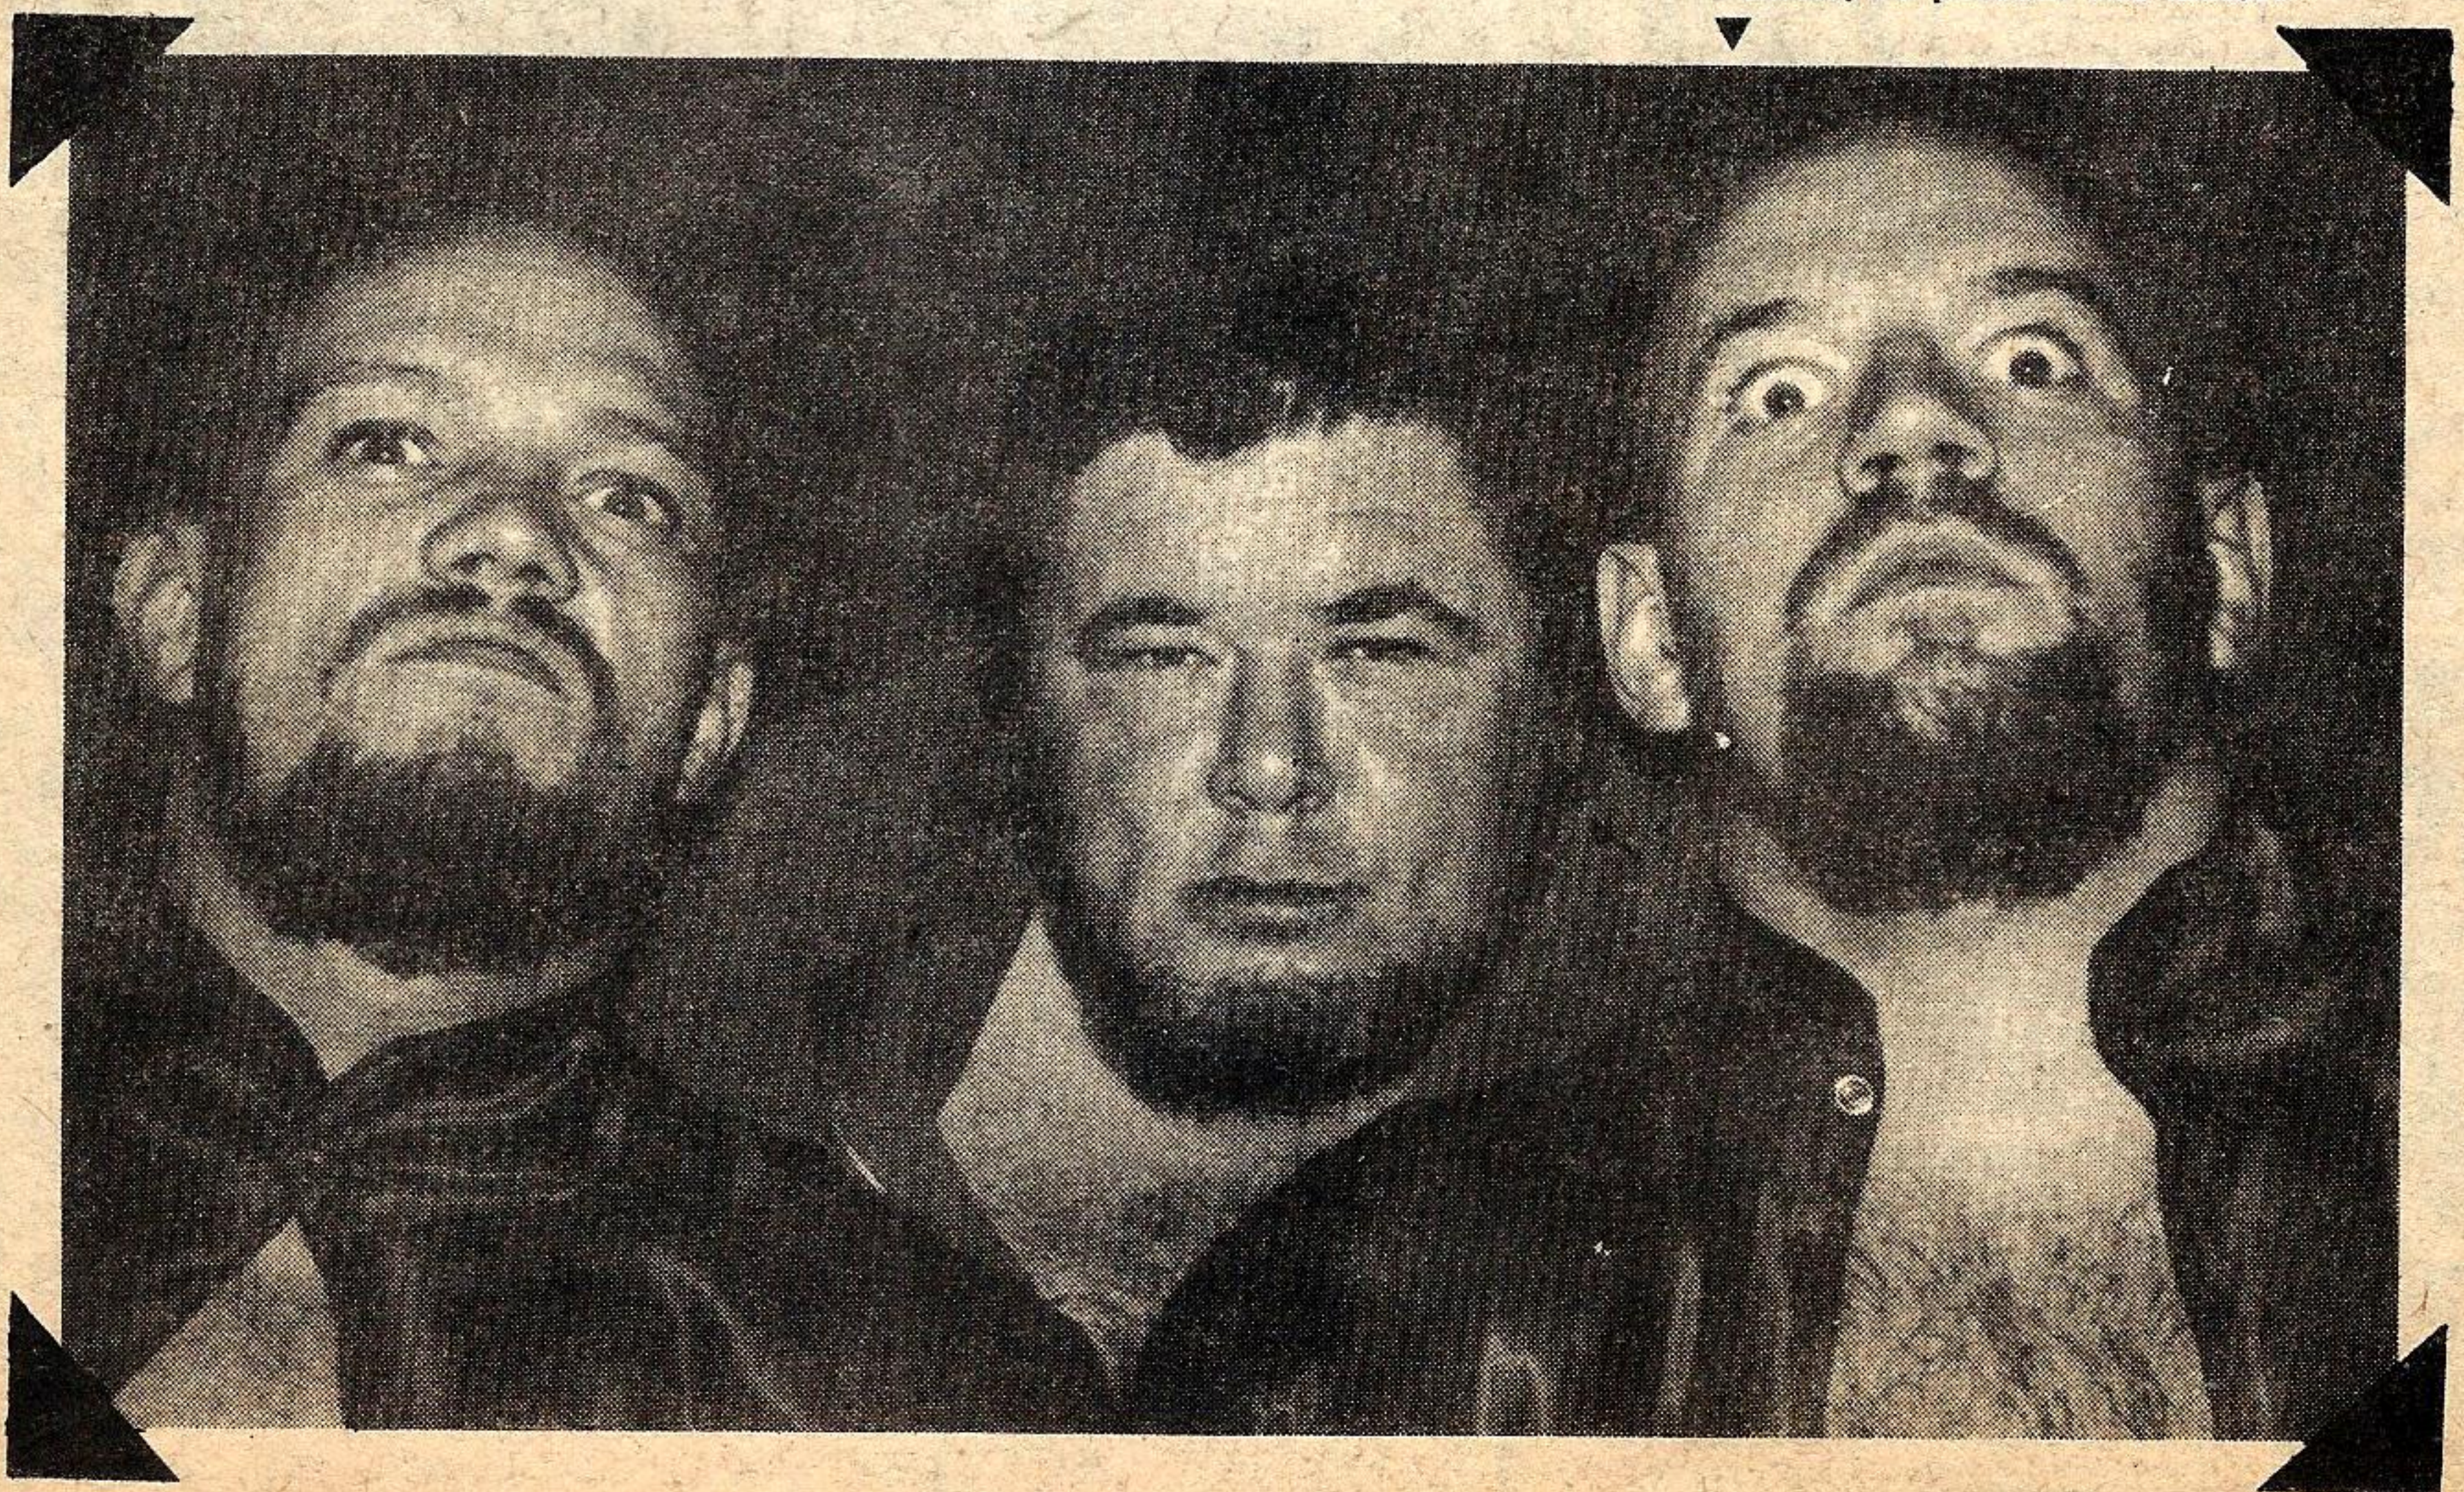

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF WRESTLING PHOTOS

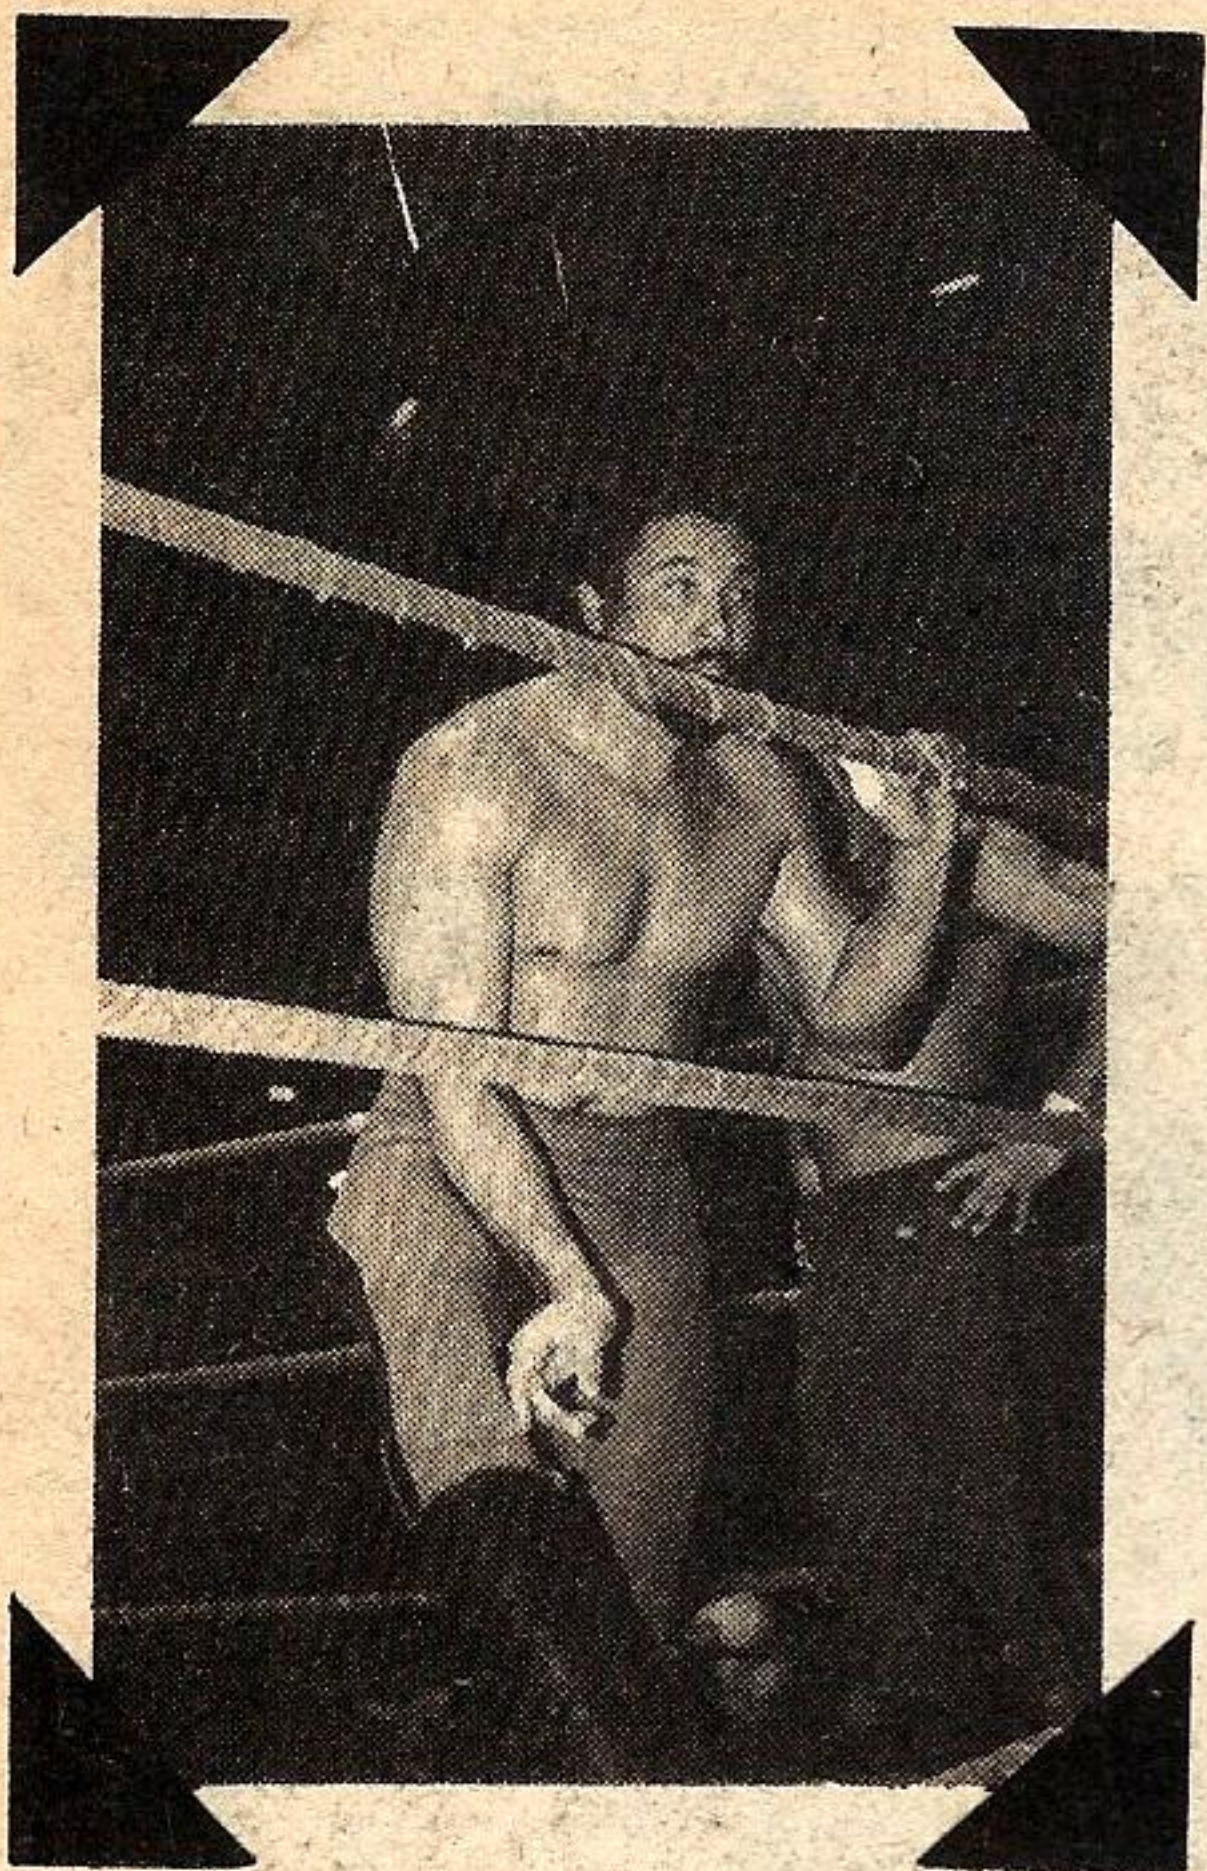

By DON FREEDMAN

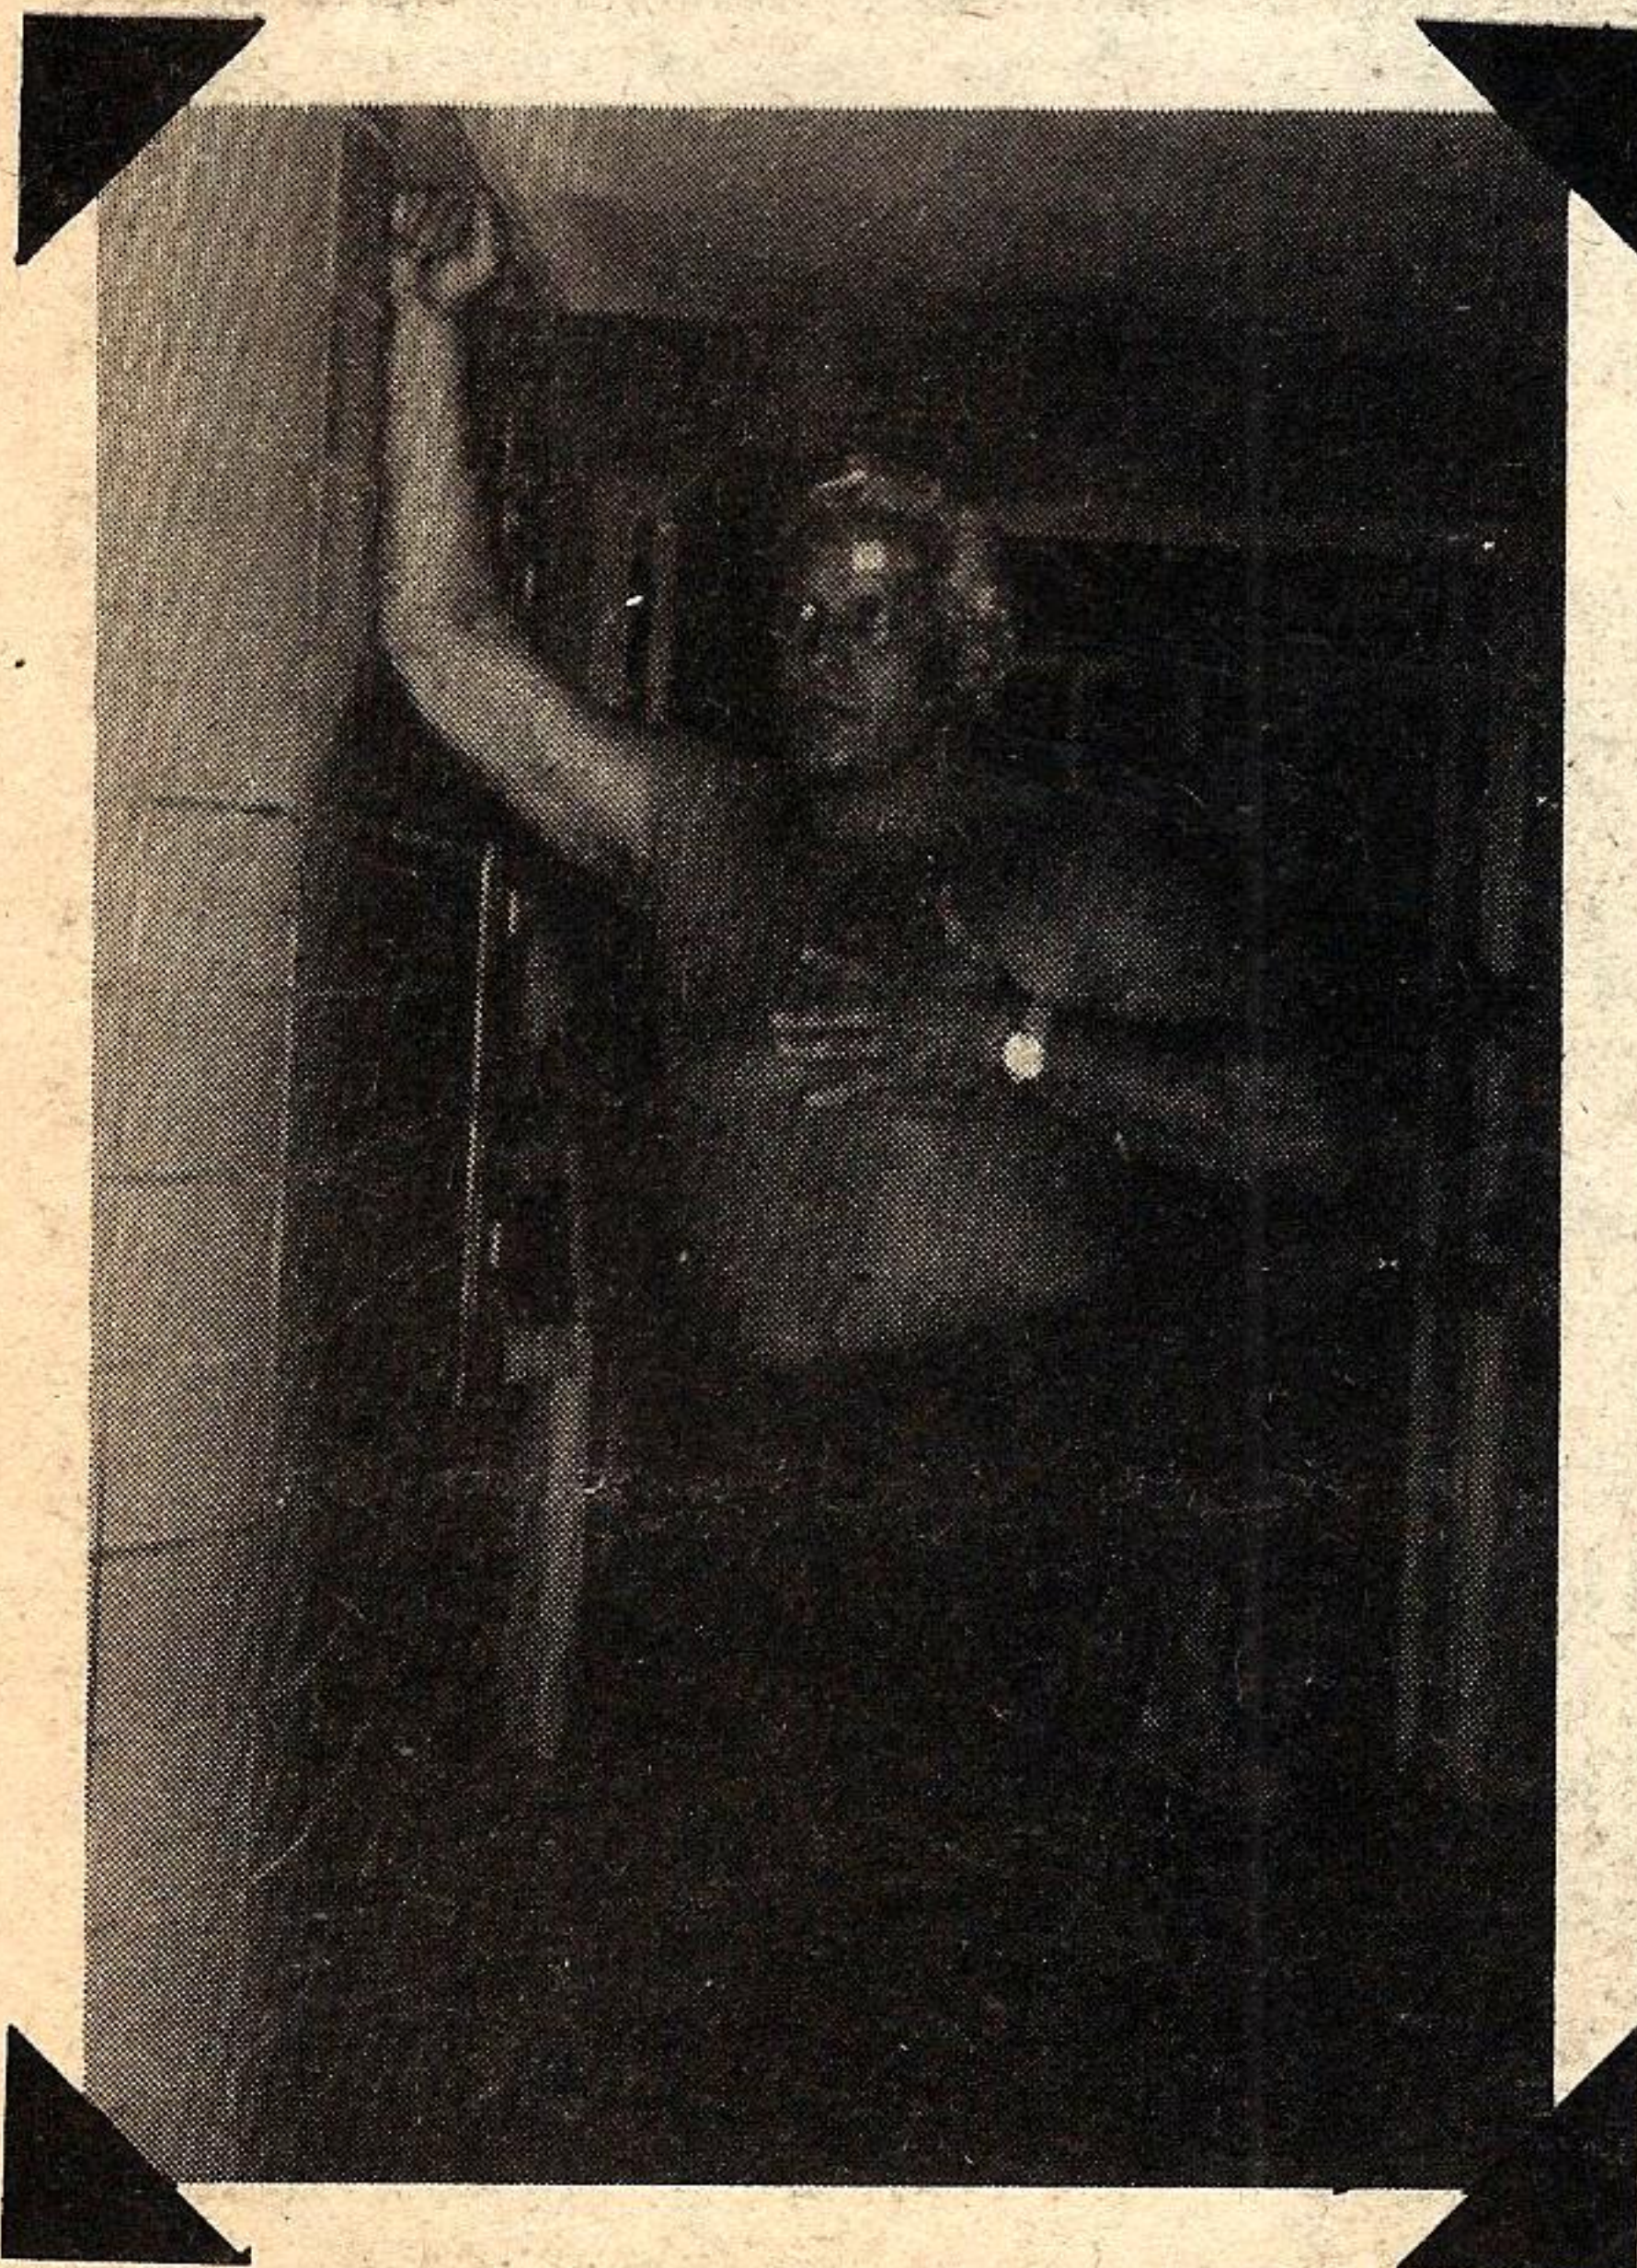

Many wrestlers fall into the category of super heavyweight, but none have approached HAYSTACKS CALHOUN in terms of ability and popularity. The 600-pound giant from Morgan's Corner, Arkansas, has pleased fans of all ages all over the world. He has fought the best bad guys in the business, including The Sheik, Bulldog Brower, Ernie Ladd and Pampero Firpo. Here's a shot of Haystacks on his way to the ring.

Another huge man in the wrestling game is GEORGE CANNON. Tipping the scales at 450 pounds, Cannon has lately confined himself to being a manager. He managed the highly successful team Don Kent and Al Costello, the Fabulous Kangaroos, before buying the contract of Kurt Von Hess and Karl Von Sholtz (see photo). Cannon is known alternately as 'Crybaby' and 'Man Mountain'. Of course, he prefers the latter.

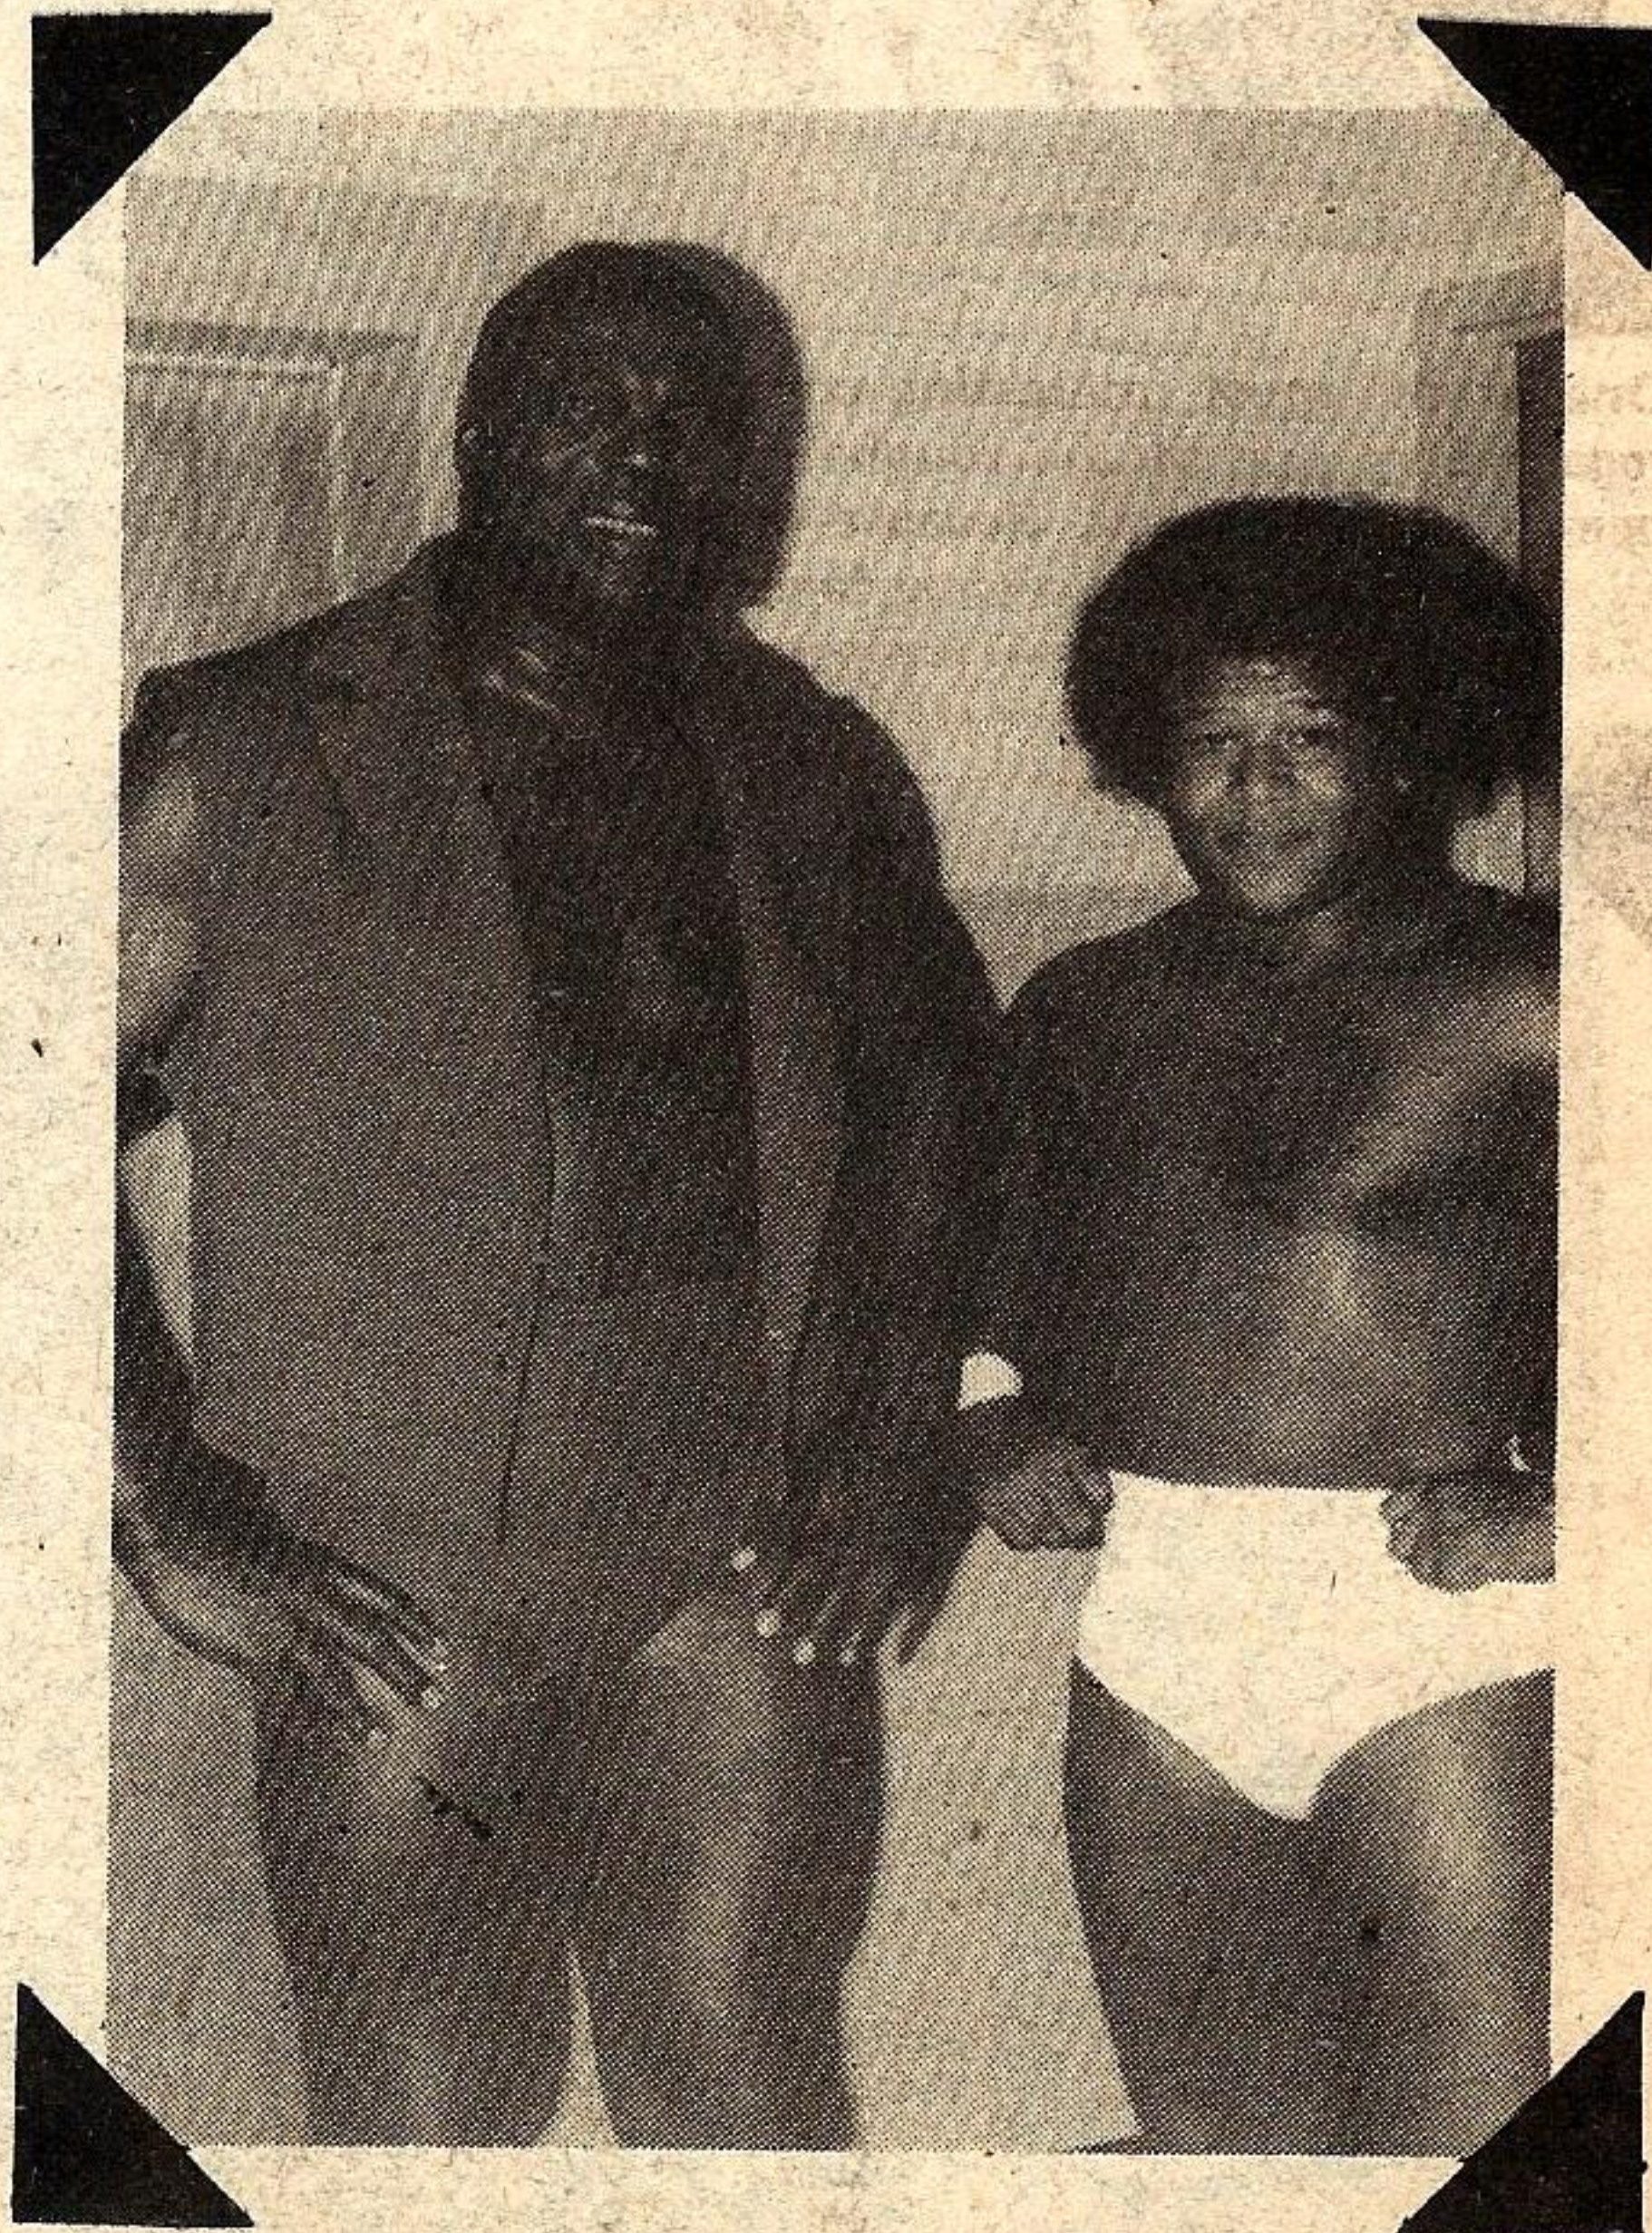

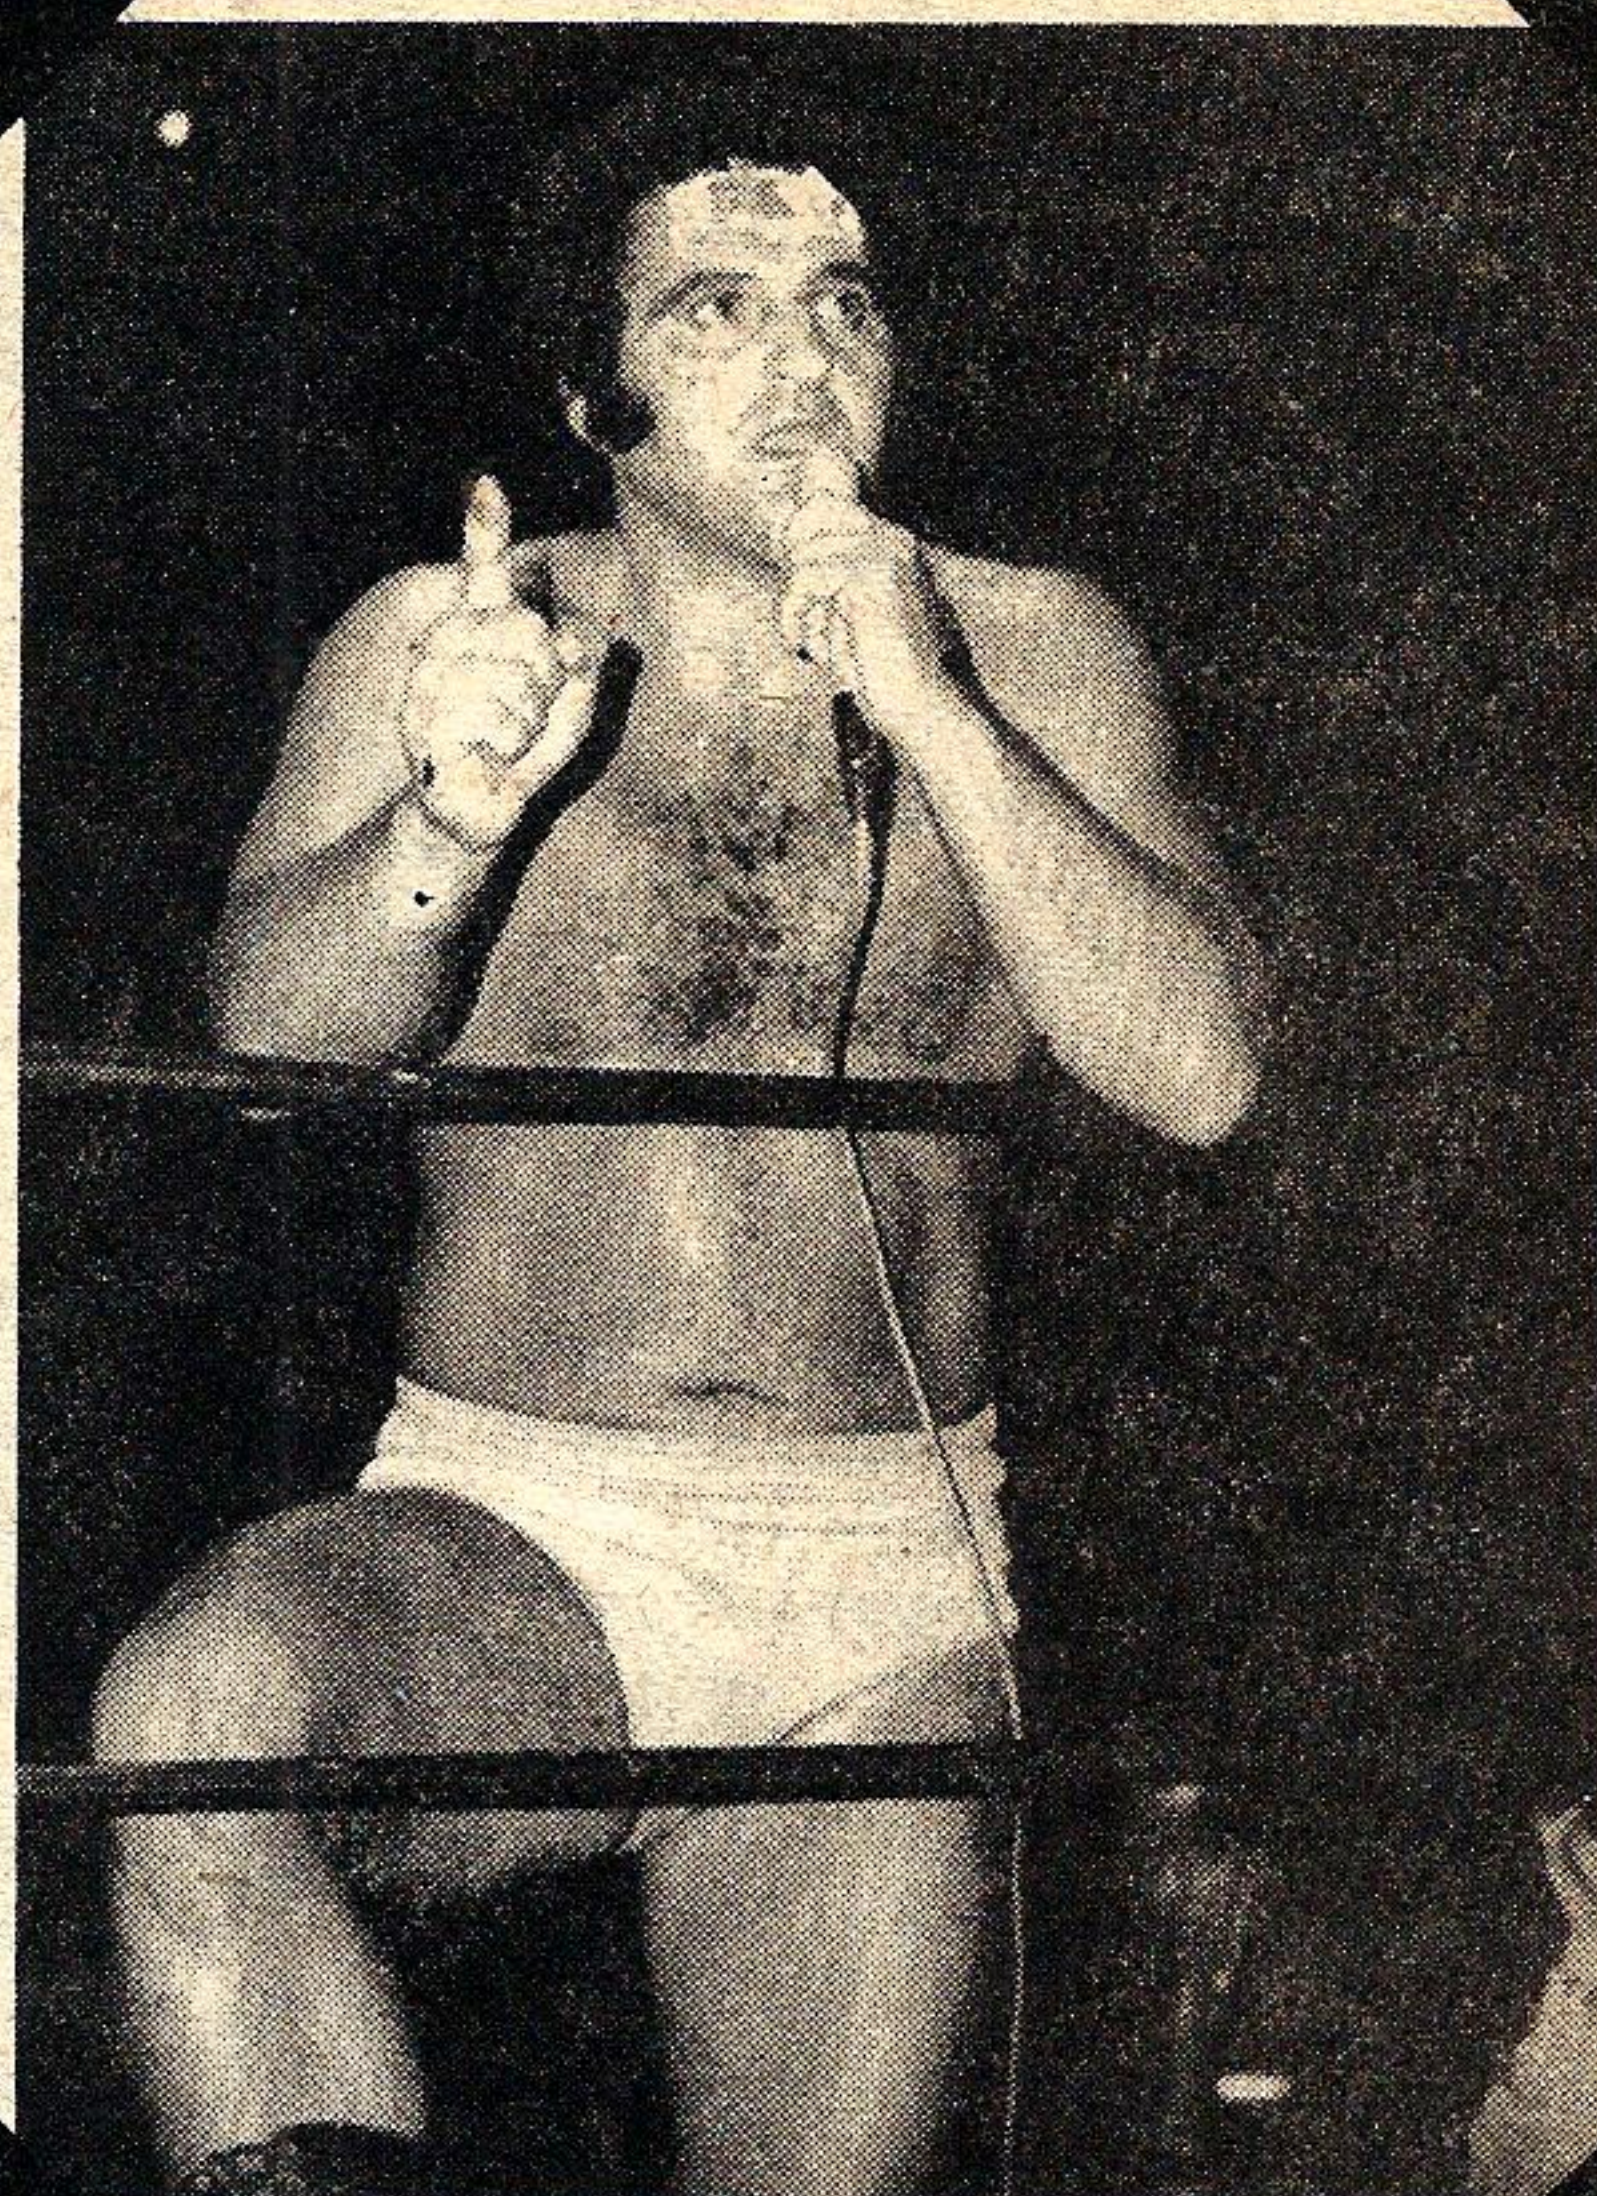

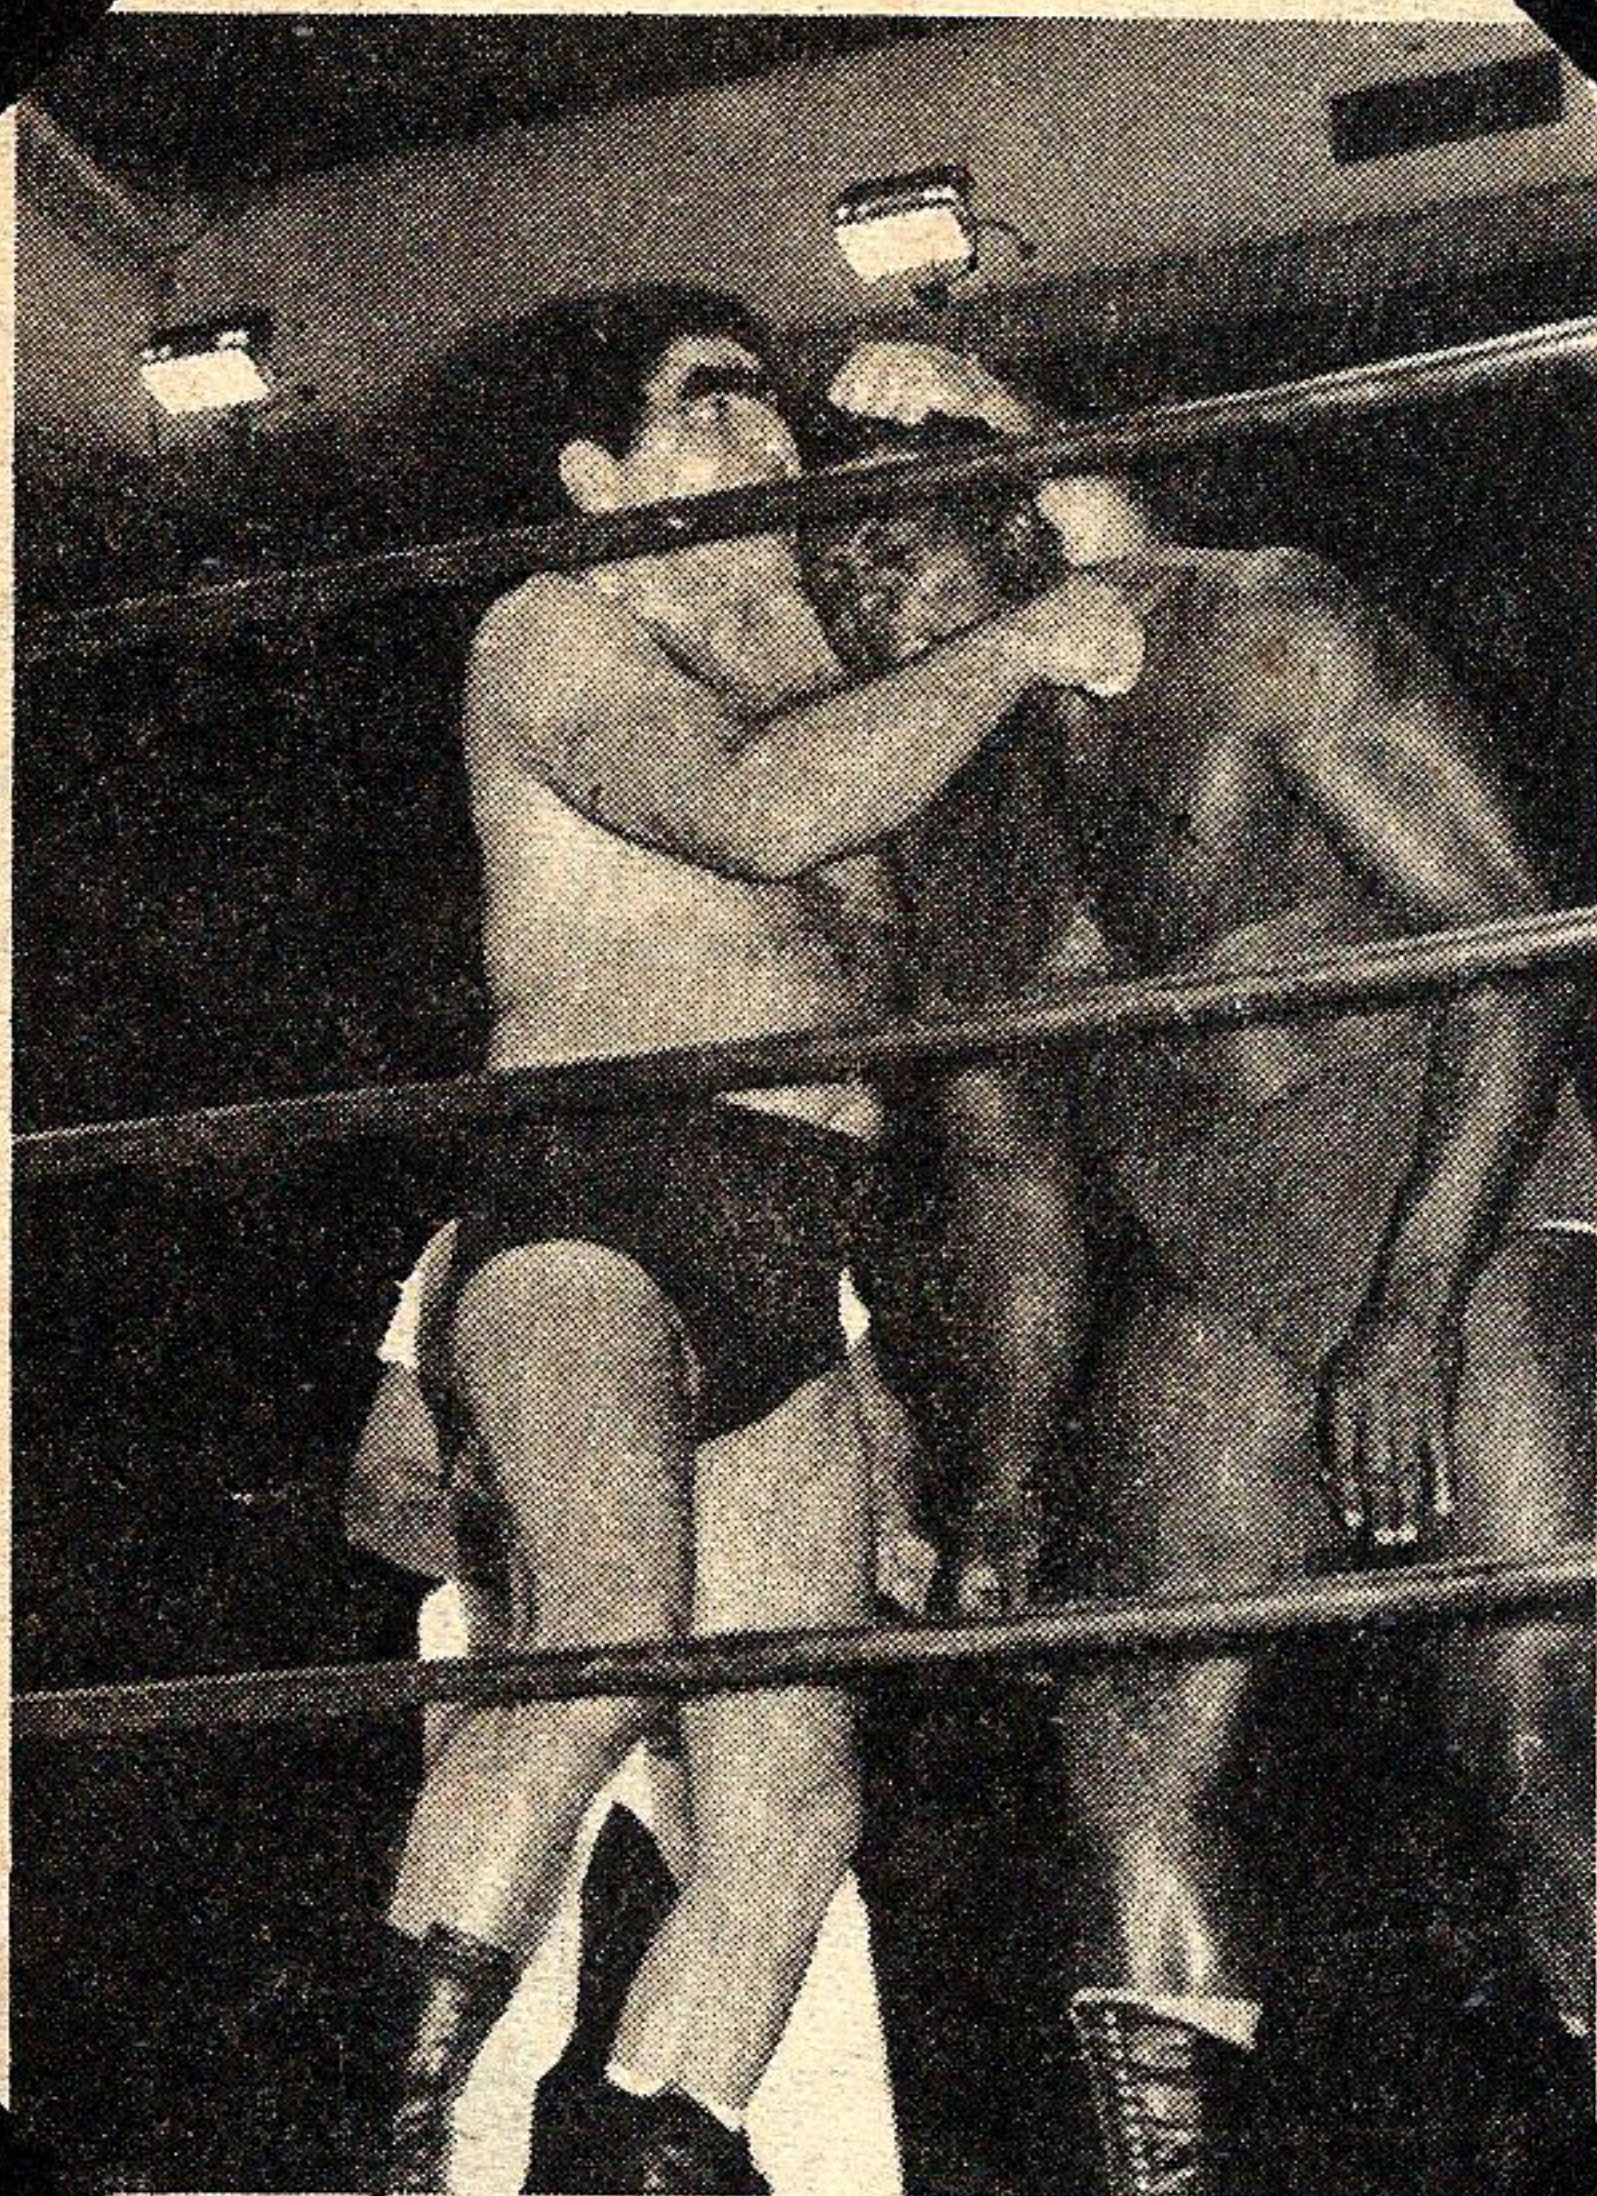

THE CASTILLIO BROTHERS, Raoul and Fidel, were a moderately successful pair of Cuban wrestlers in the National Wrestling Federation in the early 1970s. Only Fidel speaks English, and consented to pose with his brother for this shot. The other photo shows him glaring at ringside fans in Cleveland who are trying to alert the referee to the object in his boot.

BUDDY COLT is another tough mat veteran who has travelled extensively. This shot was taken of Buddy watching another match.

One of wrestling's fastest-rising young stars is TIGER CONWAY JR. He is the son of one of Texas' all-time most popular stars, and the Lone Star State fans like him just as well. Tiger Jr. is currently appearing in Mid-Atlantic rings, but hopes to do a lot of travelling. With tag-team partners like Bobo Brazil (left in photo), he should have no trouble!

One of the most interesting combinations of relatives in wrestling are BULL and FRED CURRY. Bull has always been regarded as one of the roughest tooth-and-nail wrestlers to ever step in a ring, while his handsome son Fred has always been a crowd-pleaser. Because of their conflicting styles they seldom appear as a tag-team. here's Bull against Bobo Brazil. Fred is shown promising fans to "destroy" the Sheik for what the Syrian did to him (notice the bandage and traces of blood on Fred's head— in their bout earlier that eveing.

EDDIE CREATCHMAN is a manager, and has been at the helm of such notorious villains as Abdullah the Butcher and The Sheik. He has been known to burn his charges' opponents with his ever-present pipe (see photo). He's famous among wrestling photographers for being a real "ham," and poses here for a photo in Buffalo's Memorial Auditorium, three copies of which he later demanded.

Brian Maxine is often called Gold Belt Maxine because he won two championship belts in one year.

A LITTLE BIT OF NASHVILLE IN ENGLAND

by Tom Burke

The most unlikely subject one can relate to Mother England is country and western music. Yet one of the surprising things about the music scene in England is that country music is taking the nation by storm. What has all this to do with a wrestling magazine? Well, it probably wouldn't even get any ink if it were not for the fact that the top country music artist in England is a wrestler. That's right, the top country music star in the United Kingdom is also a wrestler and not just a Johnny-come-lately wrestler either. His name is Brian Maxine.

Brian Maxine's rise to fame first came not in wrestling nor music but in boxing. While a youngster in Cheshire, he became a member of a local amateur boxing team and when he was old enough he joined Her Majesty's Army and continued his fistic endeavors. He did well enough to win the Eastern service championship in Singapore. Shortly after winning the service championship, Maxine returned to his native England and became a civilian. Brian turned to pro boxing and started the long, hard climb up the ladder of success in England.

However, his days in pro boxing only lasted six months. Maxine worked out at the same gym where a number of professional wrestlers trained. A friendship began with Brian and a few of the wrestlers and it was only a matter of time before Maxine hung up his gloves and started to train for a mat career under Billy Robinson. Since then Maxine has gone from the opener of the bill to the main event.

Like all wrestlers starting out, there are the ups and downs and during his first year Brian suffered a broken leg. This put him out of action for nearly five months but the lad had the determination to continue his wrestling career. After he was in condition to resume his wrestling jaunts around the United Kingdom Maxine was given his big break when he was asked to substitute for a wrestler who did not appear for a bout at the Royal Albert Hall in London. His opponent was Mick McManus, the Bull Curry of wrestling in England. The match was a classic of all-out wrestling. Since then, the two have wrestled a number of times and the promoters have had a sellout at every venue where they appeared.

Since then Maxine has skyrocketed to success in the wrestling world. He won the British welterweight championship on Sept. 30, 1969, when he defeated Alan Sargeant in Croydon, England, in the eighth round of a scheduled 15, five-minute round championship match. Since then Brian has outgrown the welterweight class and has been a middleweight champion for the last few years. Fame and the title followed Maxine to that weight class as well. He won the middleweight championship in June, 1971, when he defeated Clayton Thomson at Wolverhampton. Since then Brian has held the championship and defended it against all the leading challengers both in England and on the continent.

At this writing Brian is getting in additional training and adding more weight in order to move from the middleweight to the light-heavyweight class. He hopes to gain a title match with Marty Jones, the current champion.

His wrestling career is quite impressive and a real credit to his long hours of training and hard work. There is another side of Brian Maxine and that is the side of a superstar on the country music scene in England.

A success in the wrestling ring, Brian Maxine is gaining further fame as a country and western singer in his native England.

The music side of Maxine's life came about while wrestling. During the intermission of various wrestling events Brian convinced the promoters to play a tape of himself singing and playing the guitar. Well, what started as a little added attraction to the wrestling bill has turned out to be a great success for Maxine.

His talents were recognized by a music impresario who led Brian on the right road to fame in the country music department. He gained quite a reputation, winning two awards as Britain's most promising country artist from the Country Music Association. He also won a poll conducted by "Billboard", the leading American entertainment magazine, when he was voted No. 1 in British country music.

Maxine has many friends on the country music scene who are well known to American fans of the Nashville sound, such as Charley Pride, Hank Snow, Tom T. Hall, Johnny Cash and others. Brian's talents are not limited to wrestling and singing either. He has written over a dozen songs and recorded all of them on a new album.

One of the most popular albums on the country music charts in England is Brian's new album, 'Ribbon of Stainless Steel'. Recorded by Columbia, this album has become a feather in the cap of the country music artist.

As a wrestler Brian has a different image — he is a tough man in the squared circle and oftentimes is jeered by fans. Maxine explains it easily, "Since I have been wrestling I have always been aggressive and never liked to lose. In order to remain on top, I would often resort to using rough tactics." With his aggressive style and calling himself 'King of the Ring', he has been able to maintain a position on the top of the ladder of professional wrestling in the United Kingdom.

The future plans of Maxine include an invasion of both the United States wrestling circuit and Nashville, Tenn., the country music scene of America. His action-packed wrestling style will be one of interest to the fans in that area of the country. We have seen many wrestling stars from England come over in the past few years and all of them have been top-notch wrestlers. Maxine would not only be welcome as a wrestling talent from England but also a great addition to the country music scene in America.

If you would like more information on Brian as a wrestler or a country music artist then I suggest you sit down and write to his fan club. The address is: Brian Maxine Fan Club, 8 Grange Road, Penkridge, Staffordshire, England.

A CLASSY CARR IN THE WRESTLING WORLD

One of the greatest women wrestlers of all time, Mildred Burke has produced many outstanding gal grapplers since deserting the ring to devote her time to teach would-be women wrestlers the tricks of the trade.

The latest addition to Mildred's galaxy of glamorous grapplers is an Italian-Spanish beauty by the name of Casey Carr.

"I have never been so happy with any girl as I am with Casey. She comes from a wonderful family and has more to offer the wrestling world than any girl since I retired as undefeated champion," says Mildred Burke of her latest protege.

"Casey has so much talent wrapped up in her 125 pounds it is unbelievable. I give credit to Beverly Shade and all those who helped get Casey started in wrestling, but the real credit goes to Casey herself as she is just a natural."

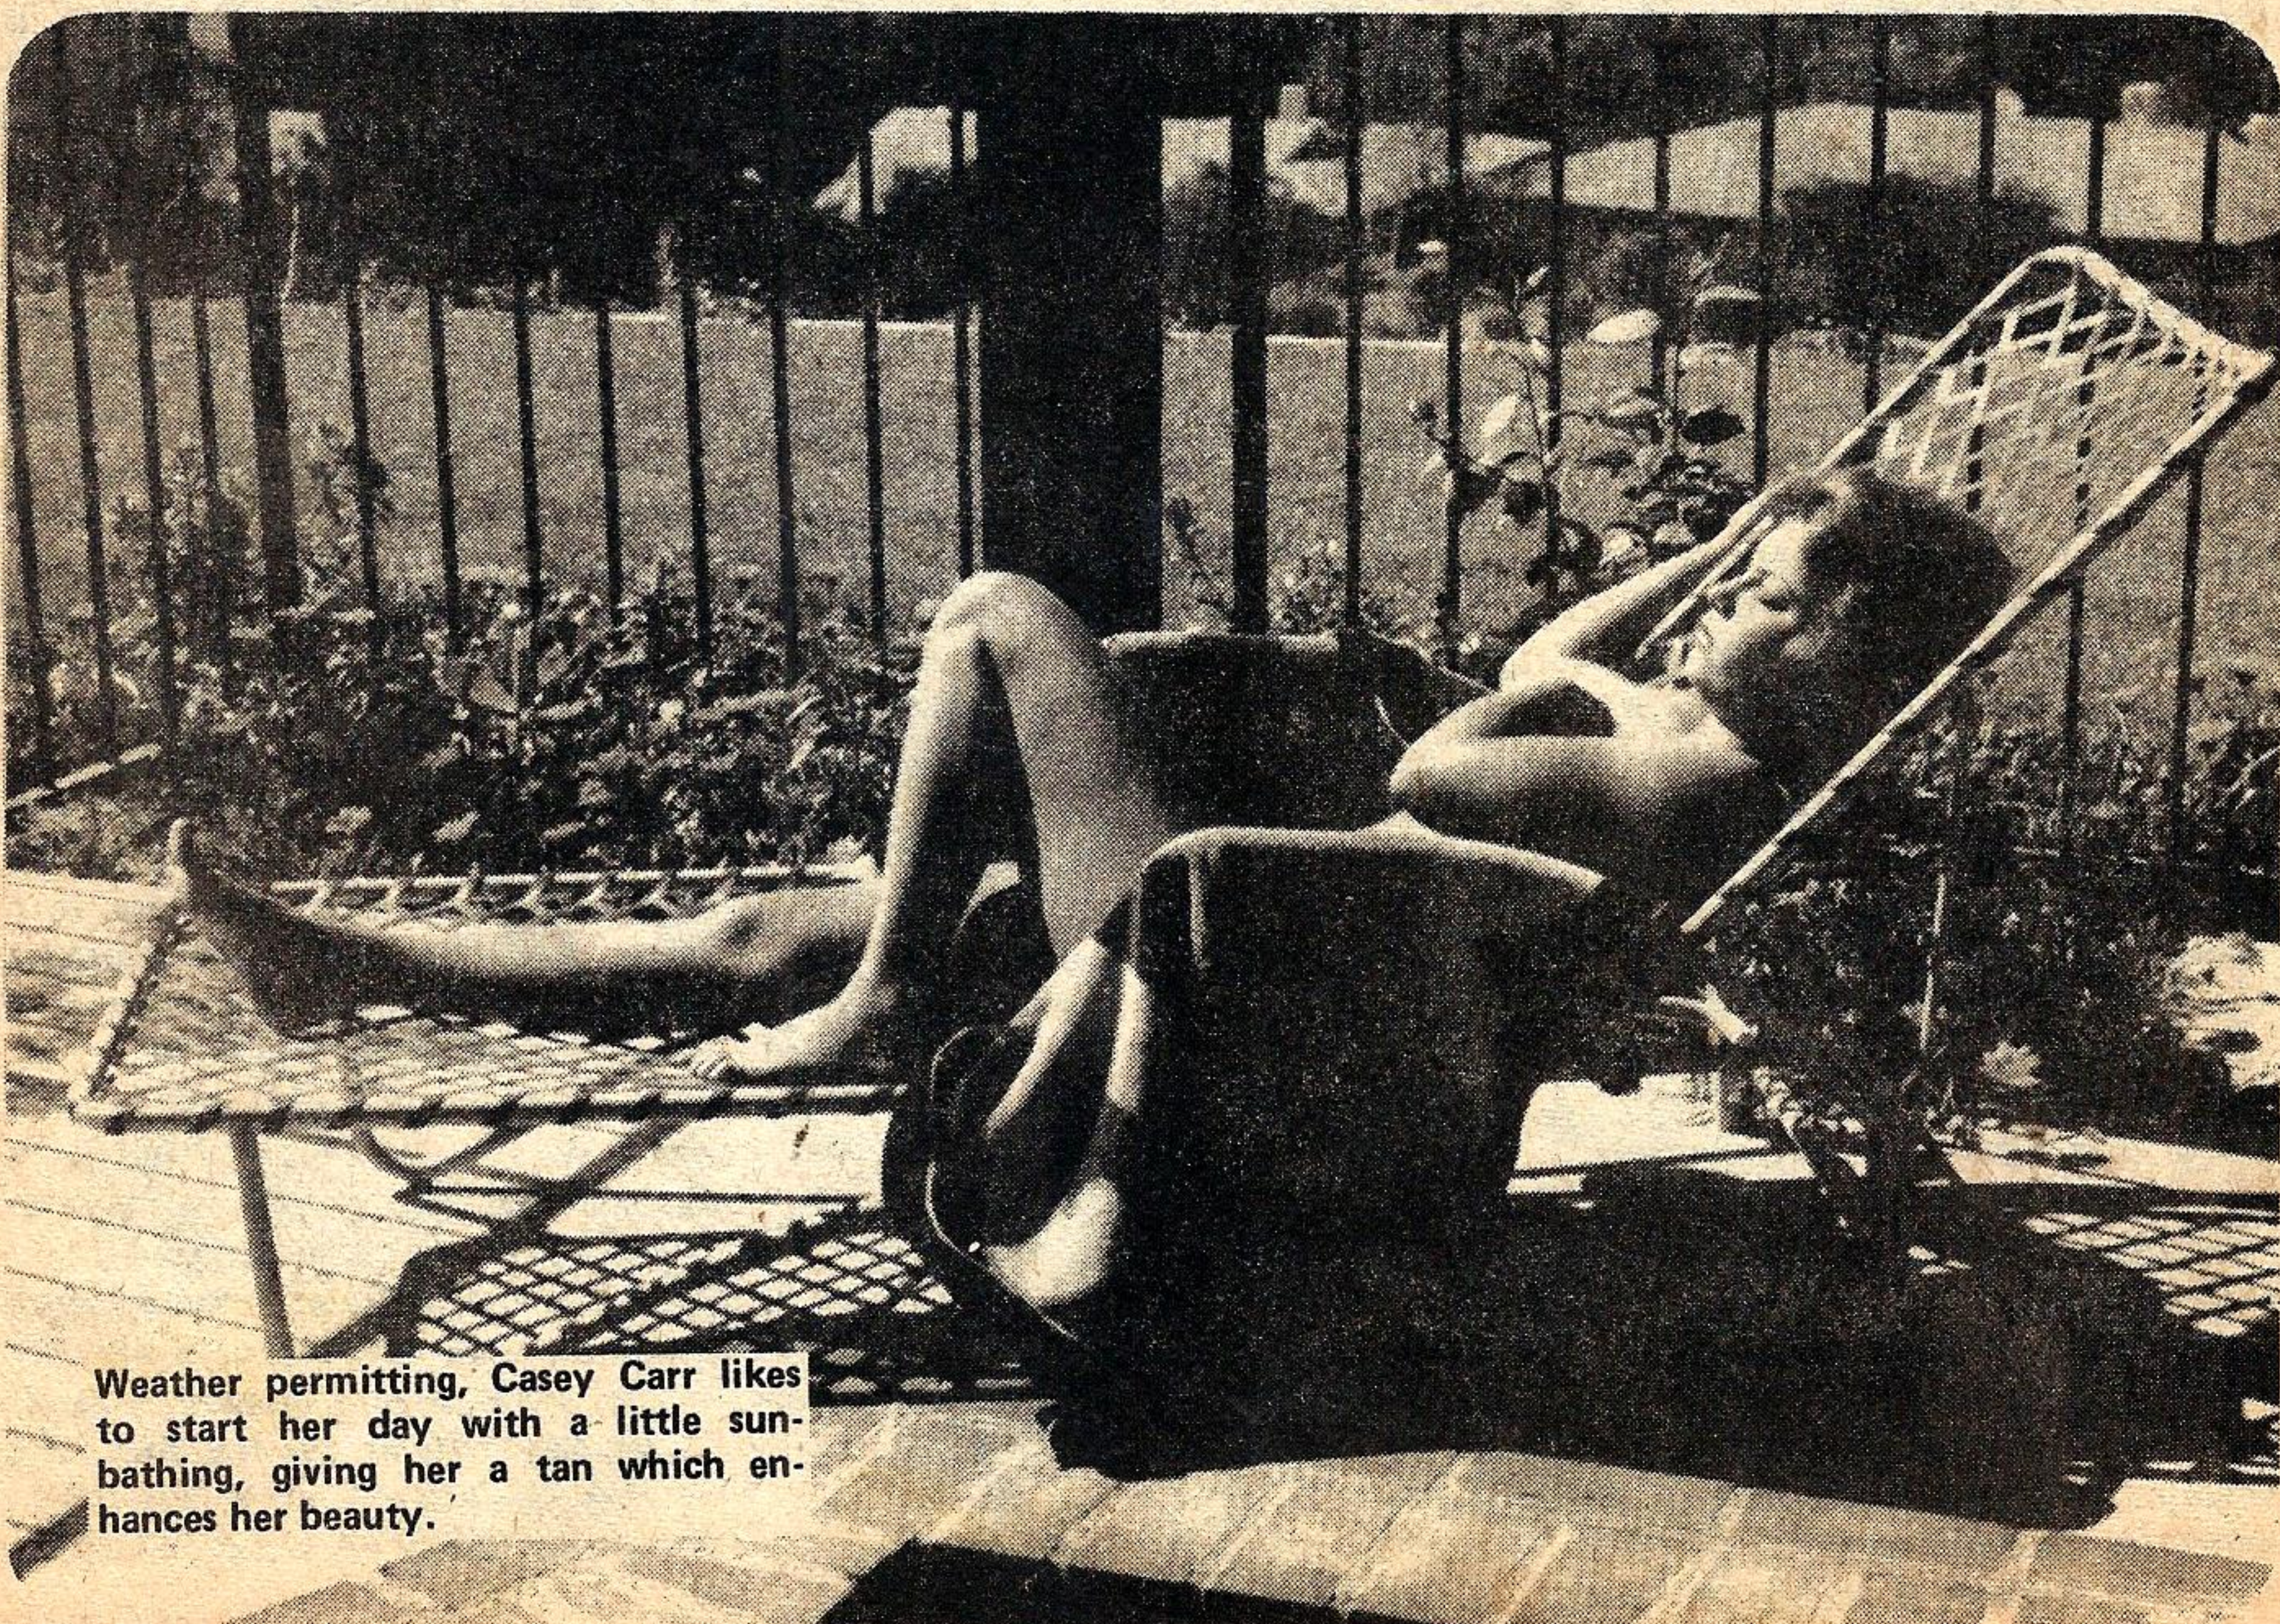

Casey offers more to the grappling game than just her good looks as she is an all-round athlete. She has done some wrestling in the Eastern United States — she is the Florida State champion — but has enjoyed most of her grappling success in Japan.

When she isn't wrestling, Casey enjoys horseback riding.

The following photos show Casey Carr, both at home and working out in the gymnasium.

Send $3 for a catalog to Mildred Burke, P.O. Box 783, Reseda, Calif., 91335. This catalog lists outstanding films and photos of Casey Carr. If you are a wrestling fan, you'll be a Casey Carr fan. Even if you aren't you'll be a fan of Casey Carr, the wrestler with the mostest.

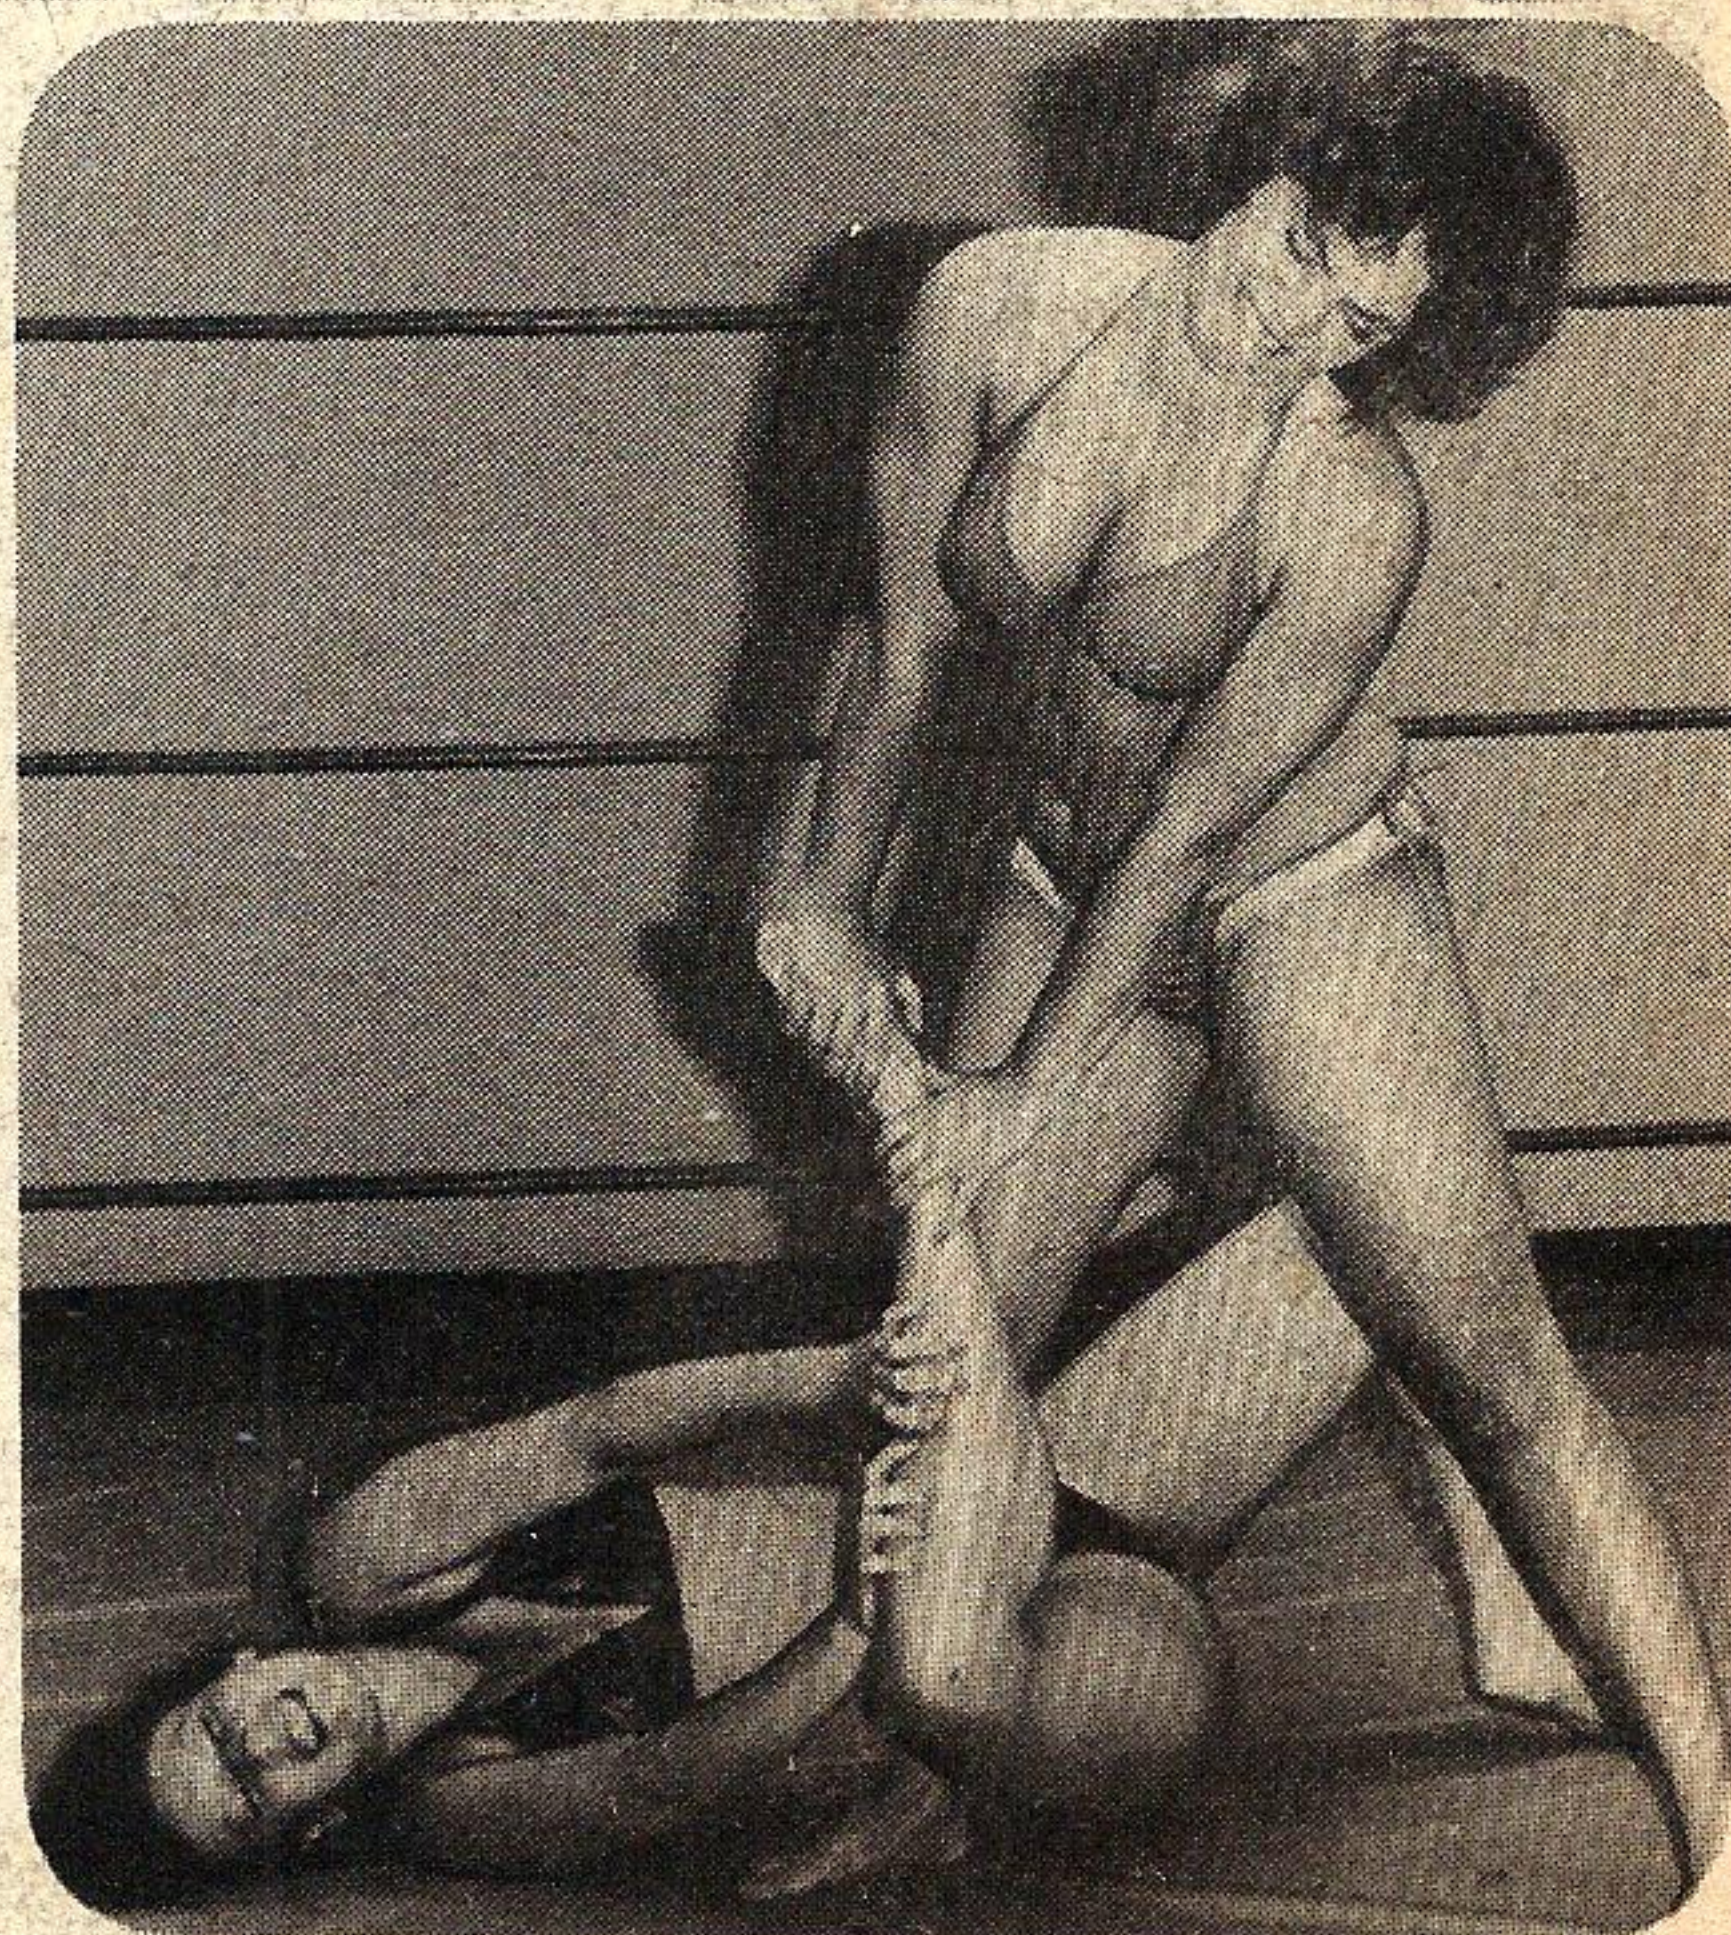

Weather permitting, Casey Carr likes to start her day with a little sunbathing, giving her a tan which enhances her beauty.

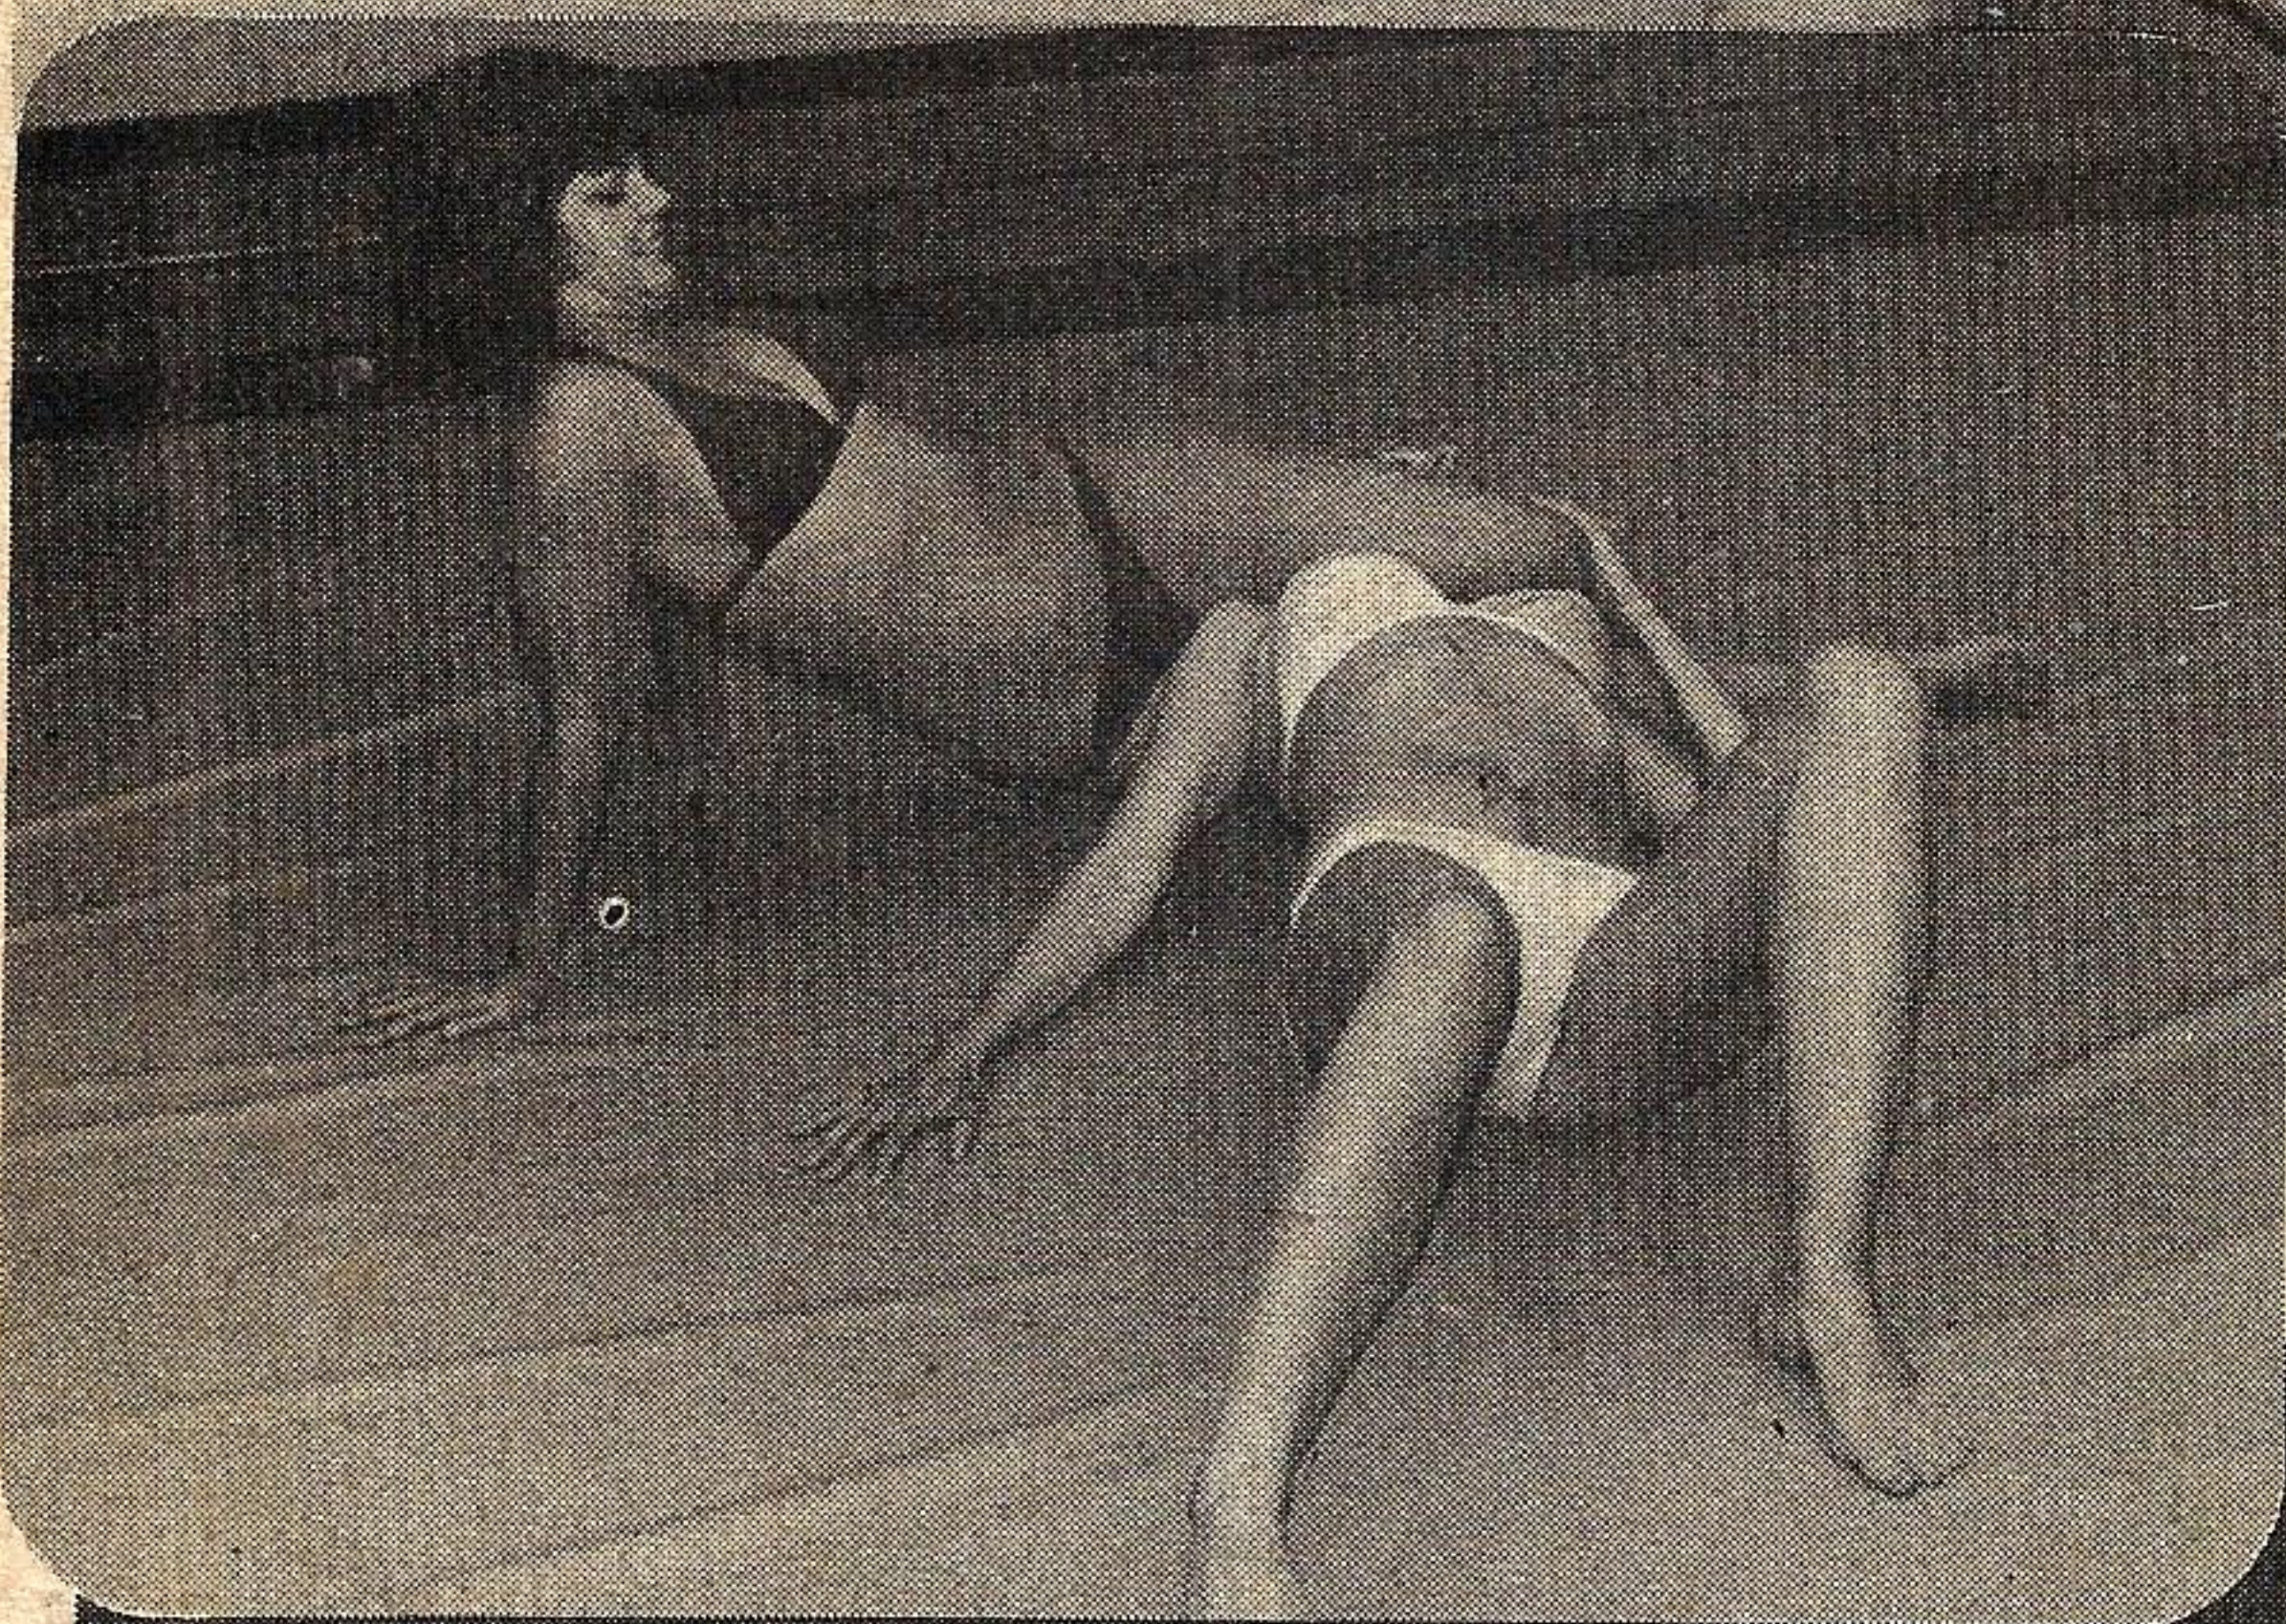

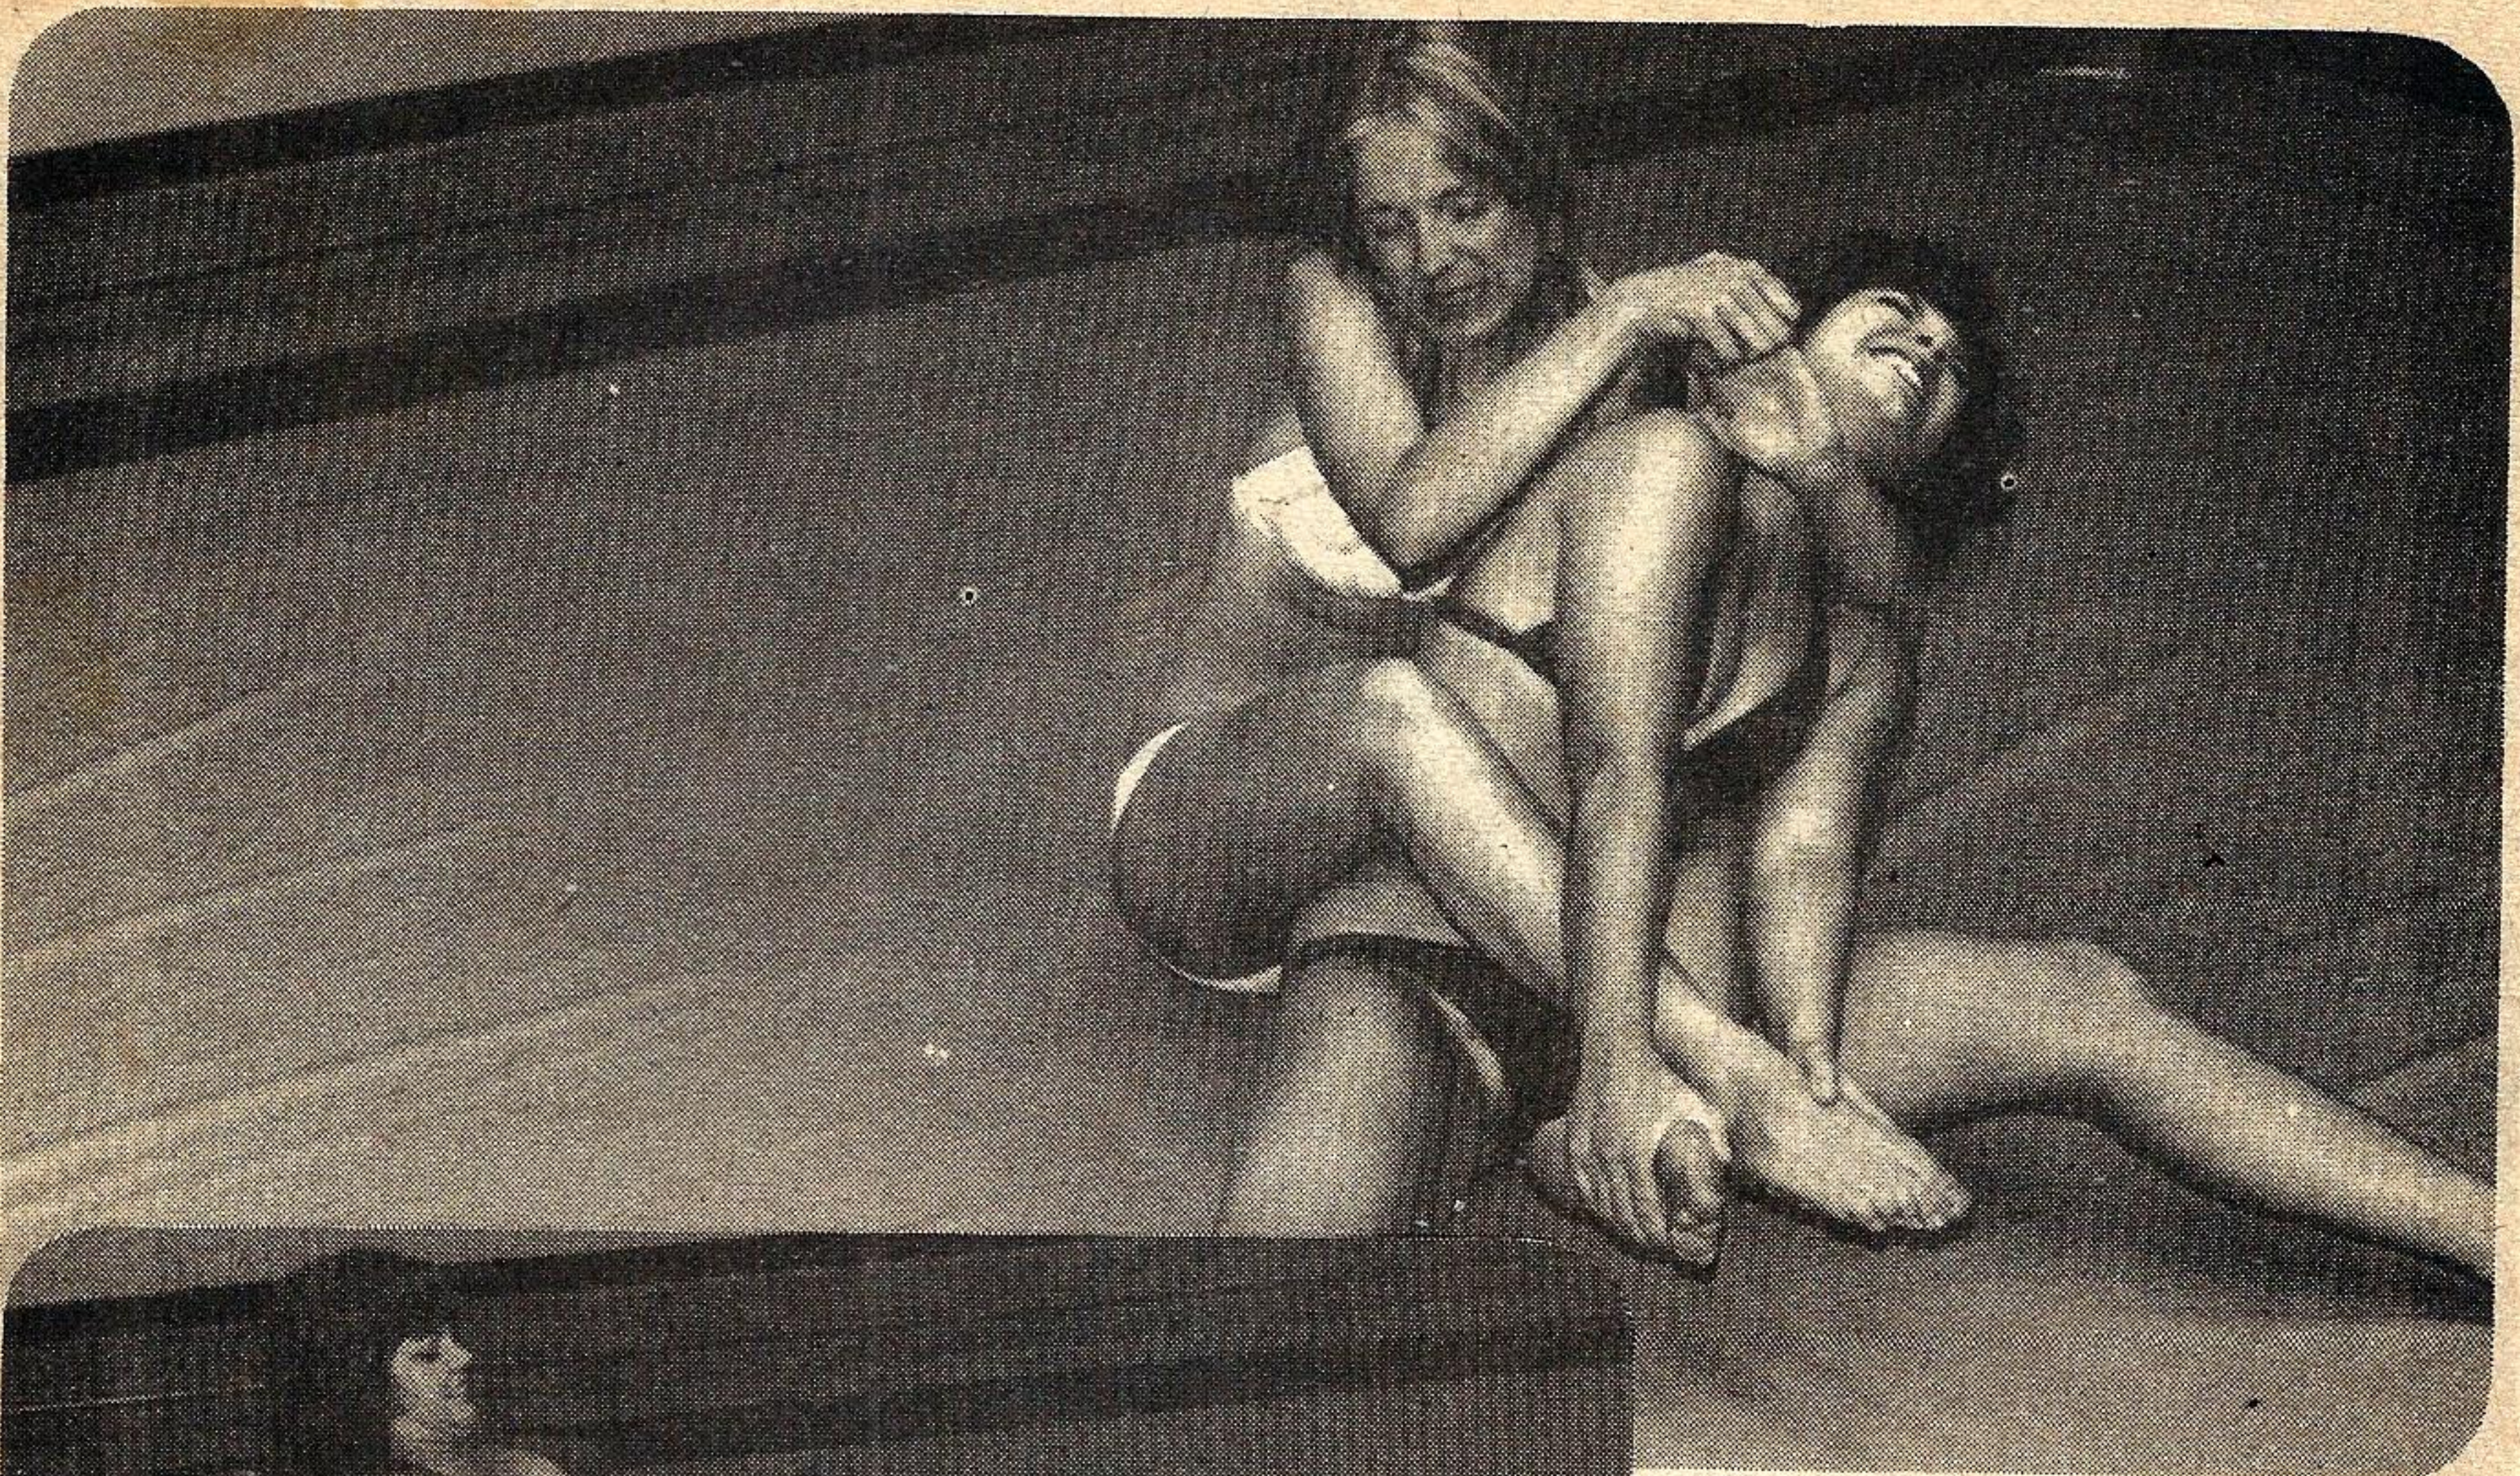

After sunbathing, Casey heads for the swimming pool where she cools off with a refreshing dip.

Before heading to the gym for a workout, Casey enjoys a cup of coffee.

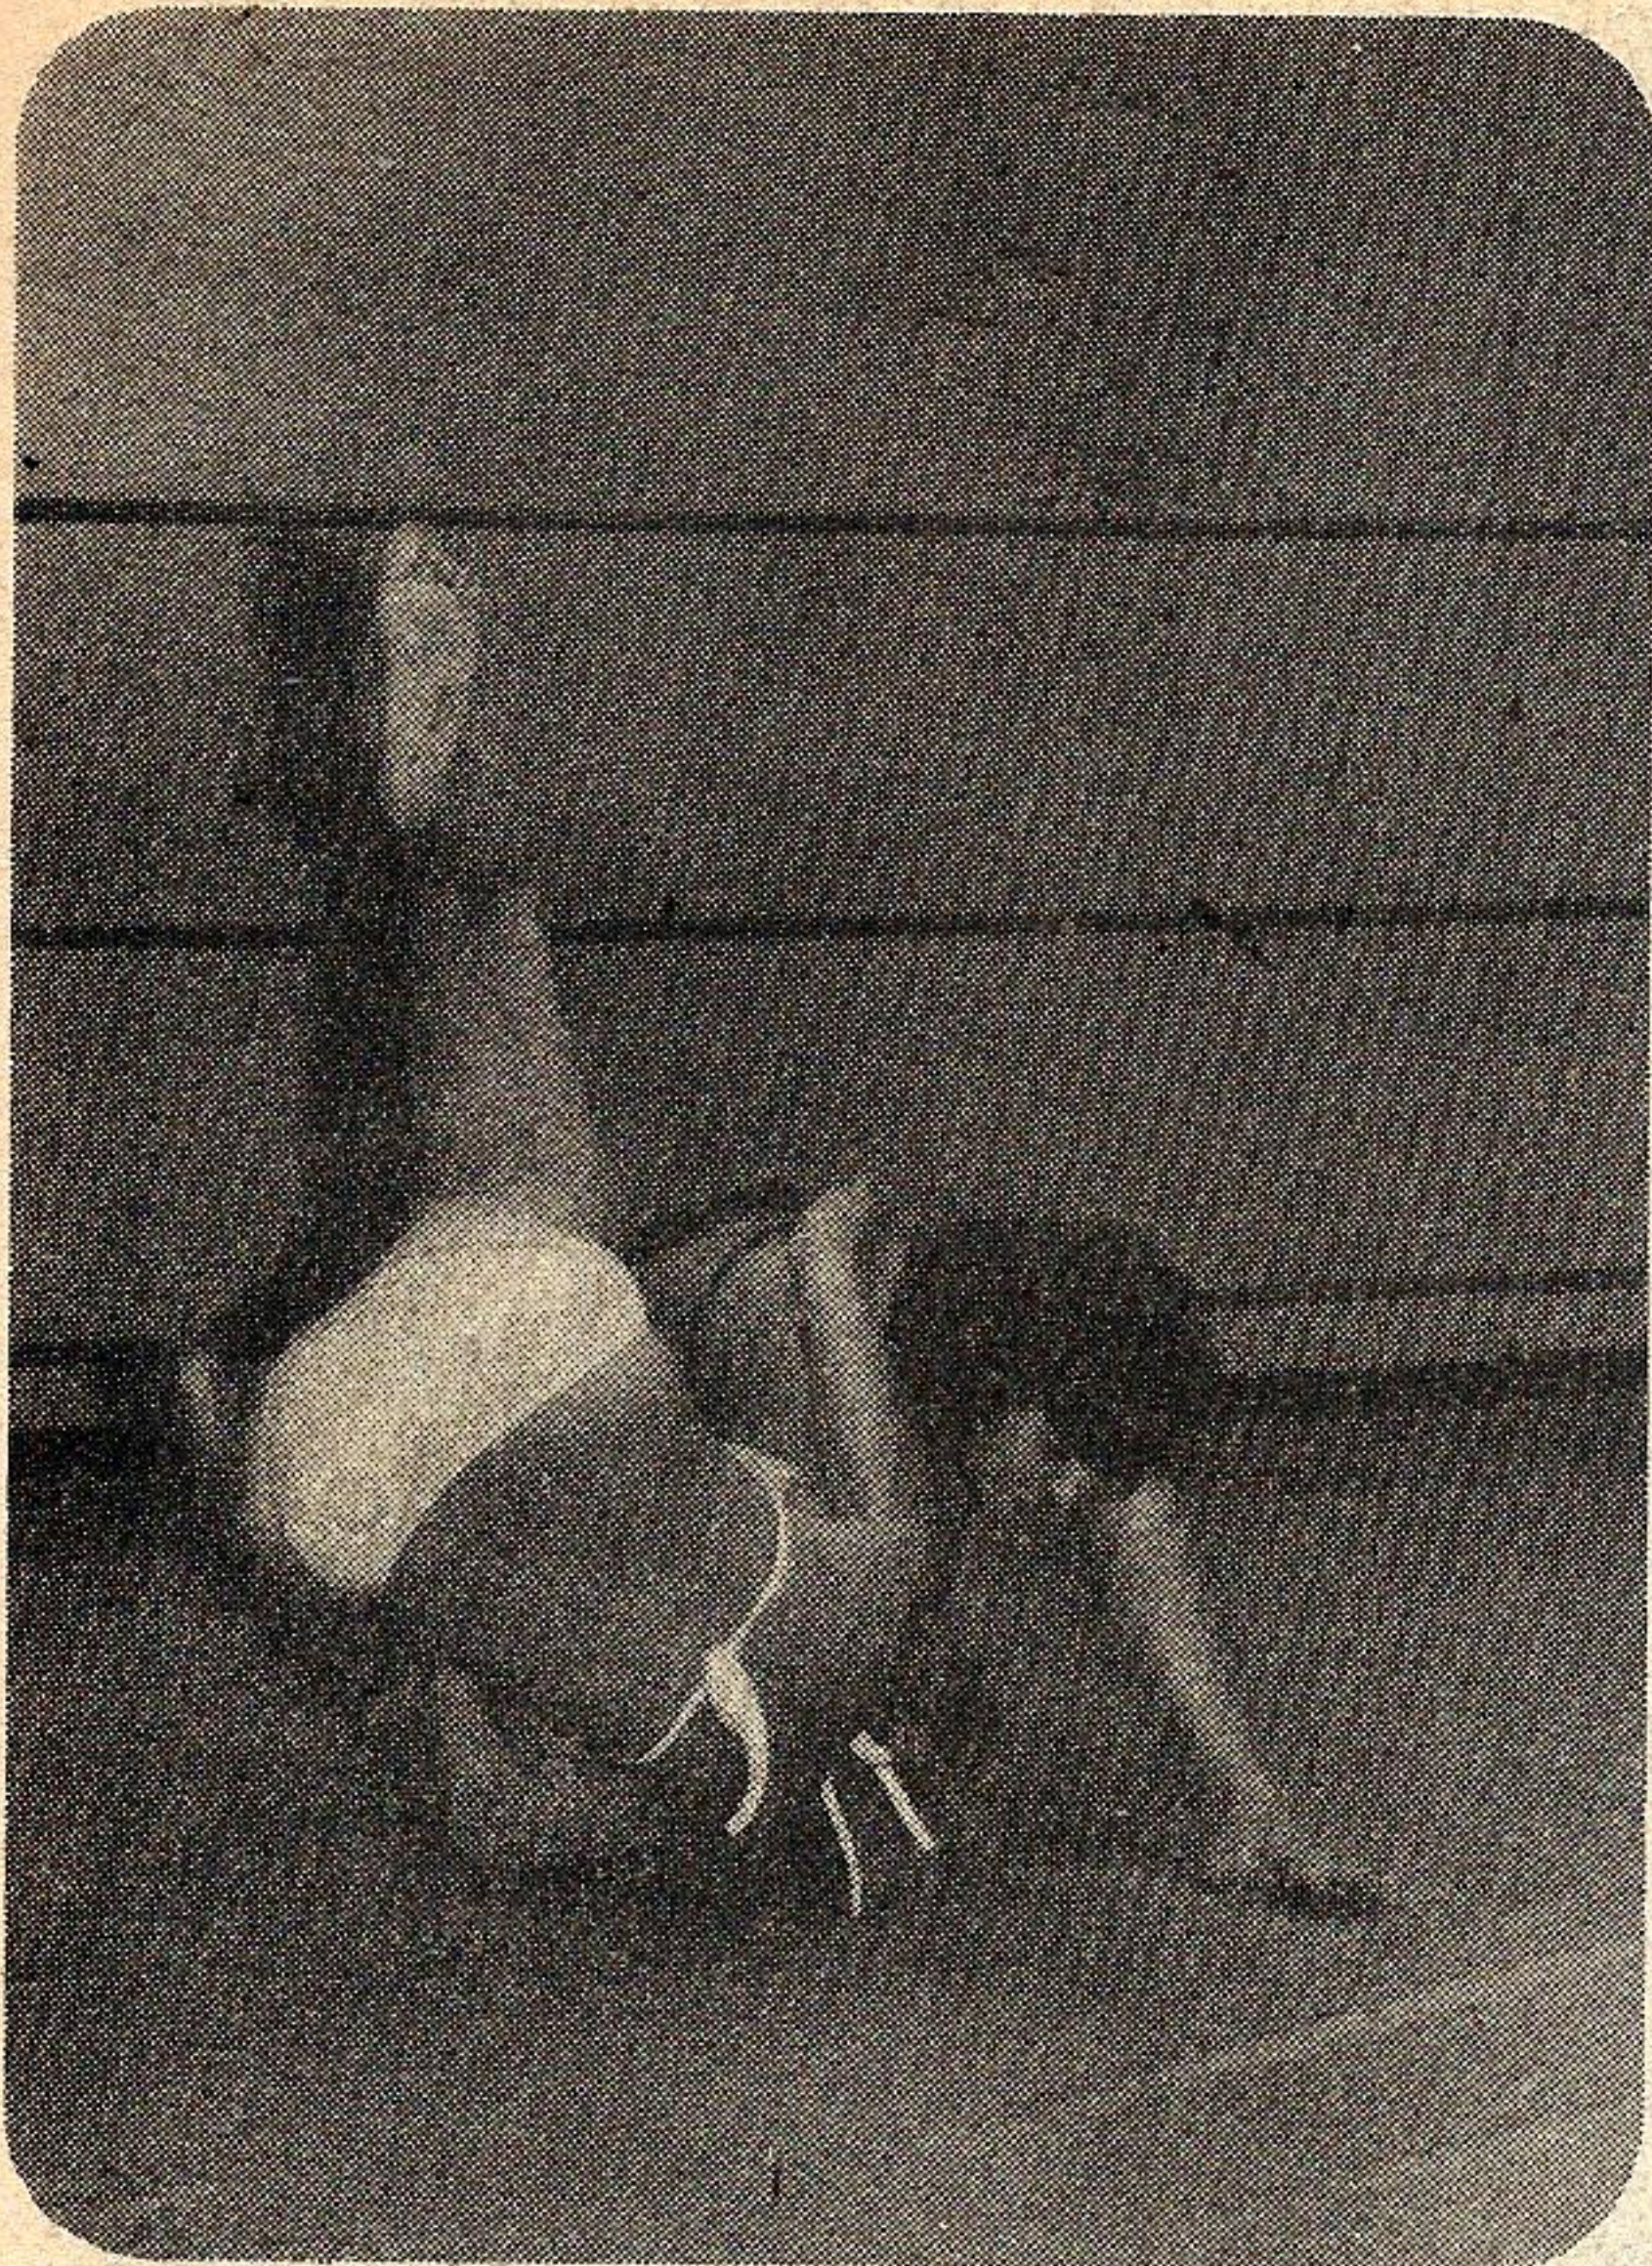

A hard worker in the gym as well as in the ring, here Casey works over the leg of Cheryl Day. Although there is no love lost between these two when they tangle, Cheryl and Casey often work together in tag-team matches.

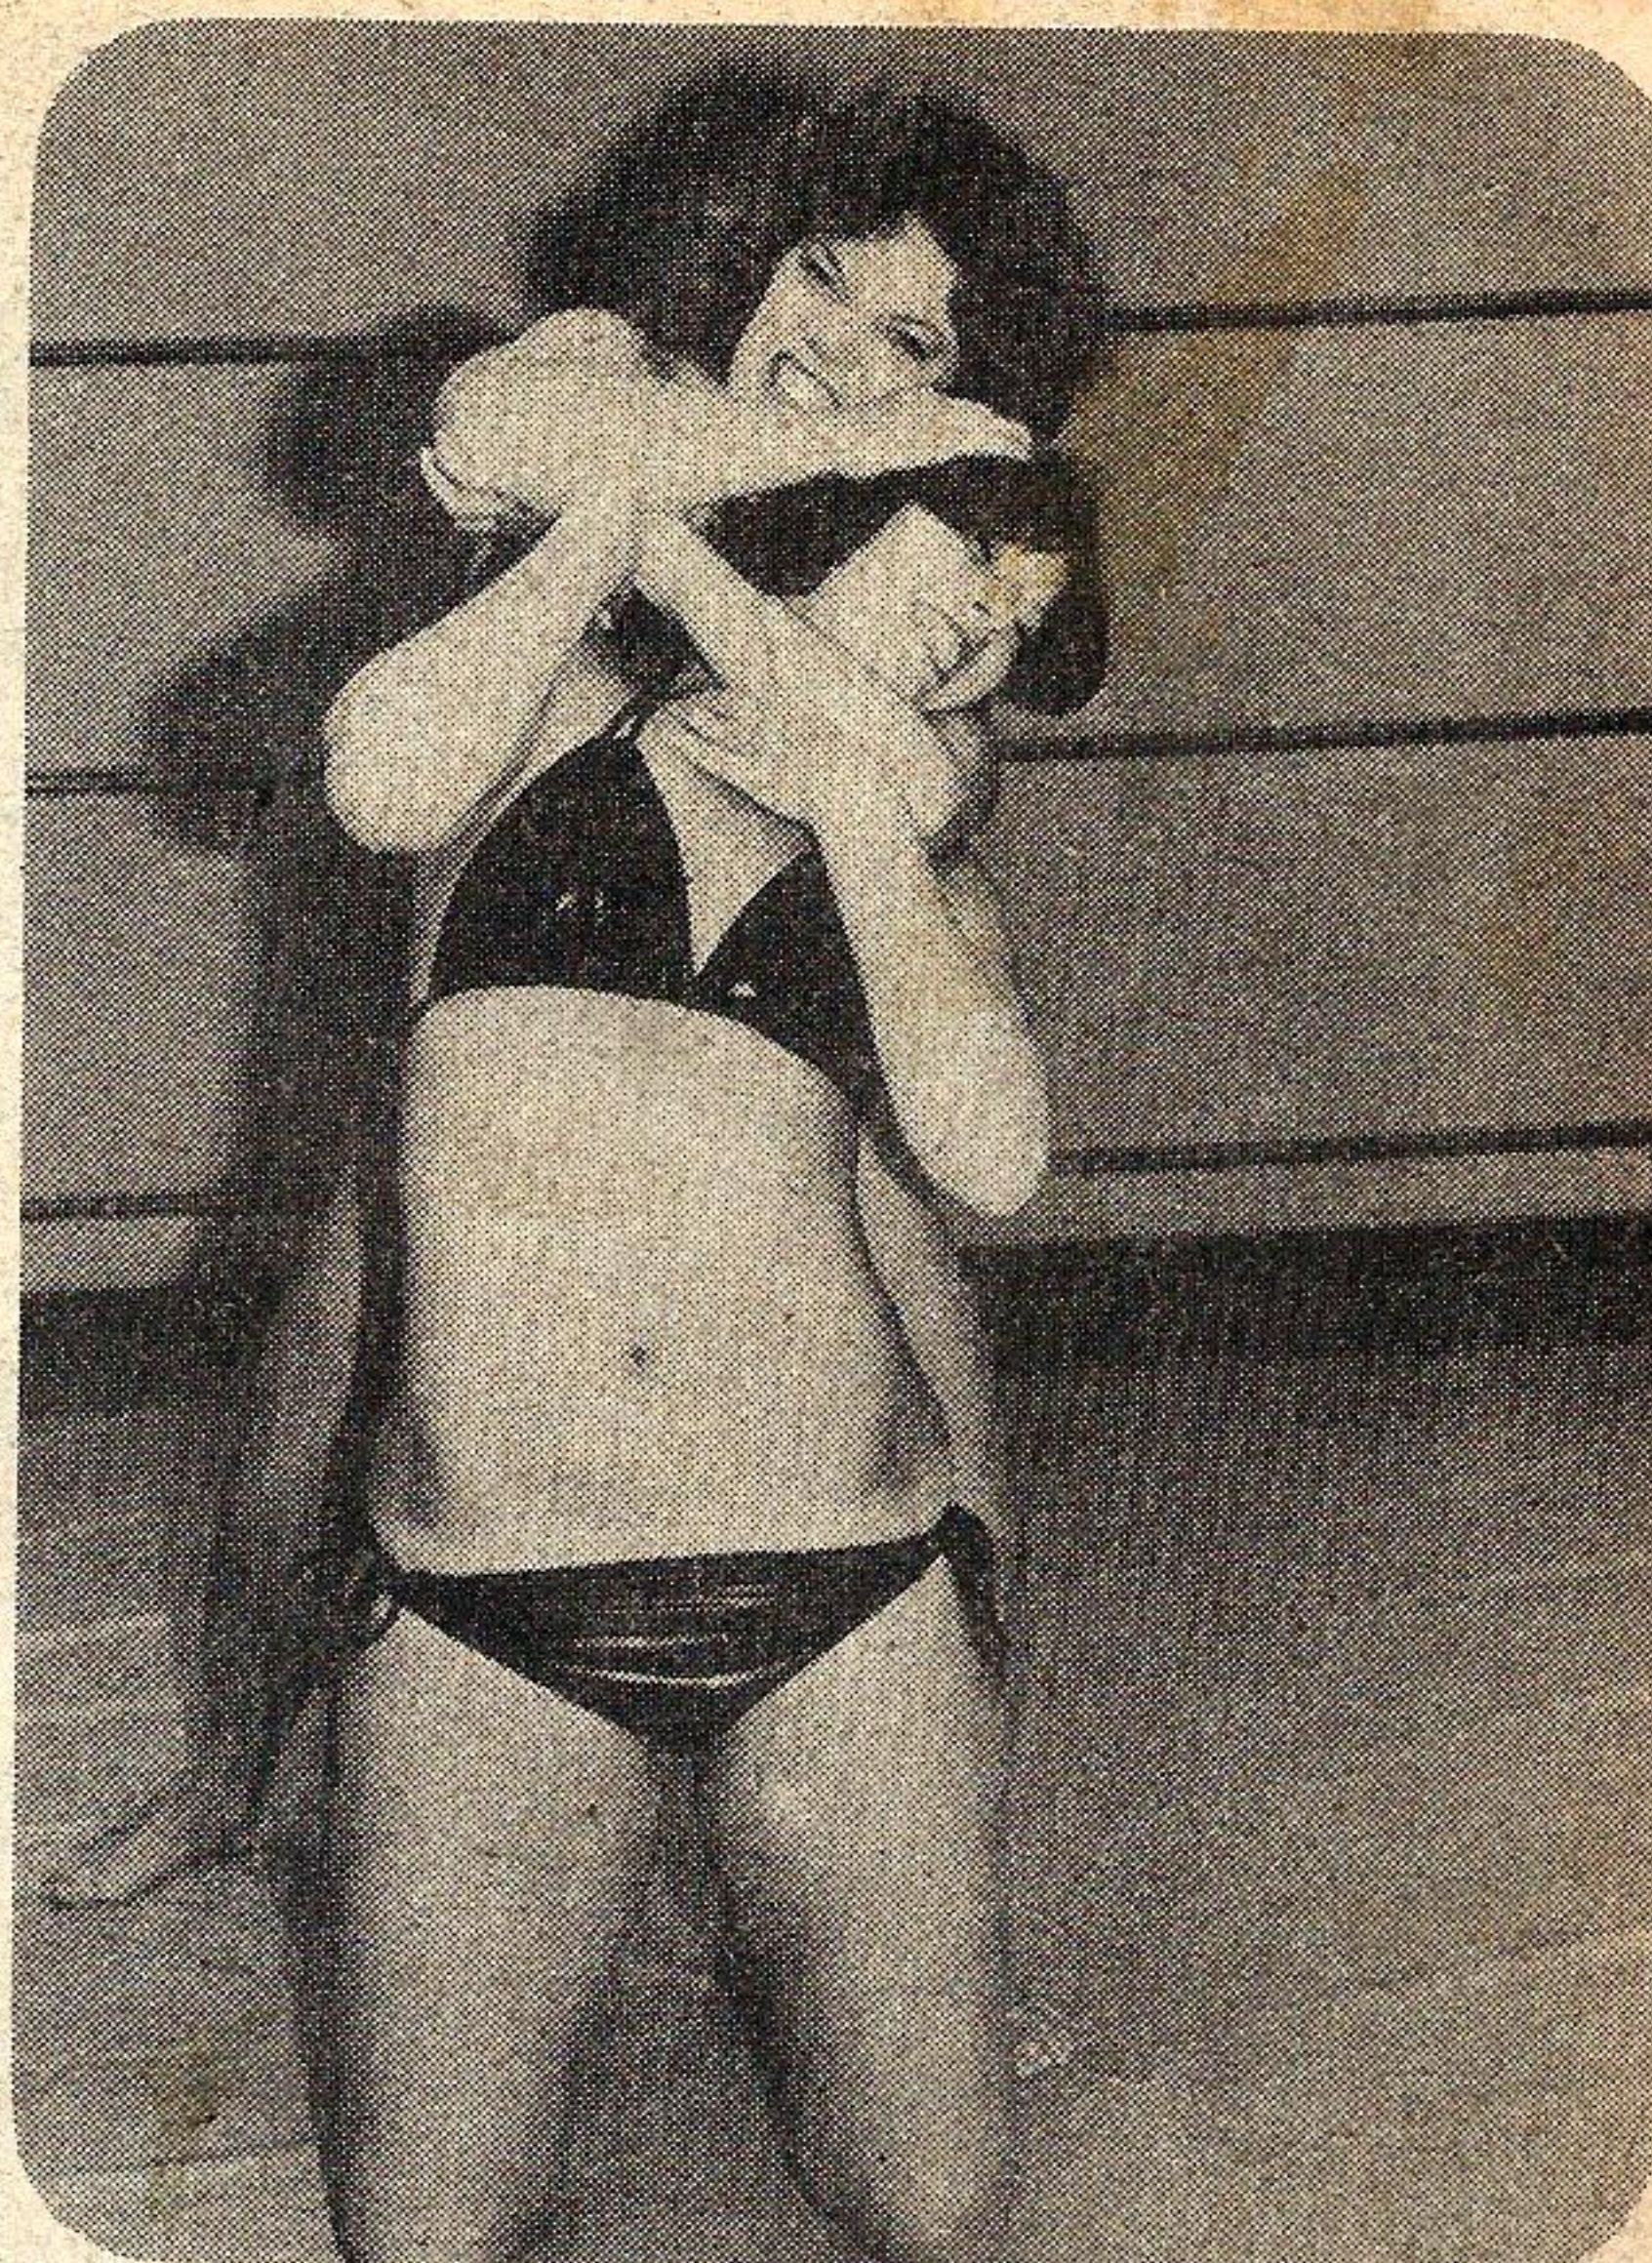

▲ Casey is on the receiving end of the punishment this time as she works out with Lynne Marie, a former amateur star who has decided to give the professional grappling game a whirl.

Casey demonstrates her strength here as she flips Lynne Marie while on one knee.

Even in a workout, Casey Carr is determined as she shows here while applying the pressure on Cheryl Day's head.

Back home after a hard day at the gym, Casey is about to head for the patio for a few minutes of relaxation.

Casey Carr is about to demonstrate her culinary skill as it's time for supper.

An excellent dancer, Casey Carr's interest in music also extends to the organ and here she practices one of her favorite tunes.

Casey shows off her charming smile as well as one of the mementos she has picked up during her travels in the wrestling world.

The camera catches Casey as she is about to check out the fireplace.

Before she retires for the night, Casey checks out her wardrobe for the next day.

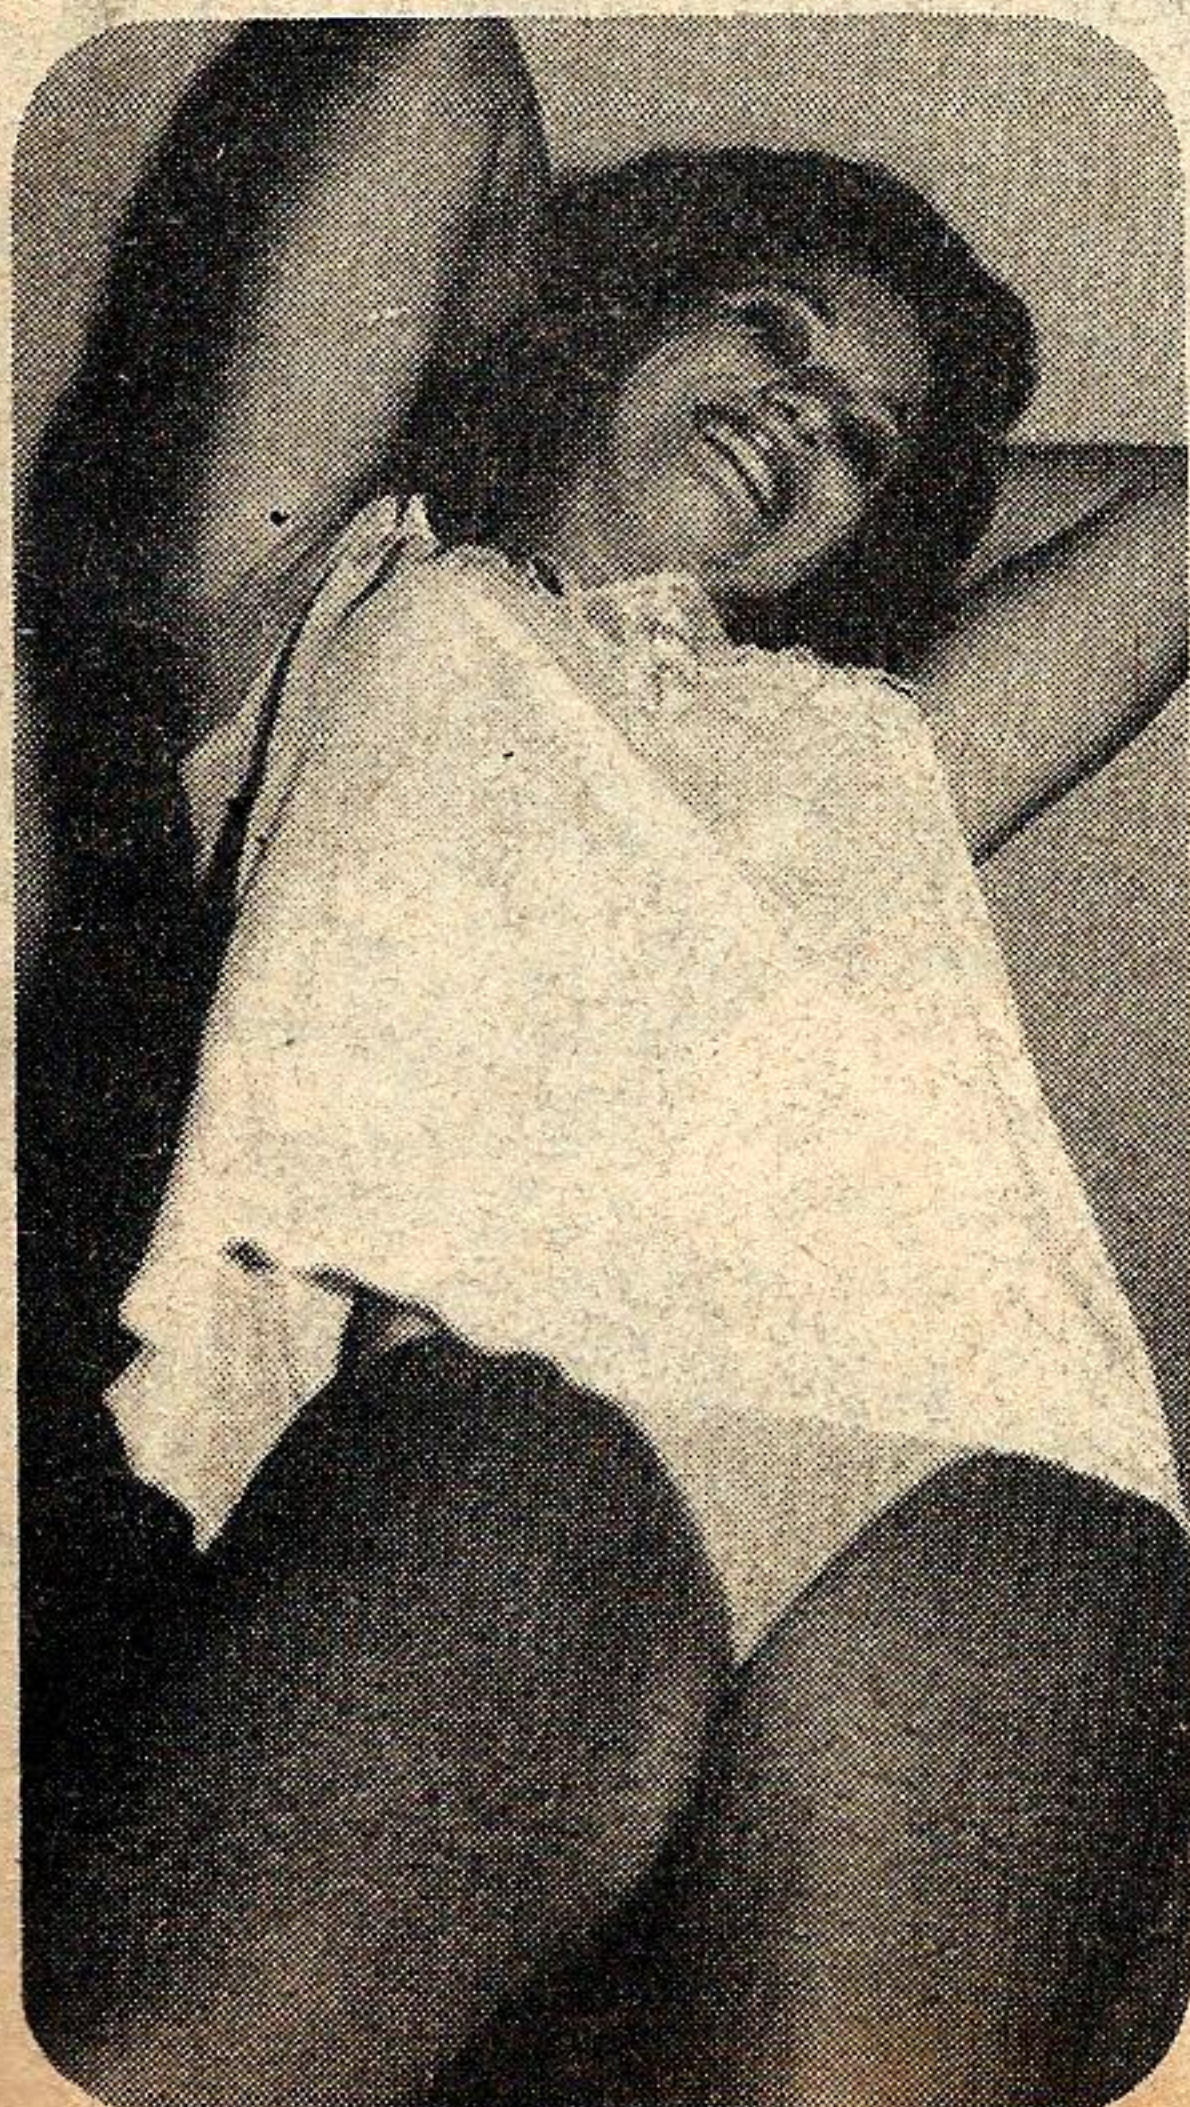

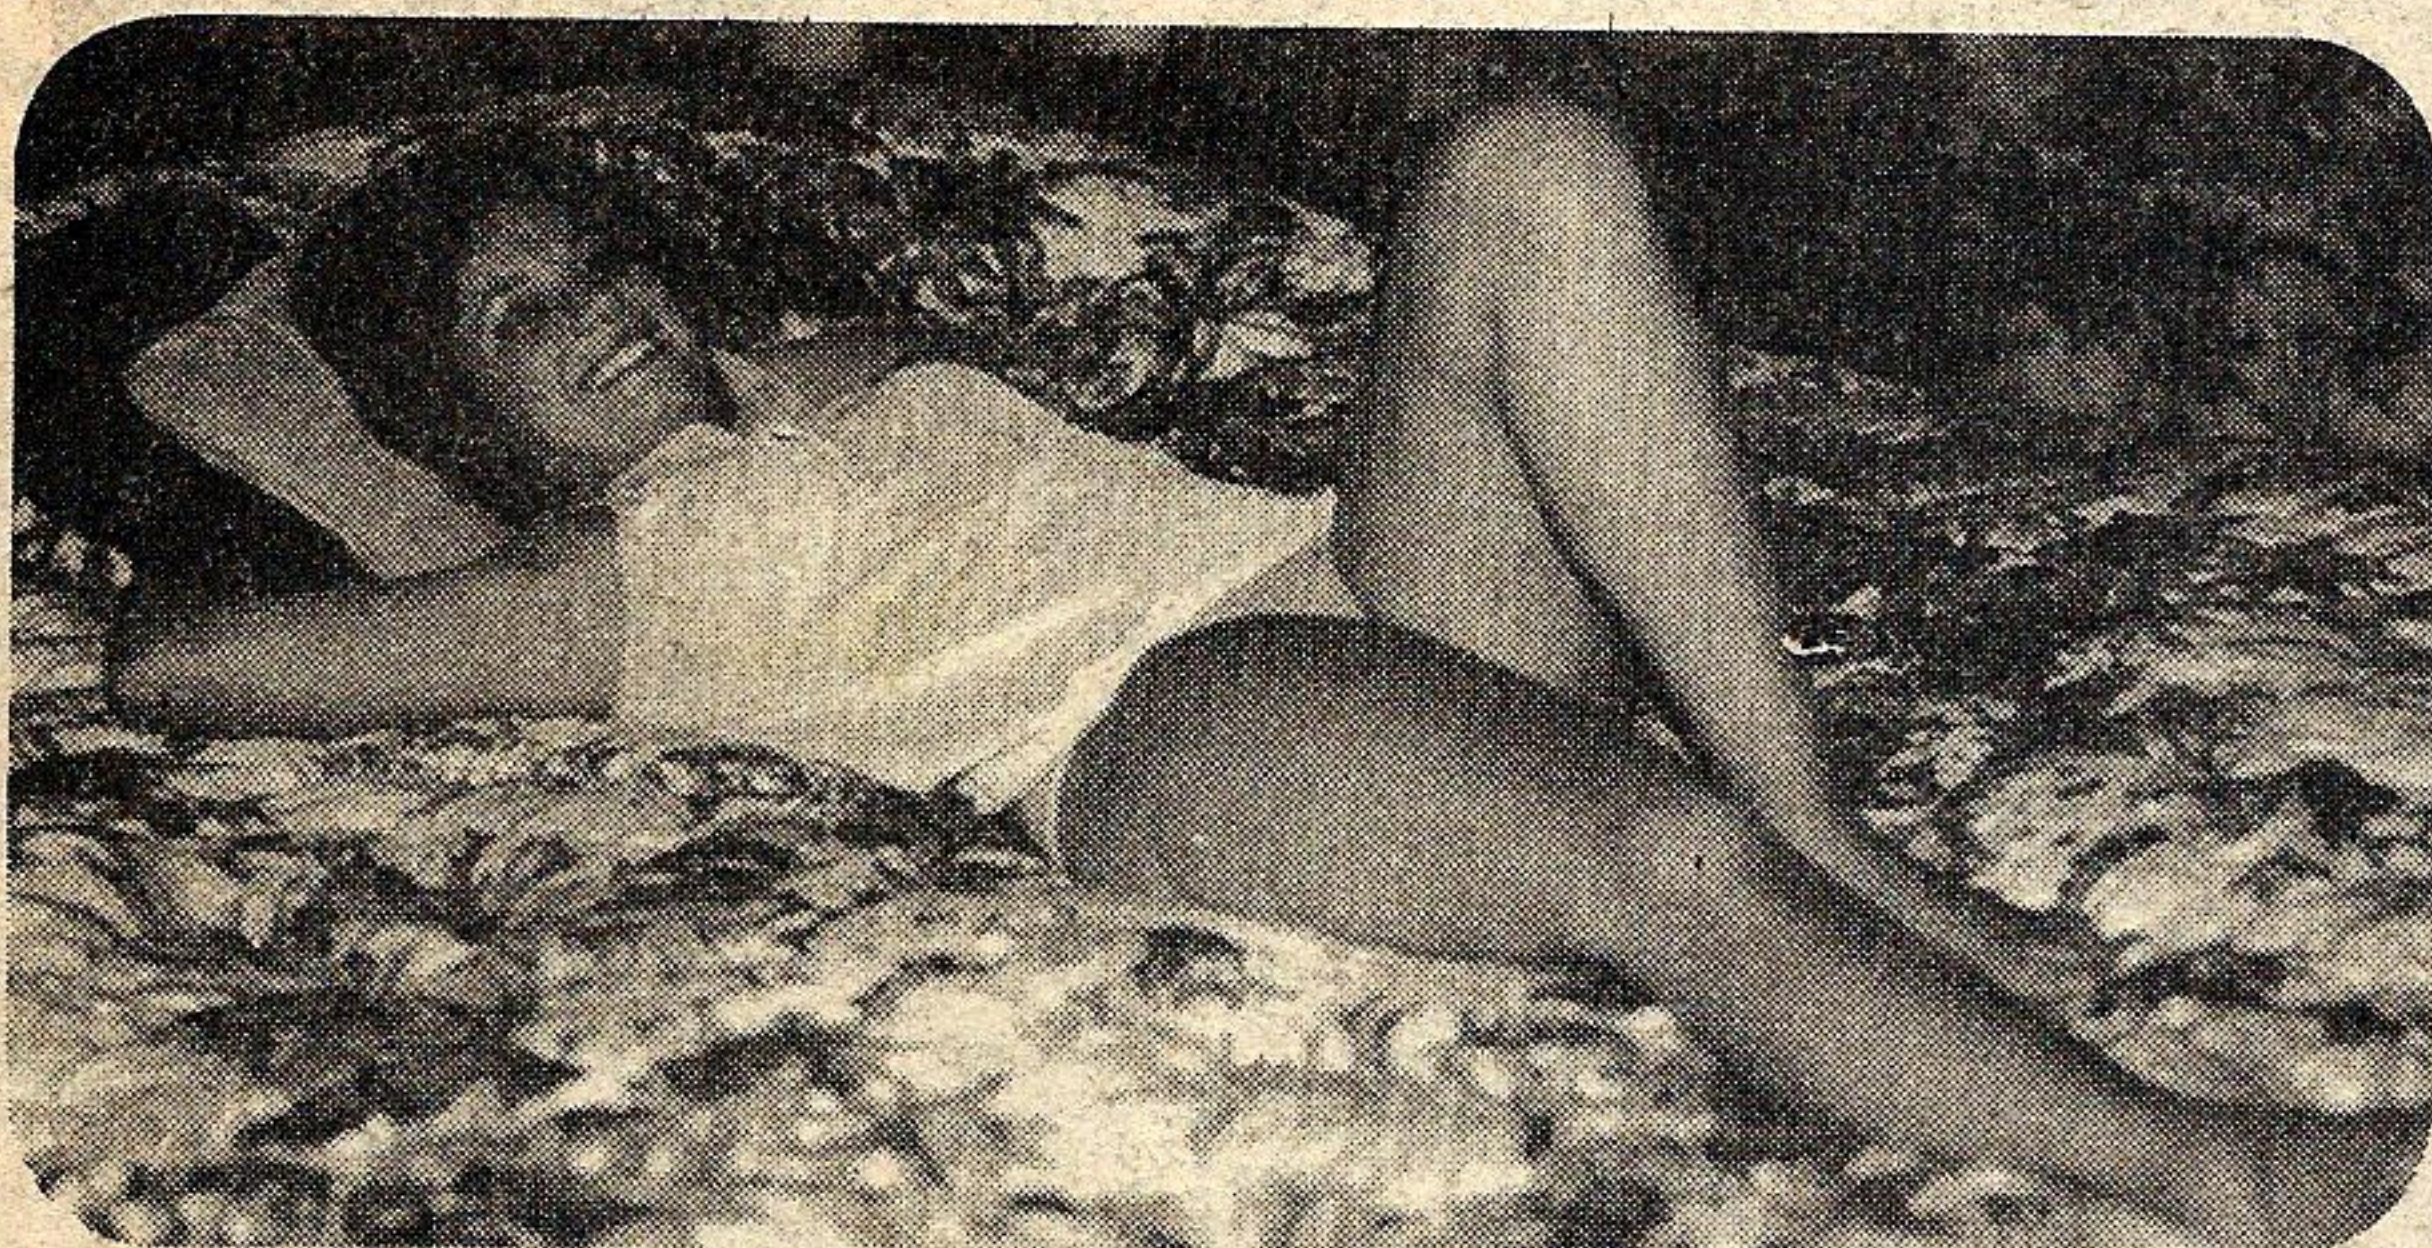

Casey relaxes on the sofa as she prepares to watch a little television before calling it a day.

A telephone call to her parents before calling it a day is part of Casey's regular routine.

Casey closes the drapes before retiring for a good night's sleep.

▲ Before retiring, Casey tests the softness of her bed and is obviously pleased with everything.

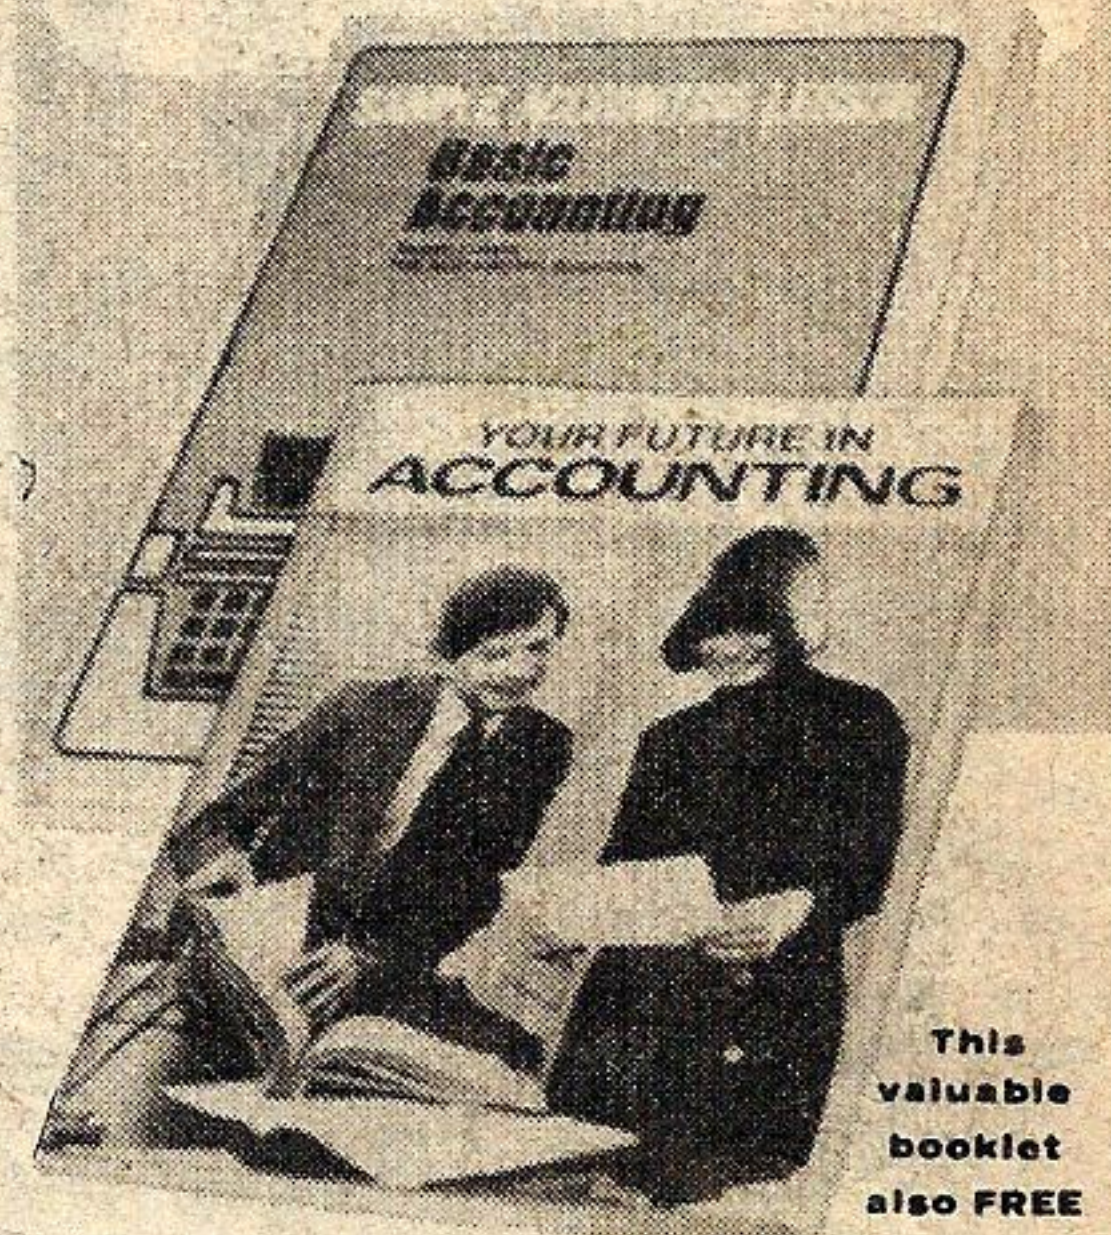

◀ Casey Carr strikes a sexy pose as she wishes all the readers of Wrestling Monthly a good night and pleasant dreams.

MIXED MATCHES BAD FOR BOTH SPORTS

by Reg Noble

Wrestler Antonio Inoki's victory over boxer Chuck Wepner in a so-called martial arts match should have come as no surprise, not even to Wepner's closest friends and relatives.

Inoki won the mixed match in the sixth round when he caught Wepner in a double leglock and forced the boxer to concede to the delight of the 13,500 fans who took in this tussle in Tokyo.

Wrestling fans who feel that their Boxer Chuck Wepner is helplessly trapped in a double leglock and wrestler Antonio Inoki is about to make him concede in the sixth round of their so-called martial arts match in Tokyo.

heroes can take the measure of any boxer might argue that Wepner came within 19 seconds of going the 15-round route with Muhammad Ali, whom many consider the greatest heavyweight boxer of all time. In fact, Wepner even decked mighty Muhammad in the ninth round — at least it was ruled a knockdown by referee Tony Perez, although replays showed that Wepner had stepped on Ali's foot and the champ had slipped from freeing his foot more than any punch Wepner threw.

Boxing buffs who don't put much stock in the ability of the pro grapplers might argue that Wepner has done nothing since the March 24, 1975, match with Ali and was never more than an average fighter.

After the Ali fight, Wepner posted three triumphs, all against second-rate opponents and former sparring partners — Bob Rooney twice and Tommy Sheehan. Wepner was stopped in the sixth round by Duane Bobick, dropped a 10-round decision to Mike Schutte and then was stopped in the 10th round by a club-fighting Canadian named Horst (Him) Geisler.

Wepner had also previously proven he had neither the skill nor the strength to contend with a wrestler when he was unceremoniously dumped out of the ring by Andre The Giant in the third round of a mixed match at New York's Shea Stadium back on June 26, 1976.

In fact, the only surprise of the Inoki-Wepner match occurred in the fourth round when the Bleeder from Bayonne, N.J., floored Inoki for an eight count with a flurry of lefts and rights to the Japanese wrestler's head.

Hopefully, mixed matches such as Ali-Inoki (who can ever forget their dreary 15-round draw in Tokyo back on June 26, 1976?), Inoki-Wepner and Andre The Giant-Wepner will become passé.

Such exhibitions do neither sport, boxing or wrestling, any good and it would be in the best interests of all concerned if these fistic farces were brought to an end.

Unfortunately, as long as there is money to be made, there will be participants and promoters who are more interested in their own greedy gains than the well-being of two of the world's oldest sports.

THE PLAYBOY AND THE SPOILER ARE BACK ON TOP

by G.J. Rowell

No matter whether you admire or hate him — you've got to admit that Playboy Gary Hart has a great deal of courage and guts. Hart, as you recall, had his back broken in the February, 1975, plane crash which claimed the life of fellow professional wrestler Bobby Shane. Today, the Chicago Playboy not only has returned to the rugged wrestling profession, but he and his masked charge, The Spoiler, are once again on top of the wrestling world.

It was during the early 1970s that Playboy Gary Hart first unleashed the fury of The Spoiler. They laid to waste numerous main-event wrestlers and in the end this manager-wrestler duo through the foulest, dirtiest tactics imaginable succeeded in winning/stealing the North American heavyweight championship belt. After several lucrative years together The Playboy and The Spoiler parted company.

Today, this dastardly duo is enjoying a highly rewarding reunion. As soon as they reunited, The Spoiler, with the aid of some questionable tactics by his Playboy manager, was able to defeat fellow masked man Mr. Wrestling II for the Georgia State heavyweight championship.

With the Georgia State title securely in tow, Playboy Gary Hart pushed for and received a signed contract for his Spoiler to meet the then reigning National Wrestling Alliance heavyweight champion Jack Brisco. During that classic match the fans saw Hart's Spoiler come extremely close to defeating the champion. This turned out to be Brisco's last successful NWA title defense.

Because of the fine showing that his masked man had made against Jack Brisco, Playboy Gary Hart demanded The Spoiler be given a shot at the new NWA champion Terry Funk. Thus, Hart's number one-rated contender was given another opportunity to wrestle for the world crown.

History repeated itself as Hart and The Spoiler came within inches of upsetting Terry Funk for the precious belt. However, their cheating was to no avail as Texan Terry Funk walked out of the ring with his championship still intact.

Still riding high as the number one challengers and undaunted by their losses to Brisco and Funk, the colorful and controversial Playboy Gary Hart and The Spoiler painstakingly plotted out strategy designed to send Terry Funk crashing down in certain defeat. Before they could realize their dream however, fate stepped in and Texan Terry Funk lost his coveted title to a former NWA champion Harley Race.

The Playboy and The Spoiler consider the NWA Championship changing hands a minor setback. As Playboy Gary Hart puts it, "We have been watching and reviewing every move made by the new NWA champion. In the heat of battle, Harley Race makes mistakes just like every other wrestler. We have perfected moves designed to capitalize upon these mistakes and it is just a matter of time before my magnificent Spoiler is wearing the NWA heavy-weight championship belt which rightfully belongs to him."

Playboy Gary Hart has his shoe off, ready to come to the rescue of The Spoiler.

100% GENUINE NATURAL DIAMONDS

1/4 to 3 CARAT FROM ONLY $5.95!

These beautiful diamonds are the real thing. Not artificial or synthetic. Each diamond comes with a signed and notarized legal certificate guaranteeing that it is a 100% GENUINE NATURAL DIAMOND.

The average diamond in an engagement ring is 1/2 carat and normally sells in jewelry stores for $500 to $1,000. A 3 carat diamond normally sells for $5,000 to $10,000. HERE ARE OUR FANTASTICALLY LOW PRICES: 1/4 carat only $5.95! 1/2 carat only $9.95! 1 carat only $17.95! 3 carat only $39.95!!

HOW CAN WE DO IT? We make huge diamond purchases. Then, rather than cutting and polishing these diamonds, we leave them in their pure natural form—unprocessed. These are 100% PURE diamond nuggets cut to beautiful shapes by Mother Nature alone. We purchase perhaps 20,000 times as many unprocessed diamonds as an average jeweler, who rarely carries them in stock. So do not be surprised when your jeweler says that he can special order an unprocessed diamond of comparable appearance but costing 20, 30, or 40 times our prices!! We are confident that you will definitely not pay less for diamonds of equivalent quality and appearance! Finally, we sell to you by direct mail without a series of middlemen, and our overhead and profit margin are rock-bottom low. You reap the benefits!

Our wild unprocessed diamonds are impressive and extremely stylish. We pay extra for our diamonds because they are carefully selected for quality and stylish appeal. Only the MOST SPECTACULAR DIAMONDS are accepted. They go beautifully on pendants, necklaces, earrings, tieclasp, cuff links, bracelets, rings, etc. They are EXQUISITE JEWELS for yourself, ELEGANT and ORIGINAL GIFTS for loved ones, GREAT CONVERSATION PIECES, AND SUPERB INVESTMENTS. Dazzling on both women and men.

A diamond is the most PRECIOUS, the HARDEST, and said to be the LUCKIEST of all gems. It is the most accepted symbol of love in the world. It is a perfect way to show a loved one how much you care.

A diamond is forever, but this offer is not! With the threatening civil war in southern Africa and the exhaustion of most world diamond mine reserves, diamond prices are skyrocketing, and unprocessed diamond prices are soaring the fastest. Our limited stock of the rare 3 carat diamond is a phenomenal buy. The bigger the diamond, the more spectacular its appearance and the greater its investment value. This is truly the BEST INVESTMENT BUY ANYWHERE! We will not be undersold!! If you want these diamonds at these rock-bottom low prices, send immediately. 15-DAY UNCONDITIONAL MONEY BACK GUARANTY OF COMPLETE SATISFACTION. YOU TAKE NO RISK AT ALL!

THE BRITISH MAT SCENE

by Evan R. Treharne

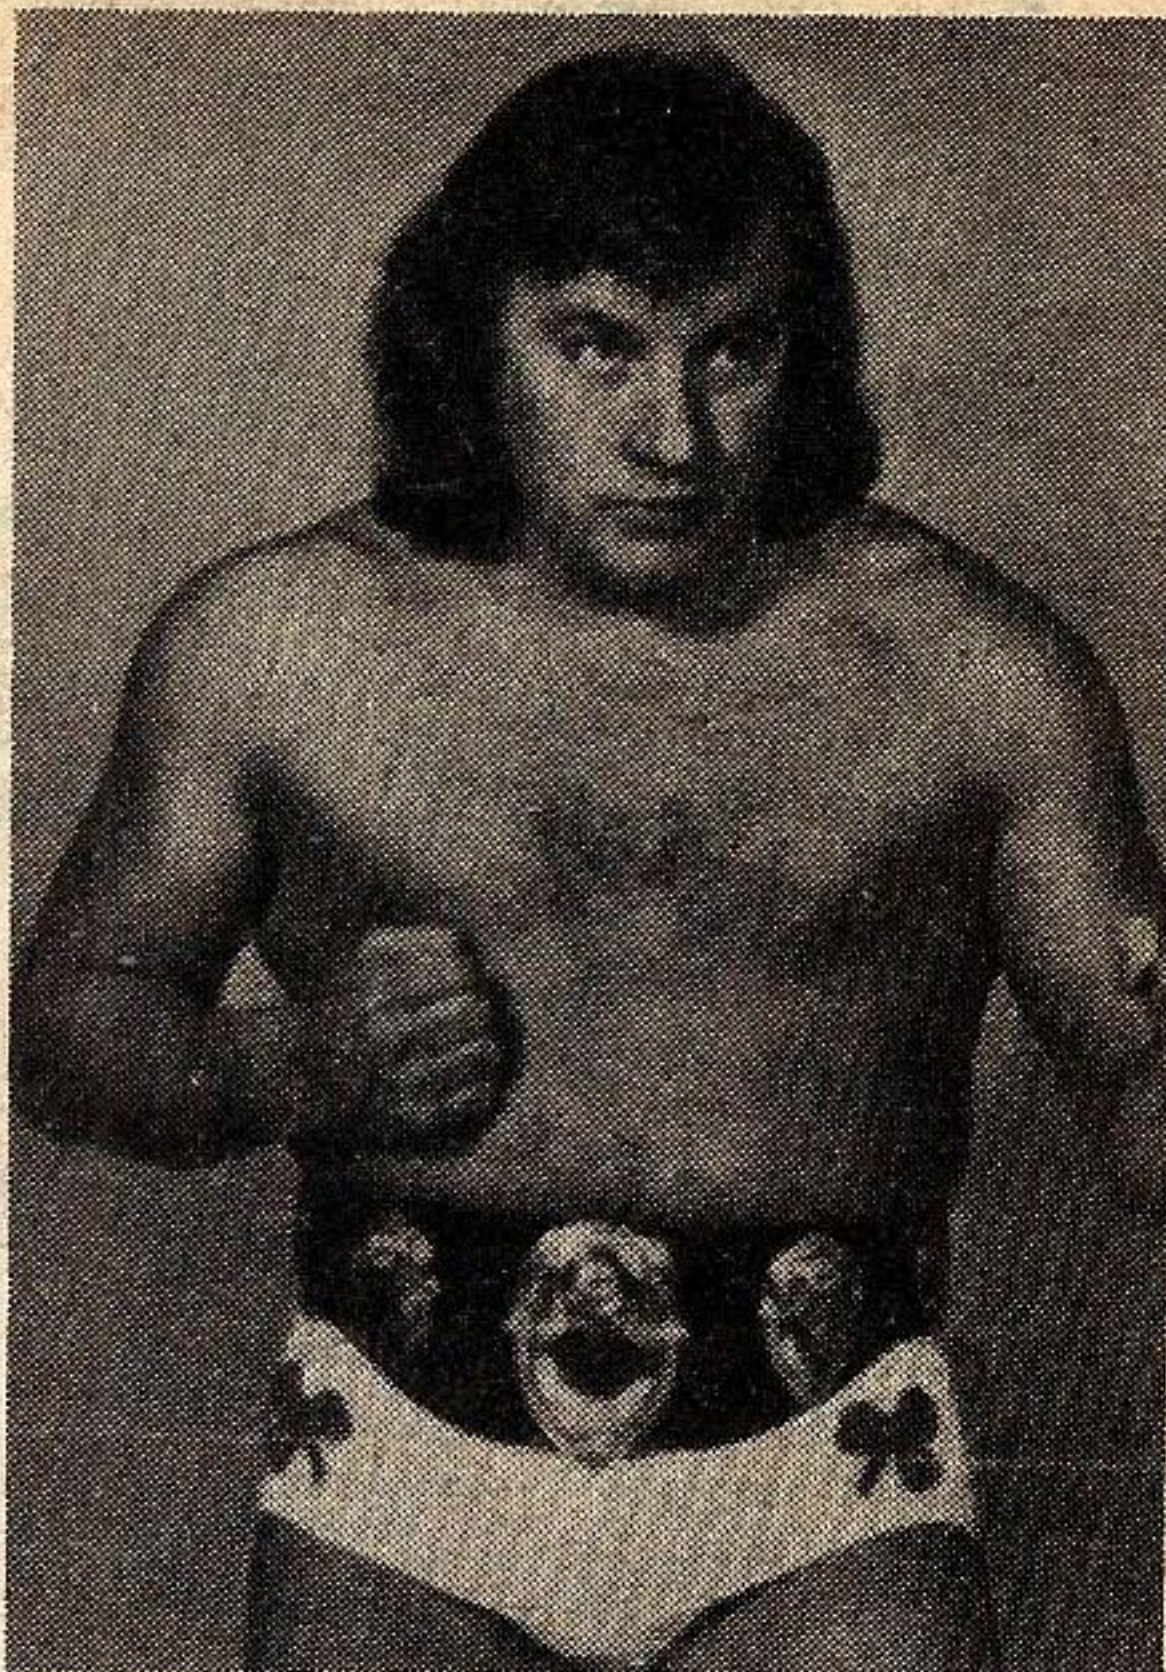

Jack (Flash) Shirlow, the good-looking Irish light-heavyweight champion, is one of the finest light-heavyweights in Europe. He won the Irish title in November, 1970, when he defeated Mick Gallagher of Derby, in a very exciting contest at Lisburn. Since then he has defended the title several times against former champion Gallagher, and all the other leading contenders, and looks likely to hold the title for some time.

Apart from extensive tours of Great Britain, Jack has also made very successful trips to Germany, Austria, and Spain, where he gained the decision over many men far heavier than himself. He has just returned from Australia and Tasmania, and hopes to return to those countries in the near future. He is also looking forward to returning to Germany to meet Josef Molnar, the European light-heavyweight champion, in a championship contest.

Jack would also like to travel to the U.S.A., preferably as European champion, to challenge for the world light-heavyweight title, currently held by his fellow countryman Pat Barrett.

Scotland has for years produced many of the finest wrestlers, and Len Ironside is no exception.

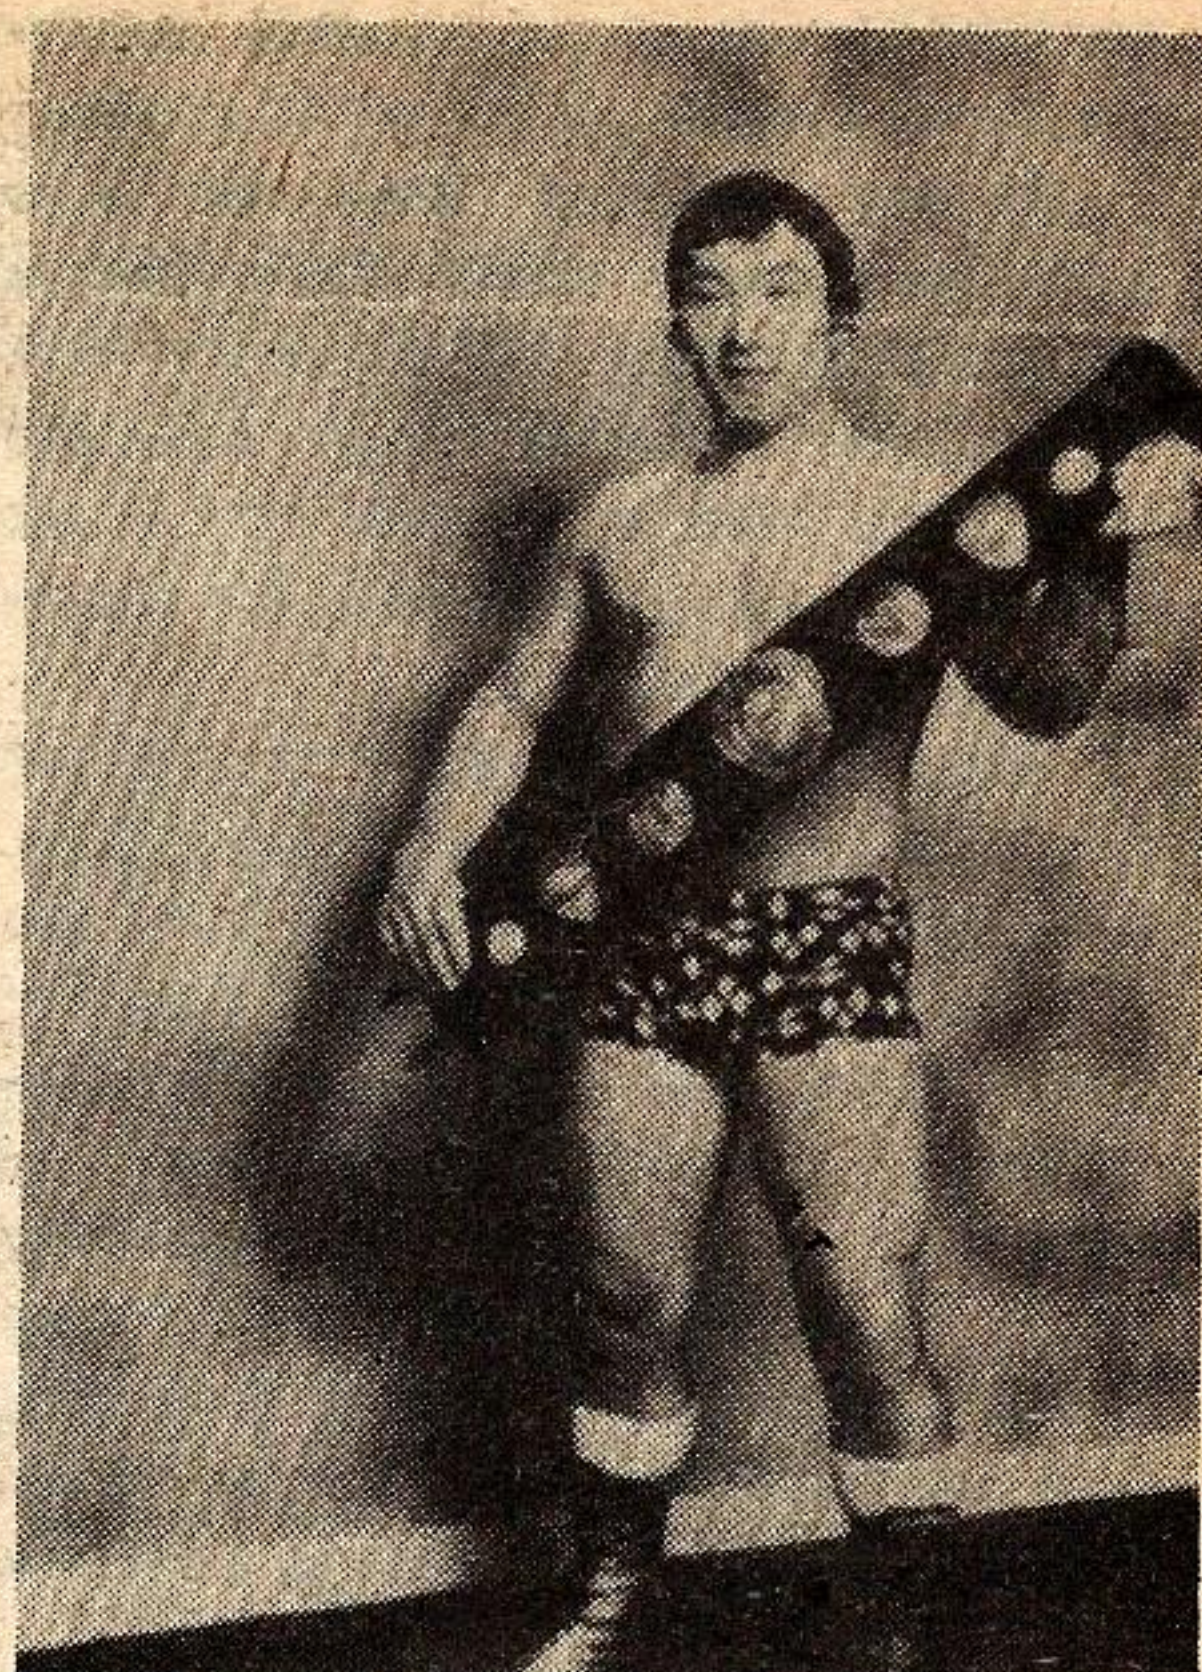

Learning the sport as an amateur for two years, Len went on to get pro experience from George Kidd and Max Crabtree. Training with weights four nights per week he has added a great deal of strength to his 5-foot-4 frame and 154 pounds of fighting fitness.

Len Ironside has wrestled in all the major halls in Scotland, and many in the north of England too. He has often taken on welterweights whenever required, and he says his toughest opponent is none other than Jim Breaks. In fact Len wants a fight to the finish whenever he can get match-

His favorite wrestlers are George Kidd, Andy Robin, Kendo Nagasaki and Clay Thompson.

Len drives his Allegro sports car to most of his matches, and has a fan club handled by A.S. Knox of Glasgow.

JOEY ROSSI

FOLLOWING HIS FATHER'S FOOTSTEPS

by Vickie Goddard

An irate Joey Rossi makes the villainous Don Greene pay for his evil deeds as he chokes the bearded bad guy.

Joey Rossi holds their opponent while his tag-team partner Don Anderson hammers away at the helpless foe.

Four years ago, a young athlete by the name of Joey Rossi entered the ring and began his career in professional wrestling. Since that night long ago, in Nashville, Tenn., Joey has been climbing in the ranks. He has proven his wrestling ability and is thus rewarded with a rising number of fans.

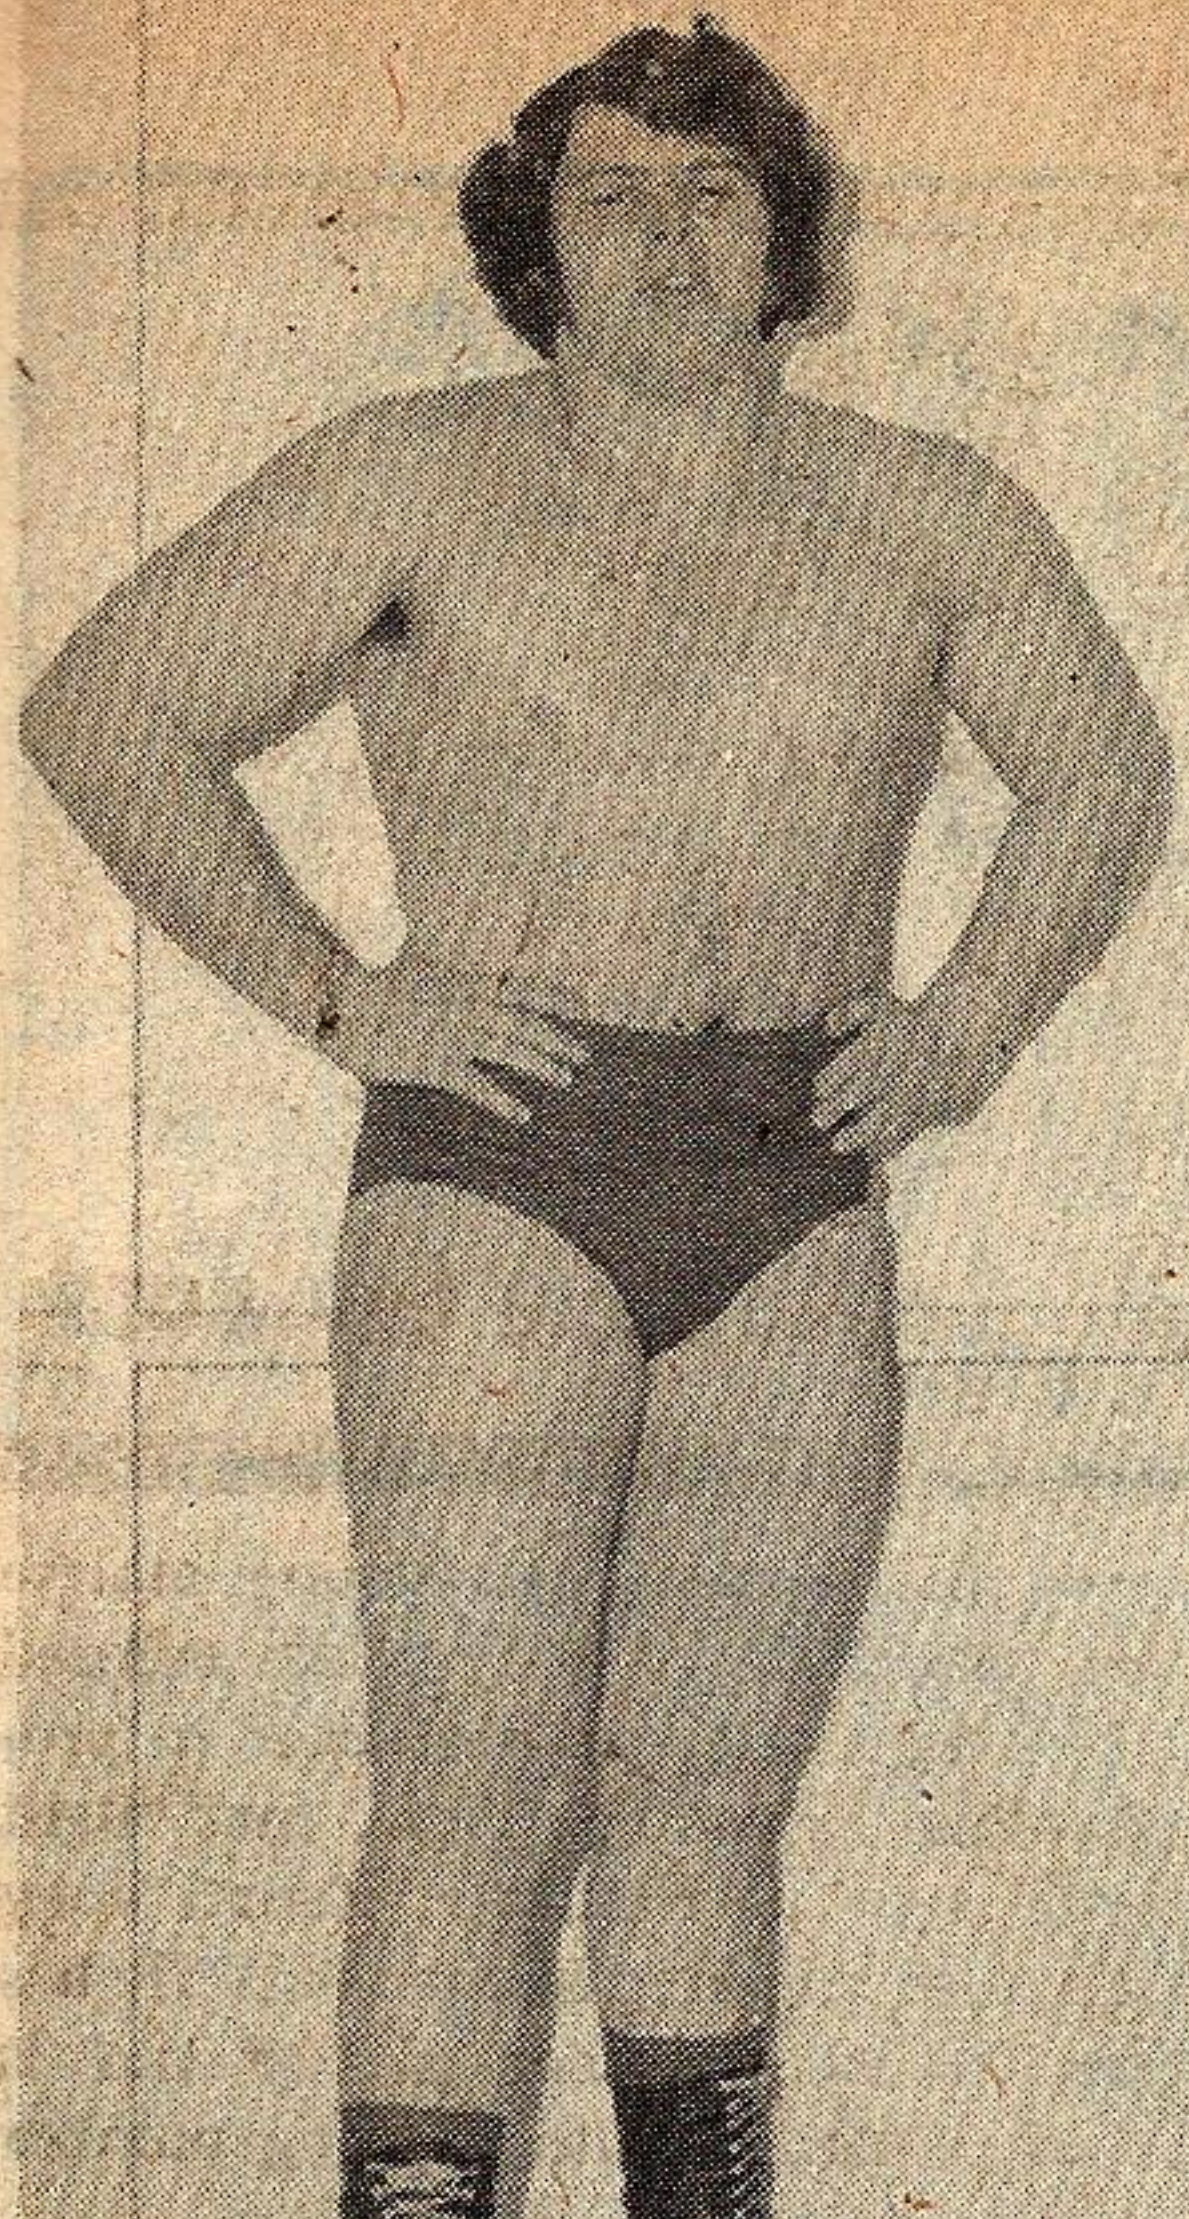

Joey's career, though now at its peak, has not always been the easiest road to travel. Instead, it was filled with many a struggling bout, the desire to succeed, and most of all, a challenge. This challenge is what makes him the wrestler he is today.

When Joey was in high school, he had no desire to ever wrestle. After much prodding, his father, Len Rossi, was able to persuade him to be on the wrestling team. Tipping the scales at 190 pounds and with a good amount of confidence, Joey agreed to enter a match with his coach. As a result, Joey left the ring badly battered and bleeding. He had learned from a 140-pound coach, what this brutal sport was really all about.

This was the challenge which led the determined young man into four years of extensive training. And now, due to his father's influence and reassurance, Joey's hand has been raised in victory over many opponents.

While continuing his education at Middle Tennessee State University, the level-headed grappler earned many awards as proof of his success. In the amateur ranks, Joey was the Nashville District No. 2 State Champion. As he participated in this extreme form of competition, Joey began to learn many new things about life, and people.

Creating his own philosophy about the sport, he encourages young amateurs to never give up. "Keep going, hold your head high, and take pride in yourself, whether you win or lose," says Joey. This is just one of many ideas which began to mold Rossi's grappling career.

(Photos by Scott Teal)

Joey Rossi has one major goal, to win the Southern junior heavyweight title that his father Len held with such great distinction.

Throughout the Southeast and Midwest, Joey Rossi has displayed his efficient wrestling ability. He has held the Mid-America tag-team title and the Southern junior heavyweight tag-team title with Bearcat Brown.

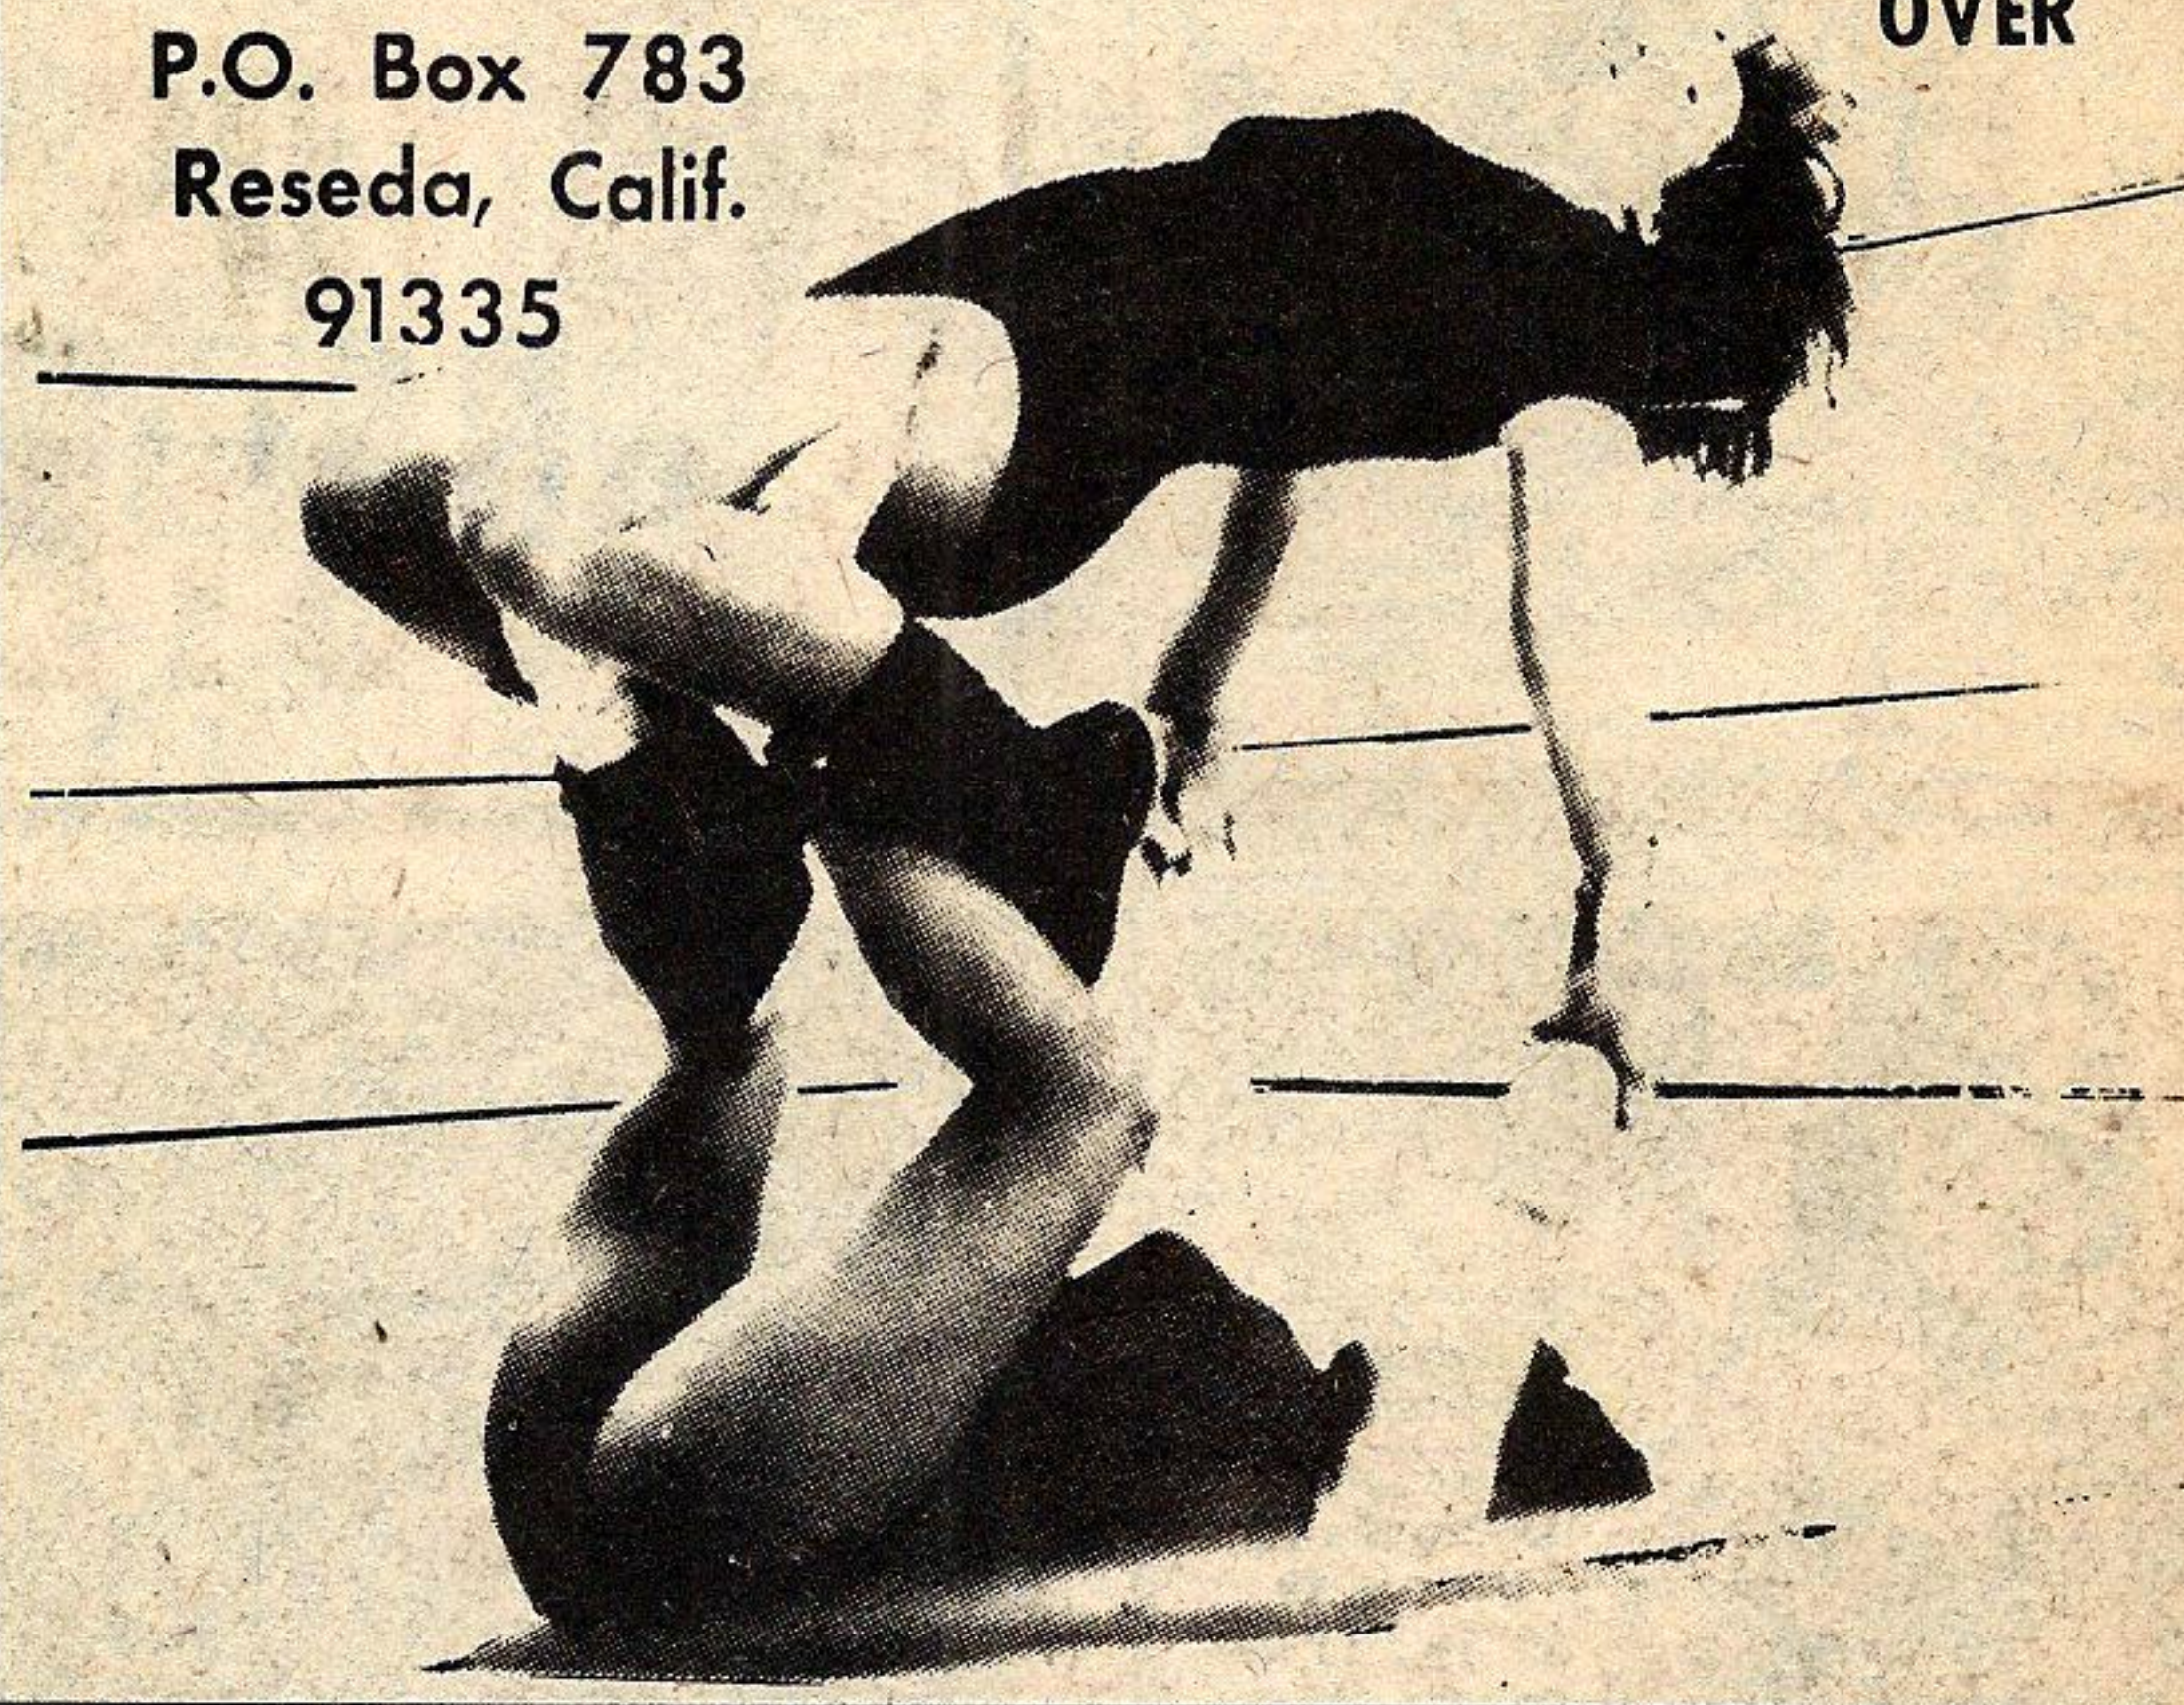

Rossi has many goals ahead, but his major goal is one which involves not only himself. He would one day like to be the Southern junior heavyweight champion. This title was held by Len Rossi, who was undefeated for seven years until he was sidelined by an automobile accident which forced him to retire.

As you can see from Joey's past, he works hard to get what he wants, and I wouldn't be surprised if he does gain his highest desire. It only seems right that he should follow in his father's path, for it is the way which has led him to his present success, enabling him to reach that which he could not have reached alone.

VALOTTA'S VIEWS of the GRAPPLING GAME

by Tony Valotta

Ken Patera, who is probably the strongest man in wrestling, has Peter Maivia in pain as he works on a nerve hold.

The grappling game has been blessed with many fine Indian wrestlers, such as Chief Dan Red Cloud.

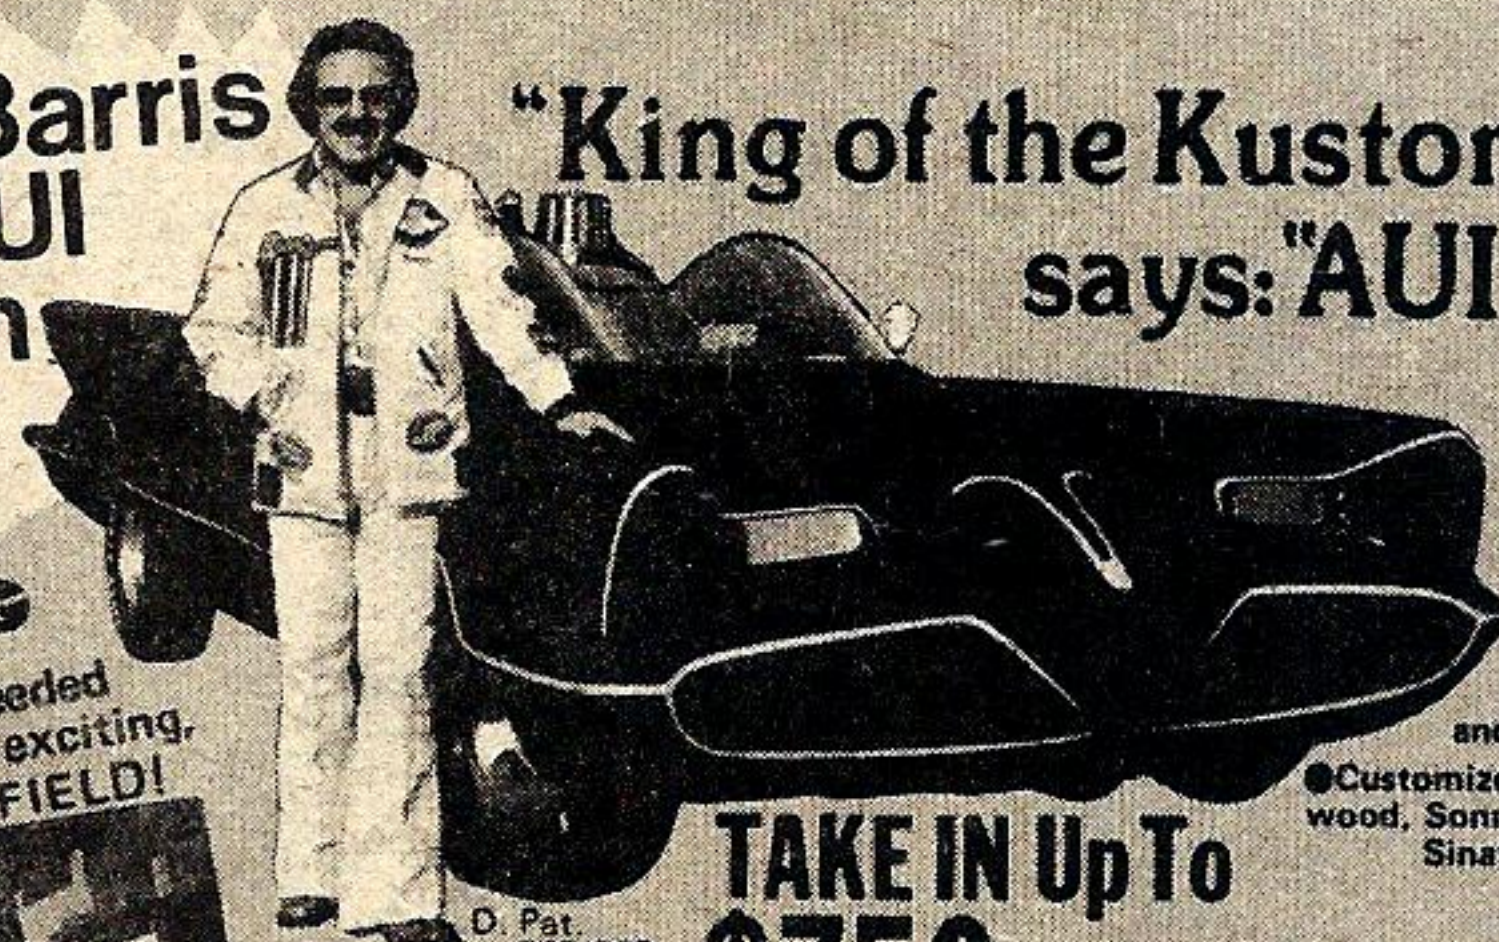

The ever-popular Domenic DeNucci has the upper hand on Frank Holtz as he works on an armbar.

World Wide Wrestling Federation champion Billy (Superstar) Graham also ranks highly among the grappling game's vilest villains.

Although they have enjoyed success since teaming up as a tag-team combo, Ivan Koloff and Pat Patterson were once fierce ring rivals. Here, Koloff has Patterson in a bear hug.

ORDON'S GRAPPLIN' FEM'S

The Lone Ranger of wrestling, Mr. Wrestling No. 1 reels into the ropes after being on the receiving end of a karate chop from Kim Duk. However, Mr. Wrestling rebounded to win the match.

Young Ricky Steamboat leaves the ring to the plaudits of his many fans. The most popular performer in the Mid-Atlantic region recently defeated Ric Flair to win the United States championship.

A newcomer to the wrestling wars who is fast making a name for himself is Stonewall Jackson of Virginia, who is shown applying the pressure of a headlock on Buzz Sawyer.

ORDON'S GRAPPLIN' ITEMS

Hard work is one of the secrets of success in the grappling game and Don Fargo spends many hours lifting weights to keep in fighting trim.

DO WOMEN WRESTLERS MAKE GOOD HOMEMAKERS?

by Jess Hernandez

Laura Del Rio has been able to combine her wrestling career with raising a family.

What is it like to have a glamorous, sexy wrestler like Laura Del Rio for a mother?

Do female wrestlers make good mothers and good housekeepers?

It's tough to envision a muscular, hell-bent grappler like beautiful Laura Del Rio as a domesticated homemaker, preparing healthy meals and bird-dogging her two beautiful daughters to school. Not to mention Laura's fond affection for her husband Kel Chandler. But women wrestlers aren't really that much different from the average working wife who works in an office or drives a truck for a livelihood.

Valerie and Margie, aged 14 and 10 respectively — are the best judges of what kind of mother sultry and vivacious Laura Del Rio is. "My mother takes good care of us when she's at home. She travels a lot to Japan because the demand for her is so great," replied pixie Valerie. Valerie and Margie are avid sports fans and enjoy the sport tremendously. "My mother hasn't tried to influence us in becoming wrestlers, but, although I'm only 14, who knows? I'm not too sure what I want to do, but I may go to college. My parents want me to get a good education," said pretty Valerie.

The youngest of the two sisters, Margie, 10, prefers not to talk about a career. "My mom is a good mother and she watches her diet closely.

She's pretty strict with us at times but once in a while, she'll take us along on a trip to Japan or Australia if it doesn't interfere with our education."

Forget the impression that women who create havoc and mayhem inside the wrestling arena are sadistic and cruel. They're just as gentle sweet and lovable at home as other love-struck mothers.

Lita Morez and Juanita De Hoyas are a pair of Latin beauties who travel the Orient Express with Laura. "The three of us were in Japan and we agree that it is the best place to make money. If I didn't have my two children and husband to look after, I'd spend my time here in Japan and get rich. Women wrestlers in Japan, the good ones, make about $20,000 to $25,000 a year. Which is about what some baseball players in the States make," said Laura.

Lovely Laura Del Rio isn't just a good mother and wrestler but she expects the women grapplers to challenge the men in the financial market. "Main eventers like Jumbo Miyamoto, Peggy Kuroda and Mari Akagi make close to $3,300 a month. Even the new pupils are making good money. So a woman wrestler in Japan can make a very good living, considering that the starting salaries for university students in business is 70,000 yen. At the moment, wrestling is close to being the No. 1 sport in Japan," Laura said.

Not only is pretty Laura handy in figures (she'd make a lovely model) but her beauty is accentuated by her brain power.

So, forget the idea that women grapplers aren't domesticated, that they can't cook or wash dishes. According to their children they make grand mothers and are plenty of fun. Although you wouldn't think so after watching them obliterate an opponent to a purplish pulp.

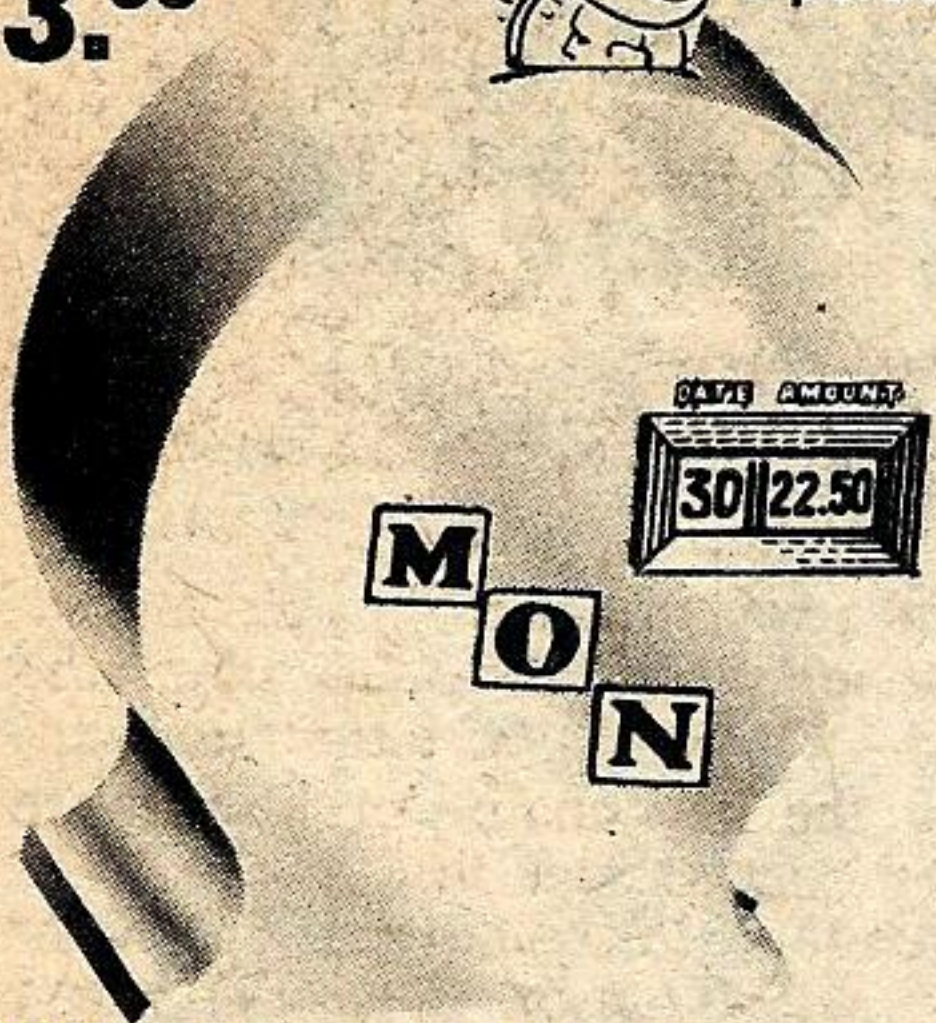

Let's face it, women are terrific in anything they put their minds to. The image they have created as rough-and-tough cookies is a fallacy. The sweethearts of the grunt-and-groan derby make excellent housewives and good mothers.

Thank heaven for little girls. Eat your hearts out, Bruno Sammartino and Superstar Billy Graham, you hairy apes!

A trip down memory lane

JOE BONOMO THE HERCULEAN MAT ADONIS

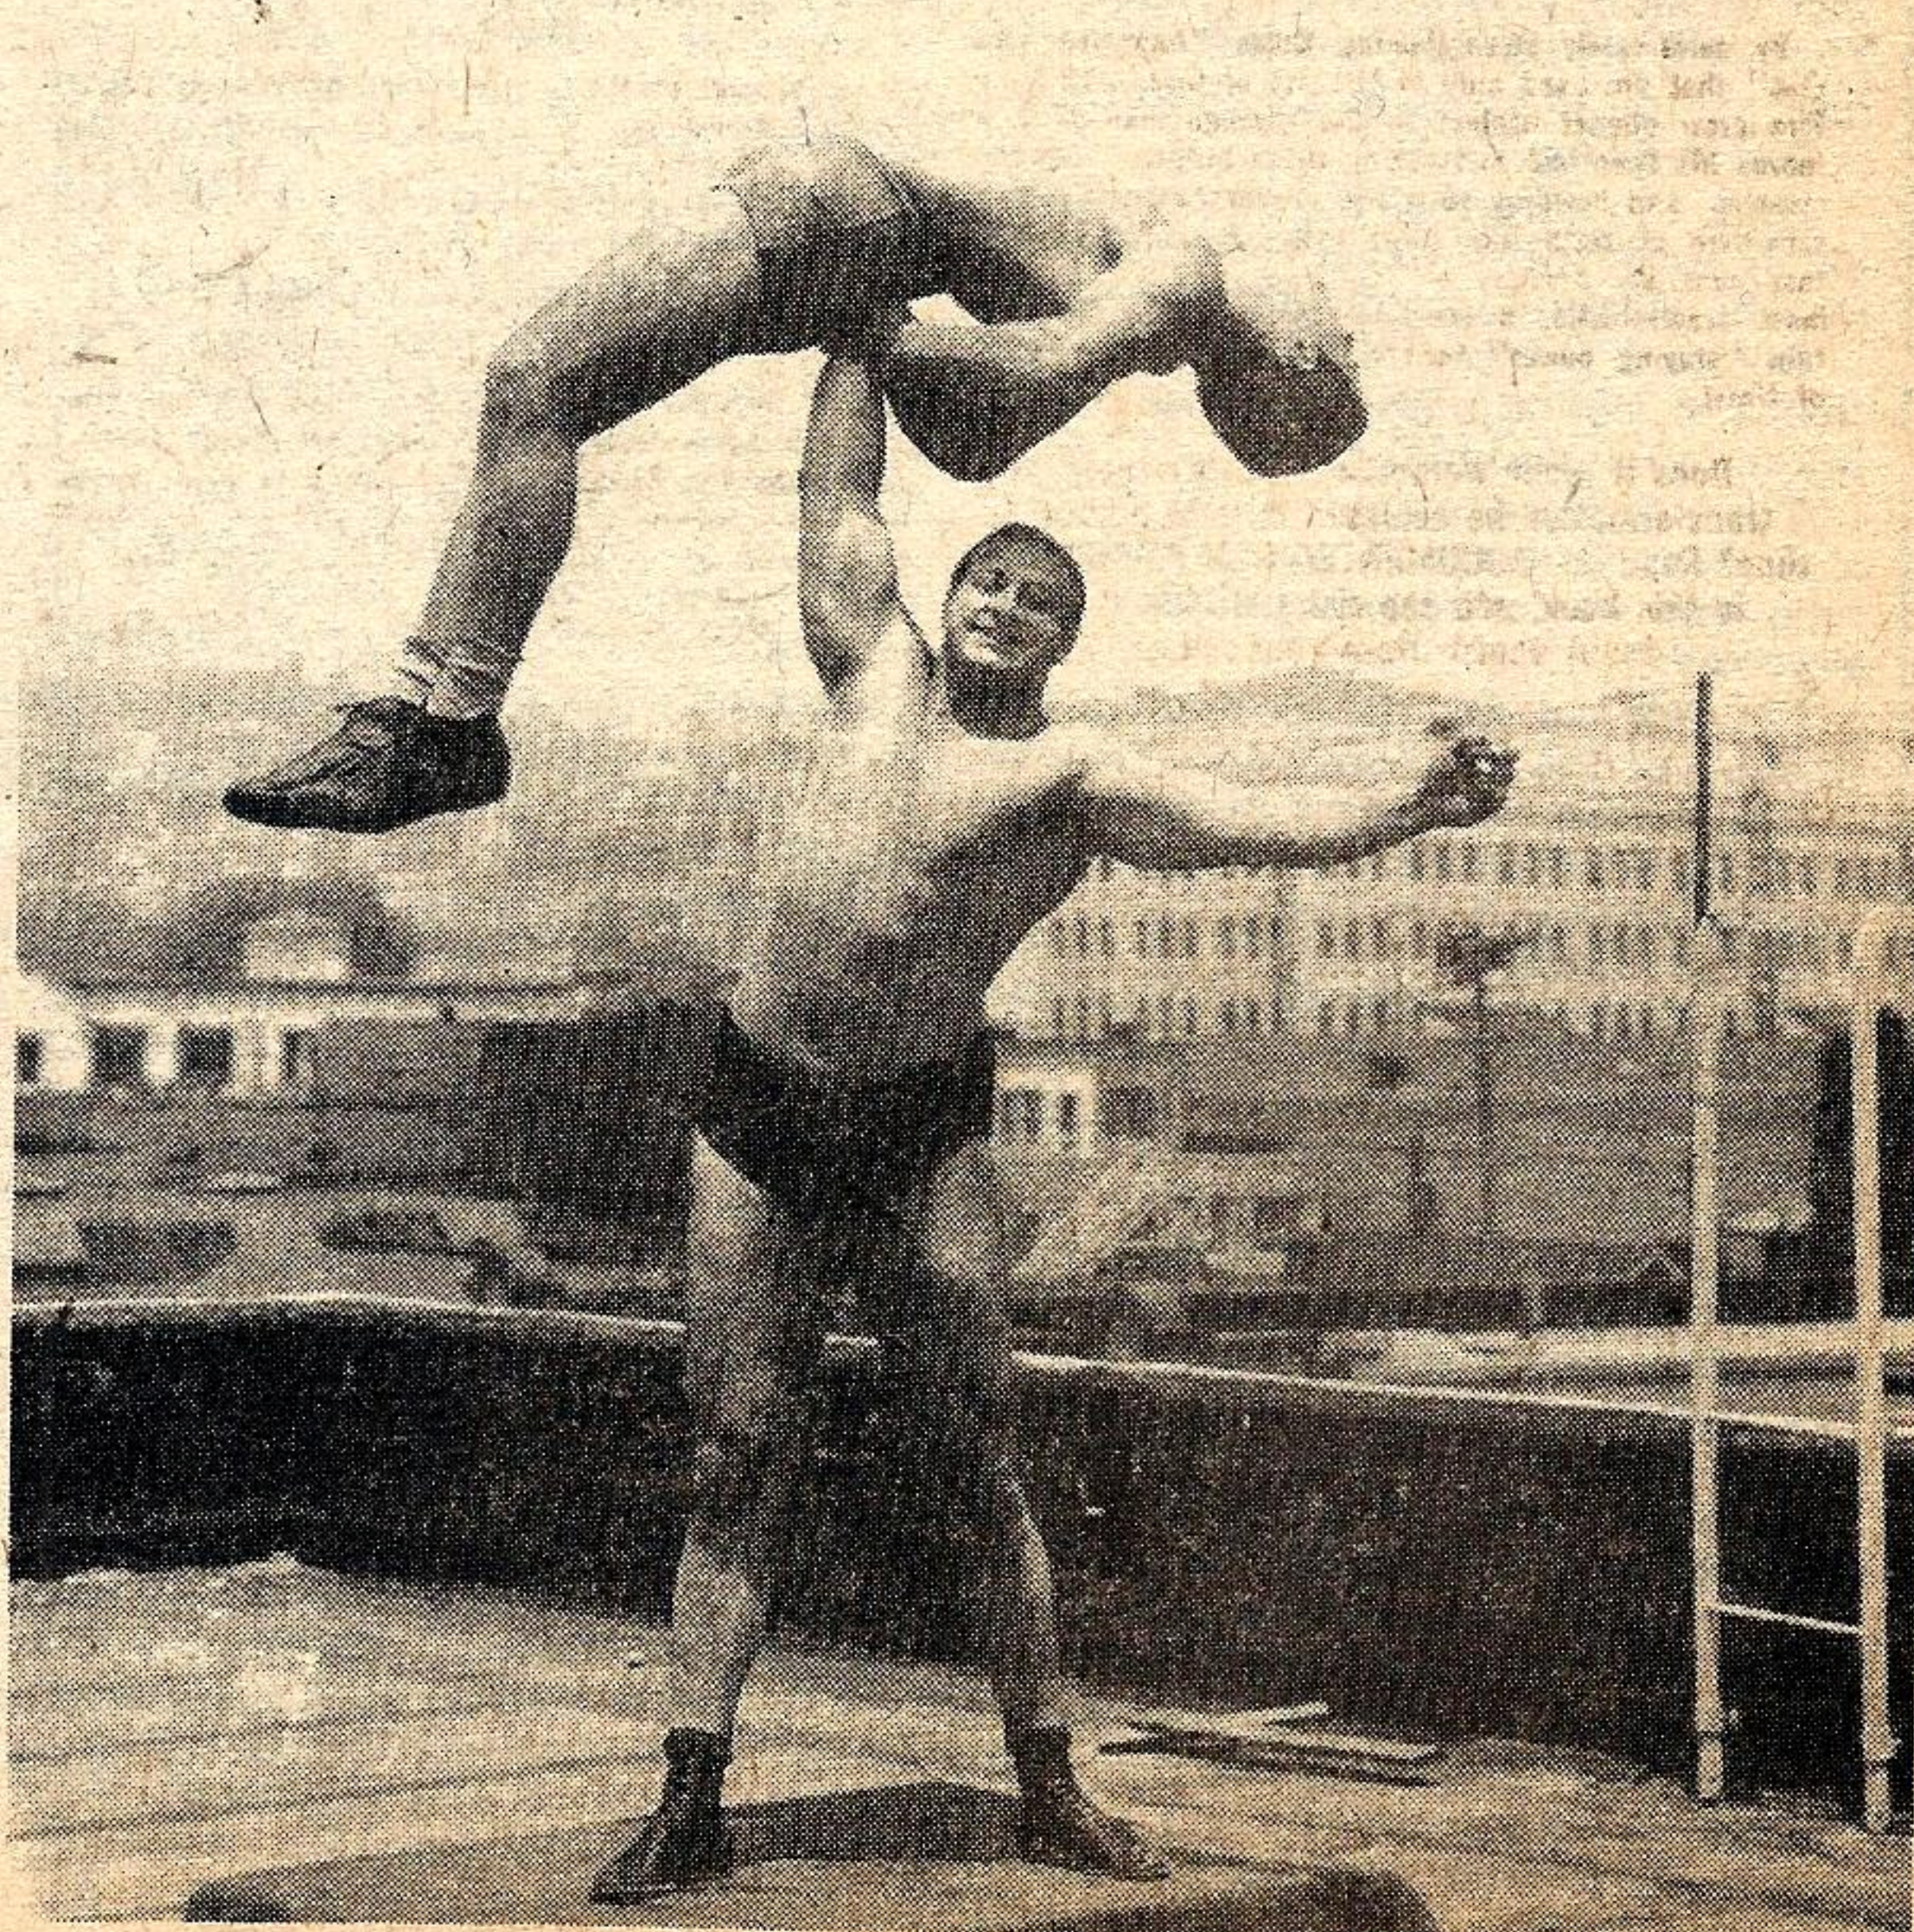

by Jess Hernandez

Former champion wrestler Joe Bonomo defied the imagination. Joe's peerless strongman feats in the early 1920s earned him the prestigious title of 'World's Strongest Human'.

During the championship reigns of Jack Dempsey and Ed (Strangler) Lewis, Bonomo calmly stepped inside the ring of combat and dared Dempsey and Lewis to a test of strength. In fact, strongman Bonomo boxed an exhibition with the Manassa Mauler and tangled with the rambunctious Lewis inside the mat arena.

In the '20s, Joe met legendary mat kings Jimmy Londos, Joe Stecher and Earl Caddock. Bonomo's marvelous physique and herculean feats of strength won him a Hollywood screen test, which Joe passed with flying colors. Born in New York City, Joe was to become an early-day pioneer in daredevil stunts in Hollywood. Joe ushered in the era of champion wrestlers who became top tinsel-town actors, stuntmen and leading film idols.

Although Joe didn't exactly make the theatre audience forget silent film heroes like Rudolph Valentino and Doug Fairbanks, he did make a loud impact in pioneering the dangerous stunt work. It was Joe who did the miraculous stunts for Lon Chaney in the classic Hunchback of Notre Dame in 1923.

Bonomo's handsome good looks also won him leading screen roles in films and serials. Joe was the early-day prototype who appeared in hair-raising serials and rescued the leading lady. In the hundreds of silent-day serials Joe portrayed a variety of characterizations.

Action was the name of the game in early-day Hollywood and Joe Bonomo specialized in it. A durable athlete in his youth, Bonomo learned the secret of conditioning his body from his long hours of training in mat arenas. "My wrestling idols were Strangler Lewis, Joe Stecher, Jim Londos, Sandow, Hackenschmidt and Frank Gotch," said Joe.

Here's Joe Bonomo as he looked when he was at his wrestling peak and took on the likes of Ed (Strangler) Lewis.

"I worked long hours and trained for years to perfect my body. When I first started in my career in New York I worked out in the gym with Londos, Stecher and Lewis. It was in New York that I met promoter Toots Mondt, the ex-wrestler. In 1925, I visited Jack Dempsey's training camp and sparred with the champ. I challenged Jack to a wrestling match but the champ refused," Joe replied.

Bonomo's Hollywood career was sprinkled with daredevil, death-defying stunts. In the thrill-a-minute serials of the period, Joe would dangle perilously off the wing of a plane to rescue his leading lady. One minute Joe would plunge his racing car off a cliff and moments later he would battle a man-eating tiger in a spine-tingling series. Joe's sturdy, well-proportioned physique suffered many painful injuries in a career that spanned 40 years. After Bonomo left Hollywood he became a businessman.

Bonomo turned author and penned his autobiography which turned into a best-selling book. In his book, Joe reveals the secret of how he became the 'World's Strongest Human' and the thrilling events that shaped his remarkable and prolific show biz tenure.

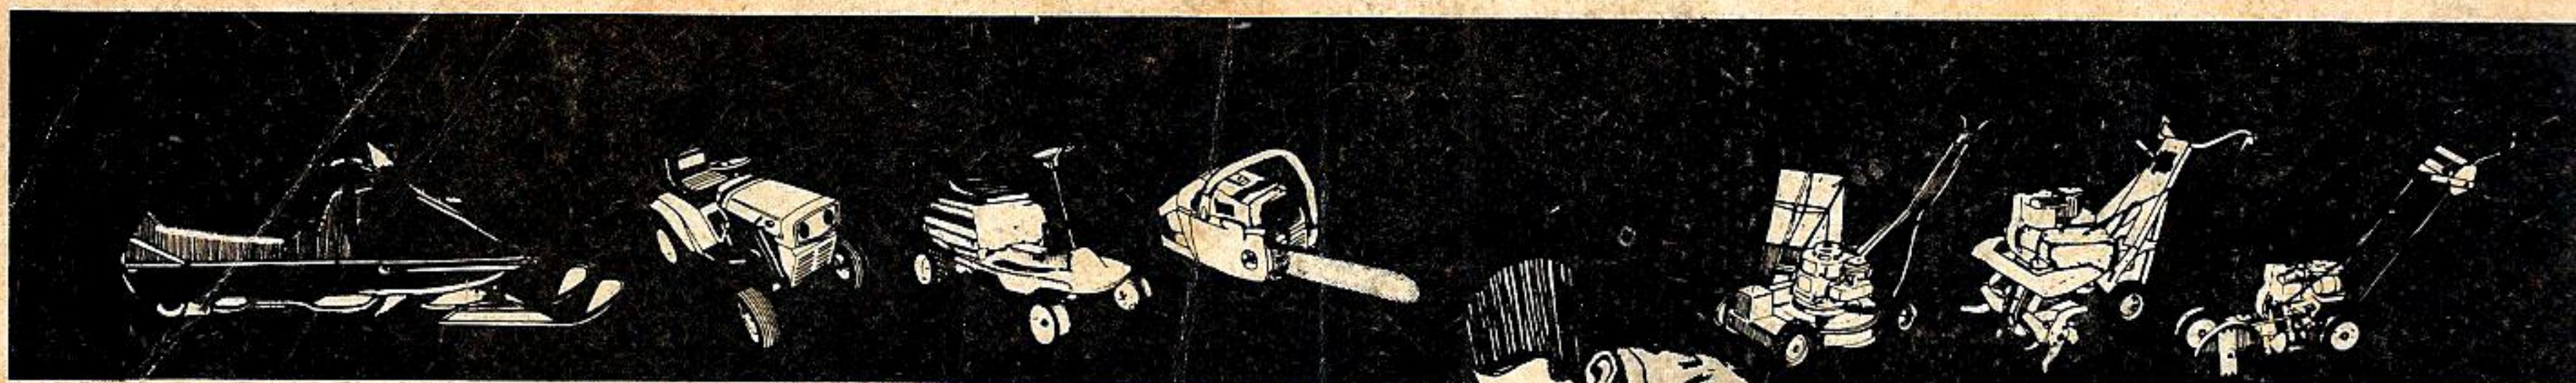

Today, in the twilight of his career, Bonomo savors his past movie conquests and nostalgic memories of ex-champions Lewis, Londos and Stecher. Recently, the Cauliflower Alley Club of Hollywood inducted Joe into the glittering Wrestling Hall of Fame giving him his honorable place among all-time mat titans Ed Don George, Lou Thesz, Jimmy Londos and Mildred Burke.

Bonomo's crowning achievement is that he was the initial gladiator to make it big in Hollywood, first as a stuntman and later a matinee idol. Joe Bonomo's story certainly stirs the imaginative world of Hollywood.

Get in on the PROFITS in SMALL ENGINE service and repair Start your own money

BEAT INFLATION!

Cash in on the huge demand for small engine repair.

Work part time, full time right at home - we help you every step of the way.

In just a short time, you can be ready to join one of the fastest growing industries in America...an industry where qualified men are making from $10.00 to $15.00 per hour...and that's just for labor. Parts, engines and accessories add even more to the profits.

Because the small engine industry has grown so quickly, an acute shortage of qualified Small Engine Professionals exists throughout the country. In fact, it's not unusual for a good small engine man to be three to four weeks behind in the summer and at least a week behind in the winter. When you see how many small engines are in use today, it's easy to understand why qualified men command such high prices—as much as $17.50 for a simple tune-up that takes less than an hour!

46-million small engines are in service today!

That's right—there are over forty-six million 2-cycle and 4-cycle small engines in service across the U.S.A. That's the official count from the Engine Service Assn., and new engines are being built at a rate of one-million per month! With fully accredited and approved Belsaw training, you can soon have the skill and knowledge to make top money servicing these engines. Homeowners and businessmen will seek you out and pay you well to service and repair their lawnmowers, tillers, edgers, power rakes, garden tractors, chain saws, mini-bikes, go-carts, snowmobiles, generators, snowblowers, paint sprayers...the list is almost endless.

No experience necessary.

You don't have to be a 'born mechanic' or need prior experience. If you can read, you can master this profitable trade right at home, in your sparetime, without missing a single paycheck. Lessons are fully illustrated—so clear you can't go wrong.

You receive trade secrets and business plans

We guide you every step of the way, including tested and proven instructions on how to get business, what to charge, how to get free advertising, where to get supplies wholesale...all the "tricks of the trade"...all the inside facts you need to assure success right from the start.

Increased Income

"I've had about 8 years experience repairing small engines... but repairs were only minor... until I started the Belsaw Course."

Walter H. Strick
Campbell, California
